ANNEXURE

In the matter of "correction of errors" under clause 27 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958,

And

In the matter of an industrial dispute between The Statesman Private Limited and their workmen represented by the Statesman Employees' Union.

(1) The Company applies under rule 27 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958, for correction of clerical mistakes arising from an accidental slip or omission in the award published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 6th August 1959. It is stated that unless clerical mistakes or errors are corrected, confusions are likely to ensue. The Company, therefore, prays that the Tribunal should correct the same clerical mistakes and errors. Both parties were heard. The learned Advocate for the Union agreed that these mistakes should be removed. Perused the award and the mistakes. The clerical mistakes arising from accidental slips or omissions as mentioned below are corrected:—

The last sentence of paragraph 9 in page 2836 of the "Gazette" shall be as follows:—

"The Company pleaded that the Statesman Employees Union was not competent in law to represent the Clerical Staff in this proceeding."

The word "not" has been erroneously left out in the award.

Regarding paragraph 17, pages 2839 and 2840 of the "Gazette":

The last sentence of this paragraph reads as follows:—

"Judging the wage structure from the wages offered to the workmen of similar categories in the newspaper industry in Calcutta as also the minimum wages given to the employees of the major industries in the State, the claim for an upward revision of the wage structure appears to be justified."

In place of "unjustified" the word appears as "justified" by way of a clerical mistake.

Regarding paragraph 22, at page 2841 of the "Gazette": In place of the sentence appearing as "The Assistant Manager, Shri A. K. Guha, and Supervisor, Shri Provash Chandra Dutta, were present when orders were given by Shri Chatterjee and Mr. Courtenay." The sentence shall read as follows:—

"The Assistant Manager, Shri A. K. Sinha, and Supervisor, Shri Provash Chandra Dutta were present when orders were given by Shri Chatterjee and Mr. Courtenay."

In paragraph 30 at page 2844 of the "Gazette", it has been stated as follows:—

"In the circumstances of the case, the order of dismissal on Shri Suraj Pratap Singh is altered by this Tribunal to an order of termination of service under section 12 of the Standing Orders, Ext. O(1)".

The words "under section 12 of the Standing Orders" Ext. O(1) should read as "under section 8 of the Standing Orders, Ext. O".

(2) The above clerical mistakes shall be corrected as mentioned. This order shall be read as a part of my award, dated 15th July 1959, which has been published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 6th August 1959.

(3) This order is passed under rule 27 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958.

Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

Murarka Paint and Varnish Works (Private) Ltd., Sodepur, 24-Parganas, and its workmen represented by Murarka Paints Workers' Union, House of Lala, Station Road, Sodepur, 24-Parganas, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Murarka Paint and Varnish Works (Private) Ltd., Sodepur, 24-Parganas, and its workmen represented by Murarka Paints Workers' Union, House of Lala, Station Road, Sodepore, 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-C-330/58.)

BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT

Present:

Shri N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge, First Labour Court.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 5349-I.R./IR/111-98/57, dated 16th December 1958, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Murarka Paint and Varnish Works (Private) Ltd., Sodepur, 24-Parganas, and its workmen represented by Murarka Paints Workers' Union, House of Lala, Station Road, Sodepore, 24-Parganas, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication:

Schedule

Whether the termination of employment of the workman Shri Ramajna Pandey, is justified?
To what relief by way of reinstatement and/or compensation is he entitled?

AWARD

This is a reference arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified termination of employment of Shri Ramajna Pandey previously in the employment of Messrs. Murarka Paint and Varnish Works (Private) Ltd., Sodepore, 24-Parganas, hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

The Union's case in its written statement in short is as follows: The Company has 2 lorries and 2 drivers, and lorry No. WBQ1363 was out of order for a period of about 1½ years prior to April 1957. The said workman Shri Ramajna Pandey disobeyed the orders of the authority for bringing the said lorry to order, etc., on 17th April 1957. Accordingly, the workman was given a charge-sheet of disobedience and disrespect to the Director, which was, however, denied by the workman. Then the workman was suspended, but no enquiry was held. Thus principles of natural justice were violated, and the workman was illegally and unjustifiably discharged.

The Company, on the other hand, seeks to justify the discharge of the workman concerned on a charge-sheet based on fact, but the notice of the date of enquiry could not be served on the workman as he was out of Calcutta. In the circumstances, the termination of employment of the workman is justified, and he is entitled to no relief.

Decision

This case was fixed for hearing on 20th February 1960 on which date both parties put in a petition of compromise stating that the dispute has been settled amicably out of Court on Company's agreeing to pay Rs. 1,272.33 nP. in full and final settlement and satisfaction of all claims of the workman including reinstatement, etc. and the workman agreed to accept the same. Along with the petition of compromise a stamped receipt has been put in evidencing payment of the aforesaid sum to be claimant as agreed to between the parties. The terms of compromise appear to be fair, reasonable and lawful and may be given effect to. The dispute is thus disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which do form a part of the award.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1360-I.R./IR/4L-24/59, dated 3rd April 1959, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Srinivas Fatehpuria (Private) Ltd., 82/2 Mukhtaram Babu Street, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Calcutta Boatmen Union, 14 Mati Seal Street, Calcutta-13, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication:

Schedule

1. Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Matin Manjhi, (2) Khalie Manjhi, (3) Taslim Manjhi and (4) Ali Hasan.

AWARD

This is a dispute arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of the 4 workmen mentioned in the order of reference previously employed in Messrs. Srinivas Fatehpuria (Private) Ltd., 82/2 Mukhtar Babu Street, Calcutta-7, hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

The Union's case in its written statement in a nutshell is as follows:—

The Company manages a boat business which had a very small beginning, but its condition is now very affluent, owning as it does 31 or 32 barges, 8 wooden boats and 2 launches of various sizes. The founder of this business is Srinivas Fatehpuria who runs this water transport business of carriage of goods and passengers by water. It appears that there are 40 Manjhis and 170 Dandies in the employment of this business. In order to better their service conditions, these employees joined the Calcutta Boatmen Union and started agitation in that direction. The employer Company did not obviously take in good graces the trade union activities of these workmen, and so all on a sudden on 1st October 1958 letters were served on the 4 workmen concerned dismissing them from service for some alleged misconduct. Each of these workmen had a good record of service, and the termination of their employment is wholly illegal and unjustified since no charge-sheet was issued to them, nor was any enquiry held and the Company simply victimised them for their trade union activities. It may be added that the Company falsely and maliciously brought 4 criminal cases against these workmen in the Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, but ultimately withdrew those cases, and thus harassed the workmen. In the circumstances, the Union seeks reinstatement of these workmen together with other ancillary reliefs.

The Company in its written statement in short controverts the allegations made in the written statement of the Union and contends that this is not an industrial dispute and as such the reference is incompetent. The Company further avers that these workmen were appointed as contractors and the Company exercised no control over them and never directed the manner or method of execution of their works, nor had the alleged workmen any fixed hours of duty. The contractors were at liberty to navigate and/or ply and/or ferry their boats with such men as they liked. The Company lost confidence in the contractors and had no alternative but to terminate the contracts with them. Before terminating the contract, the contractors were called upon to explain the non-fulfilment of the obligations imposed on them, but they refused to offer any explanation, nor did they co-operate with the Company in the enquiry.

As regards criminal cases ultimately withdrawn, the Company states that in view of the violent attitude and trespass committed by the alleged contractors, those criminal cases had to be instituted, but were subsequently not pursued when peaceful possession of the barges was obtained by the Company. Thus the Company justifies the termination of contracts with the alleged workmen and contends that the reference is not maintainable since it concerns the contractors and not workmen under Industrial Disputes Act.

As it would appear from the pleadings stated above, besides the issue referred to this Court 2 other issues need be framed as follows:—

- (1) Are the alleged workmen contractors?
If so, is the reference maintainable?
- (2) Is it an industrial dispute?

Decision

Point No. 1. First I take up for decision the point whether the 4 persons concerned are contractors or workmen as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act. There is no written contract between the parties, nor are any letters of appointment forthcoming. If there were written contracts exchanged between the parties, there would have no difficulty in going by those contracts and similarly if there were any letters of appointment, the same would also have been of great help in deciding the point whether the alleged workmen are 'workmen' or contractors. In the absence of any written contracts and appointment letters, the Court is to decide this issue on the basis of the evidence as adduced by the parties. This is a very hotly contested case and a vehement attempt has been made on behalf of the Company to show that it exercised no sort of control over the manner and method of execution of works done by these boatmen, nor could it take any disciplinary action against them, nor could it grant them any leave, etc. In pursuing this point, the Company referred to the case reported in 1957 L.L.J. Vol. (1), page 477 (Dharangadhra Chemical Works Ltd. and State of Saurashtra and others) wherein, inter alia, it was held that the correct method of approach would be to consider whether having regard to the nature of the work, there was due control and supervision by the employer and secondly that there should exist the relationship between the parties as between employer and employee or master and servant. The test which is uniformly applied in order to determine the relationship is the existence of a right of control in respect of the manner in which the work is to be done, but this case seems to support the Union's contention as I would discuss below.

The Union examined the 4 boatmen concerned, and all of them have described themselves as 'employees' of the Company on fixed monthly wages of Rs. 50 each. The Company has produced the Wage Register (Ext. A) which contains the thumb-impressions of the boatmen and the Company shows that Matin was paid Rs. 325, Ali Hasan and Taslim Rs. 451 each and Khalil Rs. 422 per month. The boatmen, however, are all illiterate, and they say that they gave their thumb-impressions on blank sheets which were subsequently filled up by the Company according to its pleasure. According to the evidence of the boatmen, their wages were Rs. 50 per month, whereas the Company says that their contractual sums varied inclusive of the wages of the Dandies employed by Manjhis. The Dandies row the boats and for that purpose they are employed by the Manjhis, but as the Dandies are no parties in this reference, the Court is not concerned with them—may be the Dandies are employed by the Manjhis. Having regard to the illiteracy of the Manjhis and the state of affairs in the Company as reflected in evidence, I am unable to rely on Ext. A, which, as rightly contended by the learned representative for the Union, appears to be loose sheets stitched together subsequently and the top portion was pruned partially cutting out the heading “Name of the employees” under which the names of boatmen are entered. This shows that the Company tried its level best to do away with the evidence which would constitute these boatmen “workmen” under the Industrial Disputes Act, but this Ext. A could not be done away with altogether, and thus the vestige of truth still remains there. If these boatmen were really contractors, the Court would expect that there would have been some written contracts and the heading should have been “Names of Contractors” instead of “Names of employees”. Thus the learned representative for the Union argued that this Ext. A, independent of anything else, is sufficient to establish that these boatmen are workmen of the Company and not contractors under it. Having regard to the entire evidence on record, I find that there is considerable force in the argument of the learned representative for the Union. So far as the question of Company’s exercising any control over the method and manner of work by the boatmen is concerned, I would observe that supervision was duly exercised by the Ghat Majhi Wasiuddin (C.W. 2) who admittedly goes up to places of destination of boats—thus exercising control over the movement of the boats, and the boatmen in normal course of their business were obliged to take out boats on trips to places as required by the customers as per directions issued to them by Ghat Manjhi Wasiuddin (C.W. 2) and to come back as and when their works were finished. Mani Babu (C.W. 1) also supervises boat business. The relation between the Company and the boatmen was the same as between a taxi driver and his employer. The owner of the taxi employs the driver and the driver goes out on trips as required by the hirers. In the present instance, the case is still stronger, because the engagements of boats are made at the Freight Market on Zekaria Street, Calcutta, where such engagements of boats are booked, and the evidence is that Wasiuddin (C.W. 2) issued directives to the boatmen which the latter were obliged to carry out. It cannot be imagined that the boatmen could go out wherever they liked. Their movements were restricted by the directives issued by the Company’s most trusted and loyal Ghat Manjhi (Ghat Munshi) as called by the Company. While this witness (Wasiuddin) was in the box, it appeared to me that as he owned two steel barges and was getting Rs. 300 per month from the Company as an old employee of the Company, he was out to go to any length in order to help the Company and to throw these workmen over board. In the evidence (Ext. 4) of Shri Gopinath Pal (C.W. 3) as given in the Hon’ble High Court with which he was confronted in the box, he described Md. Taslim as an employee who was discharged, and that Wasiuddin would allot duties to Manjhis after securing orders from different customers. The Company has withheld all necessary books wherein orders for boats were recorded, which if produced would have disclosed the real state of things. Thus I am convinced that all these boatmen are workmen of the Company, having due regard to the evidence on record and the absence of any written terms of contract.

Next, I take up the issue whether this is an industrial dispute or not. The learned representative on behalf of the Company has seriously argued that these workmen are not members of any Union, nor do they pay subscriptions, and that their failure to pay subscriptions for over 6 months entailed their dismemberment of the Union, and as such this Union is not competent to represent them. In support of this argument, the learned representative for the Company referred to paragraph 4 of the rules of the Union which, inter alia, provides that no member shall remain a member if he is in arrears with his subscription for six months and does not clear his dues by the end of the sixth month. As against this argument for the Company, the learned representative for the Union argues that the dispute is espoused by the Calcutta Boatmen Union which is a Union of the industry itself. Thus reliance is placed upon the ruling reported in 1959 L.L.J. Vol. 1, pages 600-604 [Express Newspapers (Private) Ltd.], which lays down, inter alia, that the real test appears to be as to whether the majority or a large portion of the workmen employed in the particular industry are concerned in the dispute or not. Where the Union is of the workmen employed in that particular industry, it may be presumed that when the Union takes up the cause of an individual workman it signifies a concerted action on the part of the workmen who are members of that Union. The Union has produced the Union’s Membership Register (Ext. 3) showing more than 1,000 members in its rolls (i.e., 1,185 members), and so these members of the Union as a whole took up the dispute collectively. This is sufficient to constitute the dispute an industrial dispute. I do not think the cessation of the 4 workmen as members of the Union by reason of their non-payment of subscription to the Union since October 1958 affects the character of the dispute as an industrial dispute. Even if they were no members at all of the Calcutta Boatmen Union, but if their causes were taken up collectively by this Union that would be sufficient to constitute the dispute as an industrial dispute. The Union made common cause with the aggrieved employees concerned, and this dispute unless settled would mean widespread industrial unrest. Thus as soon as the dispute of these employees concerned was taken up by the Union of the particular industry to which they belonged, the dispute developed into an industrial dispute. It may be pointed out that the Company put in an affidavit showing that 18 employees of the Company resigned their membership of the Union, but that does not affect the finding as still over 1,000 members of the Union backed up the dispute. I, therefore, find that this is an industrial dispute.

Thus it is found that the 4 persons concerned in the reference are workmen as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, and not contractors as contended for the Company, and that this is an industrial dispute.

Next, I take up the point referred to this Court by Government. These workmen, it appears, were suddenly thrown out of employment by notices, dated 1st October 1958 (Ext. 1 series). There was no enquiry, nothing of the kind, though the workmen repudiated the charges levelled against them, and communicated the same to the Labour Commissioner on 2nd October 1958 (Ext. 2). The Company has proved letters, dated 18th August 1958 (Ext. B to B-3), to show that explanations were asked from them (vide, Ext. E series) and that reminders (Exts. B-4 to B-7) were issued to them on 25th August 1958, that warnings were issued to them on 1st September 1958 as per Exts. B-8 to B-11 and reports (Exts. C and D) by Ghat Munshi and Gopinath respectively for alleged failure and negligence of the boatmen to take out trips. The boatmen denied these documents, nor is there reliable proof of service of the above letters on the workmen. All these exhibits seem to have been got up for the purpose of the case just to show that proper notices were given to the boatmen, explanations were called for, due enquiries were held and that dismissals are justified. I am unable to believe these exhibits having regard to the illiteracy of the poor boatmen. Thus the principles of natural justice were glaringly violated in this case, and I find myself unable to uphold the order of dismissal. The normal relief is reinstatement. The learned representative for the Company has seriously argued that reinstatement should be refused in this case since the workmen assaulted some other boatmen. It also appears that the Company instituted criminal cases against the workmen concerned which were ultimately withdrawn, and it is represented that the learned Magistrate observed that the cases were groundless. I am convinced that the Company was out to persecute these four employees who wanted their wages to be enhanced, just in order to crush the Union. So, this is a clear case of victimisation. In the circumstances, it is found that the dismissal of the workmen concerned is found wholly illegal and unjustified, and they must be reinstated. Simply because there was a criminal case against the boatmen over assault, that cannot preclude them from being reinstated in this case. So far as wages for the period of their forced unemployment are concerned, in all fairness, they should get full wages for the period of their unemployment since their unjustified and illegal dismissal on 1st October 1958 at Rs. 50 per month to each workman.

To sum up, it is held as follows:—

- (1) These 4 boatmen are 'workmen' within the meaning of the term as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act.
- (2) This is an industrial dispute, and the Court is entitled to adjudicate upon it, and the reference is competent.
- (3) The dismissal of these workmen is found unjustified and they must be reinstated with full wages at Rs. 50 each per month since their dismissal on 1st October 1958. The Company is directed to reinstate these workmen within a month of the publication of the award, and to pay them their wages as directed herein. The workmen concerned are directed to report themselves for duty at Company's Office at 82/2 Muktaram Babu Street, Calcutta-

7, within the same period mentioned above. The continuity of their service will be treated as unbroken.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. National Sheet and Metal Works Private Ltd., 36A Sahitya Parishad Street, Calcutta-6, and their workmen represented by National Sheet & Metal Mazdoor Union, 4 Jagadish Nath Roy Lane, Calcutta-6. (Case No. VIII-89/59.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri S. N. Banerji, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri K. K. Moitra, Advocate.

By Government order No. 1668-I.R./IR/10L-31/57, dated the 24th April 1959, the above industrial dispute was referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication and subsequently by Government order No. 3573-I.R./1R/10L-31/57, dated the 29th July 1959, the dispute was withdrawn from the said Tribunal and transferred to this Tribunal under section 33B of the Industrial Disputes Act for the purpose of speedy disposal. The case was heard in this Tribunal on 23rd February 1960 and 24th February 1960. Two witnesses were examined on behalf of the Union and one on behalf of the Company.

The dispute relates to three issues, viz.—

- (1) Whether the workers are entitled to bonus for 1958? If so, the amount.
- (2) Whether minimum wages of all temporary workers should be Rs. 61 per month?
- (3) Permanency of workers.

The National Sheet & Metal Works (Private) Ltd., which is the employer in this case and which will hereafter be referred to as the Company, is an engineering concern engaged in the manufacture of, mainly, tin containers and containers made from galvanized sheets and black sheets. It employs about 180 permanent workers and 12 or 13 temporary workers. There had previously been two adjudications under the Industrial Disputes Act between the Company and its workmen represented by the same Union. By the first adjudication which ended in an award by Shri P. R. Mukherji, dated 5th May 1958 (printed at page 485 of Vol. I—January to June 1948—of the "Awards made by Tribunals" published by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department), the minimum basic wage of the workmen of the Company was fixed at Rs. 30 per month and the dearness allowance also at Rs. 30 per month. By the second adjudication which ended in an award by Shri G. P. Mukherji, dated 12th June 1956 (published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of July 5, 1956), the above minimum basic wage of the unskilled workers was not disturbed but the dearness allowance was enhanced on a graduated scale, the minimum being fixed at Rs. 31. Before Shri P. R. Mukherji there was also an issue regarding annual bonus which had been claimed by the workmen and in that connection it was found by him that the Company had been paying such bonus at least since 1944 at the rate of 15 days' wages. He directed that on condition that the Company maintained its prevailing rate of profit it should continue to pay bonus at the same rate.

The Union's case is that in spite of this award the Company had as a matter of fact paid bonus to all its workmen at the rate of one month's basic wages during the Durga Puja festival every year for ten years beginning from 1948 up to 1957 and that it suddenly stopped such payment in 1958. The Union claims that this bonus was paid as a Puja or customary bonus and also as an implied condition of service and that accordingly the Company is liable to pay this bonus at the same rate of one month's basic wages for 1958 also. In its written statement the Union claimed in addition to Puja bonus profit-sharing bonus according to the Full Bench formula of the Labour Appellate Tribunal for the year 1958 at the rate of one month's basic wages, but at the time of hearing the Union abandoned the said claim and confined its claim to Puja bonus. The first issue will therefore be confined to this claim alone. With regard to the second issue the Union's case is that the Company engages certain temporary workers for short periods on consolidated wages of Rs. 1-8 per day equivalent to Rs. 39 per month in violation of the award of Shri G. P. Mukherji already referred to, and the claim on this issue is that the minimum wage of the temporary workers should be fixed at Rs. 61 per month including dearness allowance according to that award. It is also claimed that the temporary workers at present in service should be paid retrospectively at that rate from the dates of their appointment. On the third issue the Union's case is that in order to avoid making the temporary workers permanent the Company has developed the practice of discharging them before they complete six months' period of service and of reappointing them or appointing a fresh batch of workers for short periods. This is condemned as unfair labour practice and the Union's claim is that all such temporary workers a list of whom has been annexed to the written statement should be declared permanent and that other workmen who are still probationers should also be made permanent.

The Company has denied that it ever paid any Puja or customary bonus to its workmen or paid it as a condition of service and also denied that the bonus was paid at the rate of one month's basic wages. The Company does not, however, deny that bonus was paid in the past, but its case is that such bonus was paid out of the profits and that no bonus was paid in 1958 because there was no net surplus from which it could be paid. With regard to the second issue the Company has denied any violation of the award of Shri G. P. Mukherji but admitted the employment of temporary workers for short periods on a daily rate of Rs. 1-8 for temporary jobs according to the exigencies of the work. The minimum wages and dearness allowance fixed by Shri G. P. Mukherji's award did not, according to the Company, apply to such workers. With regard to the third issue the Company's case is that under the Standing Orders adopted by the Company workmen are entitled to be made permanent subject to a probationary period of six months and that they are actually being made permanent by the Company as provided in the Standing Orders. The Company has denied the alleged practice of discharging temporary workers before they complete six months' service and stated that such workers often leave work without notice after a few months' service and that they sometimes come back and are reappointed if there are vacancies.

Issue No. 1.

The fact that the Company had always paid bonus in the past to its workmen on the eve of the Puja season has not been disputed. The earliest year from which the payment of bonus can be traced is the year 1944, as mentioned in the award of Shri P. R. Mukherji. It is also clear from that award that up to the year 1947 this bonus was paid at the rate of 15 days' wages. Thereafter the rate was increased. The Union's case in the written statement is that since 1948 the bonus was paid at the rate of one month's basic wages until the year 1957. The first witness for the Union who has been in the service of the Company for 20 years deposed to that effect but the second witness stated that during 1948 and 1949 one month's basic wages was calculated on the basis of the annual earnings of every individual workman divided by 12 but that thereafter it was paid at the rate of one month's basic wages. One of the Directors of the Company who looks after the business stated that so far as he remembered for 3 or 4 years after Shri P. R. Mukherji's award bonus was paid at the rate of 15 days' wages and for 3 or 4 years thereafter it was paid at the rate of 1/12th of the earnings of each workman during the year. It would have been easy for the Company to have produced papers showing the amounts actually paid as bonus because all papers must be in the possession of the Company, but the fact that no such paper has been produced is significant and the denial is not positive. The Company's Director next said that this bonus was always paid out of profits. But nothing has been produced to show that really this bonus had some relation to profit. Profits varied from year to year as the Director admitted, but the rate of bonus at least in the later years remained constant. Reference was made to the direction in the award of Shri P. R. Mukherji that the Company should pay bonus at the rate of 15 days' wages only when the usual profit was maintained but this rate was not adhered to and it cannot be contended that the Company paid bonus in later years according to the award. That the bonus paid had no relation to profit is clear from that award itself. It is noted in the award that during the year 1944-45 the Company incurred a loss of over Rs. 7,000 but nevertheless the bonus was paid. Dwindling profits also did not affect the payment of the Puja bonus.

On the basis of these facts it has been contended on behalf of the Union that a case of customary Puja bonus has been made out on the principles laid down by the Supreme Court in the case of Grahams Trading Company (India) Ltd. and their workmen, reported in 1959. III.L.J., page 393. In this case it was observed that Puja bonus which is usually paid in Bengal is of two kinds, viz., (1) where it is paid as an implied term of employment, and (2) where it is paid as a customary and traditional payment. The tests laid down for customary and traditional bonus in the above case are (1) that the payment has been over an unbroken series of years, (2) that it has been for a sufficiently long period, (3) that the payment was made even in years of loss in order to exclude the possibility that the payment depended upon profit earned and (4) that the payment was made at a uniform rate throughout to justify an inference that payment at such rate had become customary and traditional in the particular concern.

The facts found in the present case make it clear that the bonus was paid in the past on the occasion of the Puja festival, that the payment has been for an unbroken series of years and for a sufficiently long period at least from 1944 to 1957 and that the payment was made also in a year of loss. The payment did not therefore depend on the earning of profit. But the payment was not actually made at a uniform rate throughout this period because at the beginning it was made at the rate of 15 days' basic wages, then at the rate of a workmen's total earnings in a year divided by 12 and finally at one month's basic wages. The fourth test laid down above has not thus been satisfied and no inference is possible that the rate of one month's basic wages which is claimed by the Union had become customary and traditional in this particular concern. I cannot therefore hold that the workmen have in this case established their right to one month's basic wages as customary or traditional bonus to be paid during the Puja.

But the Union has also claimed this bonus as an implied term of employment which is the first kind of Puja bonus mentioned above. In the case of Ispahani Ltd. vs. Ispahani Employees' Union reported in 1959-II-L.L.J., page 4, the Supreme Court considered the question of Puja bonus as an implied term of employment and after laying down the first three tests mentioned above as essential held that even if the quantum of bonus was not uniform throughout the period, the implied agreement to pay something could be inferred, if the first three tests were satisfied, and that it would be for the Tribunal to decide what would be the reasonable amount to be paid as Puja Bonus. The first three tests have been satisfied in this case and so I hold that the payment of Puja Bonus is an implied term of employment in this concern on the principles laid down in the above case.

On behalf of the Company it has been contended that the Union did not in the past claim this bonus either as a customary bonus or as an implied term of employment but claimed it on the other hand as profit sharing bonus and as evidence thereof four letters addressed by the Secretary of the Union to the Managing Director of the Company in 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1958 have been produced (Ext. A series). In these letters the Union described the bonus claimed as "annual profit sharing bonus generally termed as Puja bonus". Puja bonus was thus specifically mentioned and the fact that it was further described as profit sharing bonus will not affect the nature of the bonus if the ingredients necessary to prove the true nature of it, according to the tests laid down in the above decision of the Supreme Court, are established. Before the above decision of the Supreme Court the notion of the true nature of Puja bonus was hazy and it is only after the said decisions that the workmen have come to a correct understanding of the nature and implications of the Puja bonus. I may mention in this connection that when the matter was before the Conciliation Officer he treated the demand as one for customary Puja bonus and not profit-sharing bonus as would appear from the notices, Ext. 3 series. I have already shown that it was not profit sharing bonus because it was paid even in a year of loss and even when profits dwindled. The wrong description of the bonus by the workmen will not therefore affect their right to claim it as a term of employment.

I hold accordingly that the workmen have established their right to get a bonus during the Pujas as a term of employment. The quantum of bonus has, however, to be settled as the rate of payment was not uniform in the past. The balance sheet for 1957-58 produced by the Company shows that

6. The Association, in its written statement, states that the Contractors do not come within the definition of "Industry" and that the Government of West Bengal acted without jurisdiction in referring the matter for adjudication and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain or adjudicate upon the dispute. This claim was opposed by the Union at the time of hearing. In view of this contention of the Association, the following Issue, being Issue No. 6, is framed for decision:

Issue No. 6:

Is the dispute referred to the Tribunal an industrial dispute, and has the Tribunal jurisdiction to entertain and adjudicate upon it?

The decision of this issue shall be taken up first.

7. The Tea Contractors carry on the trade of marking, re-packing and gunnying of tea chests and for that purpose, they employ the workmen in the categories as mentioned in Issue No. 3. These workmen are of two varieties, viz., 'Khata' workers and 'Nagda' workers. There cannot be any doubt that the employers carry on an industry, as they carry on the business or trade of marking, re-packing or gunnying of tea chests for shippers of tea. The dispute between the Contractors and their workmen in the four categories as mentioned in Issue No. 3 is connected with the employment or non-employment or terms of employment or with the conditions of labour of these workmen as they relate to the working hours, recess time, overtime rate, night shift allowance, wages, tiffin allowance and registration for employment of the workmen. There cannot be any doubt that the West Bengal Government is the appropriate Government in relation to the industrial dispute referred to this tribunal under section 2(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act. That being so, the reference of the industrial dispute as made to this tribunal by the West Bengal Government has been competent and the tribunal has jurisdiction to entertain it and to adjudicate on it. Under section 15 of the Act, the tribunal is bound to adjudicate on the dispute and submit its award to the appropriate Government.

8. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 1:

9. The Union, in its written statement, states that a Board should be constituted for listing the workmen in the categories of 'Khata' and 'Nagda' workers so that they may not be deprived of facilities of equitable employment. The board may be constituted with representatives of Government, Contractors, shippers and the Union, to control employment of workers. The Union also states that two sets of registers for listing the workers may be maintained—one for the 'Nagda' workers and another for the 'Khata' workers. In the event of any permanent vacancy in respect of 'Khata' workers, that vacancy should be filled up by 'Nagda' enlisted in the register maintained for the 'Nagda'. For employment of 'Nagda' workers, requisition may be made to the Union. Work should be allotted to workers in strict rotation. The 'Khata' workers should be treated as permanent workmen. The 'Khata' workers are daily-rated but monthly paid workmen. They are required to report for duty everyday when the work for the day begins, and the number required for the day is selected from among them. If any 'Khata' worker intends to leave for his village home, he is required to take prior leave of the employers. In case of non-compliance with this rule, the name of the worker is struck off from the register.

10. The Association states that the Union's suggestion for the formation of a board is not acceptable. Owing to the uncertainties of the job-based contracts, which are invariably of a very short duration, and terminable at the option of the shippers at the shortest possible notice, there is no scope for the constitution of a board, and that such a move would create unrest among the workers and clashes would be inevitable. The Union's suggestion would be unworkable in practice and work would be brought to a stand-still at the instance of the Union, causing immense hardship to all concerned. The 'Khata' workers are daily-rated, but not always monthly-paid. The 'Khata' worker intending to leave for his village home is not required to take prior leave from the employer and is free to leave whenever he likes. It is not a fact that if a 'Khata' worker fails to take prior leave of his master, his name is struck off or that he is dismissed. There being no sustained employer-employee relationship between a Contractor and a 'Khata' worker, the question of his name being struck off from any register or his being dismissed cannot arise. The 'Khata' workers are casual in nature.

11. Evidence was adduced on both sides. P.W. 1 Shri Arjun Mullick, P.W. 2 Shri Gadadhar Nayek, P.W. 3 Shri Santosh Kumar Kar, P.W. 4 Shri Bhindaban Mahapatra, P.W. 5 Shri Prahlad Nayek, P.W. 6 Shri Bhamara Bara Raul, P.W. 7 Shri Harihar Biswal, P.W. 8 Shri Prafulla Behuria, P.W. 9 Shri Purna Chandra Jana and P.W. 10 Shri Khagen Das deposed for the Union. Documents, Exts. 1 to 9(e), were marked for the Union. O.P.W. 1 Shri Biswanath Dhal, O.P.W. 2 Shri Gobinda Banik, O.P.W. 3 Shri Niranjan Basanta Roy and O.P.W. 4 Shri Maguni Malabar were examined for the Association. Document, Ext. A to Ext. D, were marked for the Association.

12. It appears from the evidence on record that the 'Khata' workers are registered workers with the Contractors, who are to attend the place of work every day, and they receive priority in the matter of obtaining employment. This register is kept with the Contractor. The 'Nagda' workers have got no register. This is the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Arjun Mullick, the Assistant Secretary of the Union. Exhibits 1 and 1(a) are two registers, which were maintained by the Union for booking of Nagda workers by some of the Contractors. These two registers are kept by the Union. It appears from the evidence of P.W. 3 Shri Santosh Kumar Kar, General Secretary of the Union, that there was a discussion between some of the Contractors and the Union officials before the Regional Labour Commissioner over the matter of employment of Khata and Nagda workers, and that, at the time of the discussion, it was decided that the list of Khata workers would be maintained by the Association of Employers, and as the Nagda workers were floating workers, their list would be maintained by the Union. The witness states that the Khata and the Nagda workers should be enlisted for the benefit of equal employment by rotation, and the rotational employment should be limited to Khata workers for Khata work and to the list of Nagda workers for Nagda work. When the list of Khata workers is exhausted, only then the Nagda workers are to be employed. The witness further states that the different Tea Contractors used to send requisition to the Union for Nagda workers, and all these Contractors have got about 400 to 500 Khata workers and about 1,500 Nagda workers. Requisition slips for Nagda workers are sent by the employers, and Ext. 5 series are some requisition slips by some employers. The witness states that the Union has got a list of Nagda workers. It does not appear that the witnesses who deposed on the side of the Contractors and who are Contractors, did requisition any Nagda workers from the Union. It appears to me that some of the Contractors issued the five slips, Exts. 5 to 5(d), asking for Nagda workers from the Union. I do not consider that the claim for formation of a Board with representatives of the Government, Contractors, Shippers and the Union can be considered with advantage by this tribunal, in the absence of the Government and the Shippers in this proceeding. I do not, therefore, propose to discuss this claim of the Union in the present enquiry. The learned Advocate for the Union suggested that as the Nagda workers were floating workers, their list may be kept by the Union, while the list of Khata workers should be kept by the employers. It appears from the evidence on record that both Khata workers and Nagda workers are of the nature of casual workmen. The Khata workers are given priority in employment by an employer, as they are really the registered workmen of the employer. When the Khata workers are exhausted on any day, Nagda workers who are not registered with any employer but are casual workers in the sense that they are employed if they are required and are available on any day, are employed. I do not find that the Khata workers are permanent workmen under any employer. The witnesses for the Union state that even the Khata worker does not get work for all the days of the month and for all the months in the year. P.W. 1 Shri Arjun Mullick states that he does not get work for one or two days in a period of two months. P.W. 2 Shri Gadadhar Nayek, who is a Nagda worker, states in his examination-in-chief that if there is any work left after providing the Khata workers, the work is given to the Nagda workers, and that, a Nagda worker gets work for 10 to 20 days in a month. P.W. 4 Shri Brindaban Mahapatra, a Khata worker, states that he works under Tea Contractor, Jagabandhu Nayek (serial No. 22). He states that no leave is required when he is absent from work, but he informs the Company about his absence. The same is the evidence of P.W. 5 Shri Prahlad Nayek, a Khata worker under Contractor Uma Charan Das (serial No. 19), as also the evidence of P.W. 6 Shri Bhamara Bara Raul, a Khata worker under Contractor Biswanath Dhal (serial No. 29). It is, therefore, clear that the claim of the Union that a Khata worker has got to take prior leave before he is absent from work, or that, in default of taking such leave he is dismissed, is not supported by evidence on record. The evidence on record shows that the Khata workers who are present, are given priority in employment by every Contractor-employer and that, only when the Khata workers present are exhausted, Nagda workers are employed for the day. I do not consider that the Union should be entrusted with the task of enlisting Nagda workers and of booking them for employment with the different employers at their requisition. Considering all circumstances and evidence on record, I award as follows:—

- (i) Listing of Khata workers and Nagda workers are to be made by the Contractors themselves. No worker who are not in the list of the employer shall be engaged.
- (ii) No Nagda worker shall be engaged before exhausting the Khata workers present at the place of employment of the Contractor-employer.
- (iii) Every Khata worker shall be at liberty to register his name with four Contractors and not more. A Nagda worker shall be at liberty to register his name with six employers-contractors and not more.
- (iv) The Nagda workers to be registered with the employers-contractors shall be as shown in the list of workers mentioned in Exts. 9 to 9(c).
- (v) A Nagda worker shall be permitted to report half-an-hour after the start of the work. This grace period is required to ascertain the necessity of the employment of a Nagda worker by the Contractor. It is intended that the Nagda worker will be able to search his work at more places than one before the hour of his employment commences.
- (vi) The employer-contractor shall take all possible steps to inform the workmen of their night booking by 6 p.m., i.e., about 3 hours before the employment commences.

13. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue Nos. 2 and 3:

14. The Union states in its written statement that the work is done in two shifts and the working hours are ordinarily as follows:—

Day shift: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. including 1 hour recess.

Night shift: 9 p.m. to 4 a.m. including 1 hour recess.

The workers are very often required to work much in excess of the schedule hours of work. The Union claims that for any overtime work done beyond the scheduled working hours, the workmen shall be paid overtime wages calculated at double the rate of normal wages and in addition thereto, a tiffin allowance at the rate of 8 annas per day in each shift. The daily working hours should be fixed at 7 hours, including 1 hour's recess. The Union also claims that for night work, a night allowance of Rs. 1-8 should be paid to each workman in addition to his daily rate. The Union further claims that the workmen should be given one day's weekly off with pay. The Union states that the existing rates of wages of the workmen are as follows:—

Nagda workmen

	Day.	Night.
	Rs.	Rs.
(1) Markman	3-8	5-0-0
(2) Gunnyman	Do.	Do.
(3) Mistri	3-0-0	4-0-0
(4) Chachai Mistri	3-8-0	4-8-0
(5) Katai Mistri	3-0-0	4-0-0

The Union states that the rates of Khata workers are lower than the rates admissible to the Nagda workers, and these rates are not fixed. All workers are not given work on all days of the month. As a result, the average monthly earning of these workmen fall far short of the minimum wage that is required for a family of 3-consumption unit. The Union claims that the daily rates of workmen should be as follows:—

	Rs. per day
Markman } 6
Gunnyman }
Mistri 5-8
Chachai Mistri 5-12

The workman required to work in the night should be paid night allowance at the rate of Rs. 1-8 in addition to the abovementioned rates.

15. The Association, in its written statement, states that the workers are not required to work in excess of the scheduled hours of work, as alleged. The demand for overtime wages at double rates is excessive. A further demand of tiffin allowance at the rate of 8 annas per day per shift is unjustified. The workers work on a 'no work no pay' basis and are their own masters except for the actual hours of their employment. The demand for a weekly day off is arbitrary and should be rejected. The rates of wages of Nagda workers are as shown by the Union, but the rates of wages of the Khata workers are much less and they are as follows:—

Khata workers

	Day.	Night.
(1) Markman	Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3	Rs. 1 to Rs. 1-8 extra.
(2) Gunnyman	Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3	Rs. 1 to Rs. 1-8 extra.
(3) Mistri	Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-8	Rs. 1 to Rs. 1-8 extra.
(4) Chachai Mistri	Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-8	Rs. 1 to Rs. 1-8 extra.

The Khata workers because of their more frequent chances for employment are on a slightly better footing than the Nagda workers and the Nagda workers are, therefore, paid at rates which are a little higher than those paid to the Khata workers. The existing wages for the different categories of Khata and Nagda workers engaged by the Contractors are on the high side and compare very favourably with those obtaining in the Calcutta Port Commissioners for Cooper Mistries, who perform identical jobs, their rates being at Rs. 2.25 for work in the day and Rs. 2.50 for work in the night. The claim for night allowance at the rate of Rs. 2-8 per day should be rejected. Workers working overtime get extra wages at normal rates for the hours worked, and any further payment is not called for.

16. It appears from the evidence of the witnesses that the wages of the Marksman and the Gunnyman is usually from Rs. 2-10 to Rs. 3 per day, and the wages of the Mistri and Chachai Mistri are from Rs. 1-8 to Rs. 2-12 per day. This is the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Arjun Mullick. It is also stated by P.W. 1 that there are some Khata workers who are monthly paid and their monthly pay ranges between Rs. 60 and Rs. 70. P.W. 1 further states that a Learner gets a daily wage varying from Re. 1 to Rs. 1-4 per day for about a year-and-a-half. This is the wage for the Khata workers. P.W. 2 Shri Gadadhar Nayek, who is a Nagda worker working as a Gunnyman, states that his wage is Rs. 3 for day work and Rs. 5 for night work. Considering all circumstances, I award as follows as to the wages of the Khata and Nagda workers of the four categories mentioned in Issue No. 3.

17. All Marksmen and Gunnymen shall get an increase in the daily wage to the extent of 4 annas, subject to a minimum daily wage of Rs. 3 for a Marksman or a Gunnyman. For night work, a Marksman or a Gunnyman shall get an extra wage of Rs. 1-8 per day. A Mistri or a Chachai Mistri shall also have an increase in the daily wage to the extent of 4 annas, subject to a minimum daily wage of Rs. 2-8. For night work, a Mistri or a Chachai Mistri shall get Re. 1 as extra wage.

18. The overtime rate of all categories of workers shall be 1½ (one-and-a-half) times the normal rate. No overtime wage shall be payable for work in the first half-an-hour after the close of the scheduled hours of work, if the work is finished during this half-an-hour. If the work continues for more than half-an-hour, the workmen shall be entitled to get overtime wages.

19. It appears that some of the employers allow working hours at 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. with one hour's recess. Affidavit, Ext. D, of Shri Niranjan Basanta Roy, one of the Tea Contractors, and the Secretary of the Calcutta Tea Contractors' Association, shows that this working period of 7 hours from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. is allowed by six of the Contractors and that, in the case of other Contractors, the working period is one hour more, being 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. or 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and in the case of three of the Contractors, the working hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with one hour's recess. All the Contractors, except seven of them, allow one hour's recess. Seven of the Contractors allow only half-an-hour's recess. Considering all circumstances and in view of the fact that six of the Contractors allow working period of seven hours with one hour's recess, i.e., a nett working period of six hours only, I award that all the Contractors should fix their working periods accordingly, i.e., from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. with one hour's recess in the day time and from 9 p.m. to 4 a.m. with one hour's recess in the night time. This working period is framed by me for the sake of uniformity in the working hours of all Contractors and to avoid any unhealthy competition in the trade. The recess time shall be one hour in the case of all Contractors, whether the work is in the day or in the night.

20. I do not consider that the claim of weekly off with pay is justified, in view of conditions of employment of the Khata and the Nagda workers, and this claim is rejected.

21. These two issues are answered accordingly.

Issue No. 4:

22. The Union states that any person who has knowledge of and experience for doing the work ascribed to any category shall be eligible for recruitment in that category.

23. The Association states that workers are engaged from time to time according to the exigencies of business, and since no permanent cadre can be formed, and since the work involved, is practically of an unskilled nature, eligibility for appointment cannot strictly be on knowledge of an experience for doing the work, and this claim is vague and untenable.

24. It appears from the evidence on record that the Contractors employ workmen of different categories according to the needs of their business, and that, Learners are also employed with a lower pay. In the circumstances, it is awarded that the present system of employment of workmen and Learners shall continue.

25. This Issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 5:

26. The Union prays for a tiffin allowance at the rate of 8 annas per day in each shift.

27. The Company states in its written statement that the demand for a tiffin allowance at the rate of 8 annas per day per shift is unjustified and unreasonable and should not be allowed.

28. P.W. 1 Shri Arjun Mullick states that tiffin allowance is paid by the Contractors at 3 annas, 4 annas, or 5 annas per day for overtime work. P.W. 3 Shri Santosh Kumar Kar, General Secretary of the Union, states that M. N. Mullick and Naren Maity, Contractors, pay tiffin allowance at the rate of 3 annas or 4 annas when they engage workers for overtime work. P.W. 4 Shri Brindaban Mahapatra states that tiffin allowance is paid at 4 annas if there is overtime work after 4 p.m. in the day and for all night shift works. P.W. 5 Shri Prahlad Nayek states that for night shift work, a tiffin allowance of 4 annas per day is paid, and if the work is done overtime after 4 p.m. for at least two hours, even then a tiffin allowance is paid. P.W. 6 Shri Bhamara Bara Raul states that he gets a tiffin allowance of 4 annas if he works at night from 9 p.m. to 4 a.m.

29. In view of the evidence on record, it is awarded that employers shall allow a tiffin allowance of 5 annas for all night shift works. Day shift workers shall get the tiffin allowance after 3 hours work after 4 p.m. If any Contractor pays more tiffin allowance than 5 annas per day, such tiffin allowance shall be paid by such Contractor to his workmen under conditions as mentioned above.

30. This Issue is accordingly answered.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1410-L.R./IR/111-104/57, dated 7th April 1958, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between the Bengal Club Ltd., 33 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-16, and one of their employees Shri Santi Ranjan Samaddar represented by the Bengal Club Ltd. Employees' Association, 3 Commercial Buildings, 1st Floor, 23 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication:

Schedule

Whether the dismissal of Shri Santi Ranjan Samaddar was justified? What relief is he entitled to?

AWARD

This is a case arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of Shri Santi Ranjan Samaddar previously employed in the Bengal Club Ltd., 33 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-16, hereinafter referred to as the Club for the sake of brevity.

The Union's case in its written statement in short is as follows. Shri Santi Ranjan Samaddar, the workman concerned, was employed by the Club on 1st February 1947 and had a good record of service. On returning home from the office on 8th June 1954, the workman received a telegram from Puri intimating that his aged widowed mother was attacked with Pneumonia and was lying seriously ill at Puri, and that her condition was critical and alarming. The workman applied to the Club for leave on 9th June 1954 and left for Puri on the same evening to look after his mother's treatment and make necessary arrangements therefor. Having regard to his mother's condition which further deteriorated, the workman wired to the Club on 17th June 1954 for further leave and again wrote a letter on 24th June 1954 from Puri to extend his leave. On 4th July 1954 the workman could bring his mother down to Calcutta for further treatment and again appealed to the Secretary to the Club on 5th July 1954 to extend his leave up to 4th August 1954. The Secretary to the Club in reply to the workman's aforesaid application, dated 5th July 1954, alleged in his letter, dated 8th July 1954, that the workman had declined to accept his letter, dated 25th June 1954, sent to his Calcutta address. The Union states that the Secretary's allegation of the workman's refusal to accept the aforesaid letter was not correct as he was staying at Puri at that time, and prayed for leave up to 4th August 1954. Thereafter, the workman received a letter, dated 14th July 1954, from the Secretary to the Club intimating that his services were dismissed with effect from the said date. The Union, therefore, contends that no charge-sheet was issued against the workman, nor was he heard in his defence and as such the dismissal is wholly unjustified and illegal, and that the workman is entitled to be reinstated together with other consequential benefits.

The Club, on the other hand, in its written statement contends that the dispute referred to this Court is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, nor is Shri Santi Ranjan Samaddar, a "workman" within the meaning of section 2(s) of the said Act, and as such the reference is incompetent. It is further contended that Shri Samaddar gave up his case for reinstatement and accepted his dues in full and final settlement of all his claims against the Club, and that being so his prayer for reinstatement together with back wages is not maintainable in law. The substantive case of the Club is that Shri Samaddar absented himself from office on 9th June 1954 without obtaining leave or permission from the Management, and continued to remain on unauthorised absence for a long period. He was given several opportunities to resume his duties, but on the plea of his mother's serious illness he refused to do so. The Club finally wrote to him on 8th July 1954 stating, inter alia, that he must report for duty on 10th July 1954 on pain of dismissal, whereupon he wrote to the Club on 10th July 1954 stating amongst other things that it was impossible on his part to report for duty till his mother came round. Thus the workman failed and neglected to resume his duties, although called upon to do so by the Club, and as the Club was not satisfied with the explanations offered by him for his prolonged and obstinate absence, he was dismissed on 14th July 1954 for his insubordination and continued determined unauthorised absence. The Club denies the other allegations made in the written statement of the Union, and further states that the statement of the workman that he received a telegram from Puri on his return home from office on 8th June 1954 is false as would be apparent from a Postal Stamp of 4 p.m. on 8th June 1954 on the Post Card addressed by the workman to the Club. The Club also does not admit the allegations with regard to the state of the workman's mother's health at various times, nor does it admit that he is the only son of his mother, and that there was nobody else to look after her. In the above circumstances, the Club resists the prayer of the Union for reinstatement or any other relief.

Decision

The Club seeks to justify the dismissal of the workman on the ground of his remaining unauthorisedly absent from duty with effect from 9th June 1954 coupled with his frequent unauthorised absence from office during the total length of his service for which warnings were given to him for the selfsame misconduct. Furthermore, orders of dismissal were once passed on him, but the same were subsequently set aside on his appeal. The grievance of the workman who was a bill clerk of the Club, on the other hand, in this case is that due to his mother's serious illness, he was not in a position to apply for leave and get Club sanction to the leave prior to his departure for Puri where his mother was reported to be ailing. Now let us enter into the evidence and decide whose version of the case stands scrutiny. In doing so, it is necessary to look into the several correspondences that passed between the parties. The first letter, dated 9th June 1954 (Ext. B), is a Post Card addressed by the workman to the Secretary to the Club which reads as follows:—

I beg to inform you that I have got a very urgent piece of business, and for which I beg to be granted casual leave for this day, the 9th June 1954.

This is the letter which the workman addressed to the Club on the alleged receipt of a telegram from Puri intimating his mother's serious condition. On behalf of the Club, my attention has been drawn to the Postal Stamp on this Post Card of the date "8th June 1954—4 p.m.", whereas the date inside the Post Card is 9th June 1954. Thus this Post Card was obviously posted on 8th June 1954, but the date, i.e., 9th June 1954 is written inside the Card just to show as if the Post Card were written on 9th June 1954. Clearly therefore 9th June 1954 is the wrong date on the body of the Post Card, as it cannot be written on a date subsequent to the date of its posting. Writing must precede posting and not follow it. Thus this letter was written at least on 8th June 1954, if not earlier. This Post Card is, therefore, seriously criticised before me on behalf of the Club. In his evidence, the workman has stated that on receipt of a telegram from Puri on 8th June 1954 he applied for leave, presumably on the basis of this Post Card (Ext. B), but the alleged telegram which is said to have been addressed to his elder brother never saw the light of the day during the pendency of the proceeding either at an earlier stage in the Industrial Court or in the Hon'ble High Court in appeal (vide, Paper-Book Ext. 1) or even now. Thereafter, the workman alleges that he sent a wire to the Club applying for 2 months' leave, and then another letter repeating his prayer and then again another wire on 29th June 1954, and he brought down his mother to Calcutta on 4th July 1954 and put in another application for leave on 5th July 1954 with a medical certificate. On 7th July 1954 he addressed another letter to the Club and got a letter from the Club asking him to join at once and on 10th July 1954 he addressed another letter to the Club making a prayer for leave. It will be necessary to refer to the contents of the Club's letter, dated 8th July 1954 (page 7 of Ext. 1), addressed to the workman which states, inter alia, that the workman declined to accept from the Post Office upon a copy of Club's letter, dated 25th June 1954, and that his continued absence from the Club without authorised leave sanctioned by the Secretary constitutes gross misconduct punishable with dismissal. This letter further states that the Committee are not prepared to consider his request as contained in this Registered Acknowledgment Due letter to the 5th instant (5th July 1954) and have decided to dismiss him from the Club's service if he failed to report on Saturday the 10th instant (10th July 1954) at 9.30 a.m. and show cause why disciplinary action should not be taken against him for his continued and unauthorised absence. To this letter of the Club, dated 8th July 1954, the workman replied by his letter, dated 10th July 1954 (page 9 of Ext. 1—Paper-Book), wherein he pleaded not guilty to any of the charges and further affirmed that the Club had never any occasion to reprimand him, nor had he ever broken office discipline, and as there was nobody else to look after his mother it was impossible on his part to report for duty till his mother came round, and thus prayed for leave up to 4th August 1954. This letter was followed by the Club's letter, dated 14th July 1954 (vide page 10 of Ext. 1—Paper-Book), sent to him per Registered Post with Acknowledgment Due stating that the Committee had decided in the interests of the Club and its staff to dismiss him with effect from 14th July 1954 for insubordination and for continued and determined unauthorised absence. In coming to that decision, it is further stated that the Committee had considered his explanations, but were not satisfied, inter alia, either with the causes shown for not complying with the Club's directions as contained in the Club's letter, dated 8th June 1954, and continued and determined absence without leave or with his past conduct and service. The learned Advocate for the Club has further drawn my attention to a statement sworn to by the workman at paragraph 5 in his affidavit (vide, page 30 of Ext. 1) before the Hon'ble High Court wherein he swore that he was the only son of his mother, but in his deposition in this Court he contradicted himself by saying that they are 4 brothers (of whom he is the second) and two sisters, and that they all live at 11 Kshetra Mohan Naskar Road, Tollygunge. There is nothing to convince the Court of the workman's plea that of all brothers and sisters in the family, his attendance was absolutely necessary to attend to his ailing mother. The learned Advocate for the Club has further drawn my attention to another contradiction in the evidence of the workman wherein he stated that after leaving Calcutta on 8th June 1954 he returned to Calcutta for the first time with his ailing mother on 4th July 1954, but this is contradicted by another letter, dated 12th June 1954 (Ext. B-1), wherein he stated that he returned to Calcutta from Puri on 12th June 1954 and prayed for extension of leave. In his affidavit (vide, page 30 of the Paper-Book—Ext. 1) he swore that his mother gradually showed signs of improvement. Furthermore, the workman has neither produced any prescription from his mother's attending physician at Puri nor any prescription whatsoever as evidence of his mother's physical condition. The Club, on the other hand, has produced a letter, dated 12th June 1954 (Ext. B-1), wherein the workman prayed for extension of casual leave for 2 days, i.e., 11th and 13th June 1954, and the Club also exhibited his Service Card which bristles with casual leave and sick leave taken by him from time to time, and the same was calculated for the Club as 3 years approximately within a period of his 7 years' service. Exhibit D shows that he took sick leave for 384 days from 1st October 1946 to 30th September 1954, casual leave for 37 days and privilege leave for 120 days which was not due. All these leaves enjoyed by him, sometimes authorised and sometimes unauthorised, do not reflect credit on the workman, and all this lead me to hold that he was in the habit of remaining on unauthorised leave, and the Management took the right view of his conduct. Exhibit E, dated 13th July 1954, which is Committee Minutes regarding the workman is a true picture of the workman's conduct while in services of the Club, and I have no reasons to differ with the Committee's following observations as hereunder:—

His abstinence from duty on this occasion and also on frequent occasions in the past on some pretext or other of his own free will and without securing actual permission or sanction, has thoroughly convinced us of the irresponsible and reprehensible nature of his conduct.

The Committee, therefore, in the interests of the Club and the staff decided to dismiss him from service with immediate effect.

The point is whether this decision should stand or be interfered with. I, on my part, on a very careful consideration of the entire evidence—both oral and documentary—find myself unable to hold that the decision of the Club is vitiated in any way by any of the vitiating elements of (1) want of good faith, (2) perverse finding, (3) basic error of facts and (4) policy of victimisation or unfair labour practice. I find that there are none of the aforesaid elements to vitiate the Committee's decision to terminate the service of this workman. The decision of the Committee dismissing the workman, therefore, cannot be interfered with. It may be added that it was argued for the Union that no charge-sheet was issued, nor was any enquiry held, so principles of natural justice were violated. In this case the workman was given enough opportunity to report himself for duty, but he was so obstinate and adamant in his attitude that he did not care to attend the Club even on his return to Calcutta in June 1954, nor offered any explanation for his absence but persisted in taking shelter under the plea of his mother's illness and that he was attending to her. The Management has exposed the falsity of his pleas, and no further useful purpose would have been served by holding further enquiry. The Committee's decision, I think, I shall not be justified in reversing.

Another point has been taken by the learned Advocate for the Club that the workman is estopped by his conduct from raising his prayer for reinstatement, and in support of this plea the Club relies on Ext. B-2, dated 22nd November 1957, wherein the workman stated that he had already settled his case about reinstatement amicably, and he wished to start a business, and that he had no other claim against the Club as he gave up his claim to reinstatement. This was followed by Ext. B-3, dated 11th December 1957, wherein he states that he does not like to proceed further, and that he agrees to withdraw the case if the matter is settled as appealed by him. Prior to all this, he had already accepted Rs. 417-15 in full and final settlement of his claims against the Club. The learned Advocate for the Club, therefore, contends that the workman is estopped from raising this dispute over again, having regard to his conduct and the correspondence referred to above. The learned Advocate for the Club has drawn my attention to the Ruling reported in 1953 L.A.C., page 75, in the case of United Commercial Bank Ltd. versus K. D. Chaturvedi and another and has argued that in the present case there are none of the vitiating elements of fraud, undue influence, duress, coercion or mis-representation present to vitiate the receipt, Ext. A. So, this receipt (Ext. A) coupled with the letters referred to above estops the workman from raising the plea of reinstatement or even the dispute itself. There is no allegation that the receipt (Ext. A), and the letters were obtained from the workman concerned per force. So, in my opinion, the workman is estopped from raising the question of his reinstatement or other reliefs.

Lastly, it has been urged by the learned Advocate for the Club that this reference is incompetent as there was no dispute outstanding since the workman had already settled it. It would appear from the Paper-Book (Ext. 1) that at a prior stage this case went up to the Hon'ble High Court where it was held that it was not an industrial dispute, and thereafter the dispute was taken up by the Union. Since the dispute was taken up by the Union and a reference was made to this Court, I have no reason to hold that it is not an industrial dispute and that there was no dispute outstanding. The dispute remained, as it was argued, for Club's contribution towards the workman's Provident Fund. As this is a case of dismissal for continued unauthorised absence and insubordination of the workman, I think, he cannot claim Club's contribution towards the Provident Fund under clause 17(a) of the Rules and Regulations of the Provident Fund for the staff of the Club.

To sum up, this is an industrial dispute and the reference is competent, and the Court is entitled to adjudicate upon it. So far as the point referred to this Court for adjudication is concerned, it is held that the dismissal of the workman is justified on grounds of unauthorised absence coupled with insubordination as decided by the Club. Thus no relief is admissible to the workman, and to grant any relief to such a workman would be tantamount to putting premium upon workman's unsatisfactory conduct and encouraging indiscipline.

This is my award.

Schedule

Whether the dismissal of Shri Krishna is justified? To what relief is he entitled?

AWARD

This is a case arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of Shri Krishna, previously employed in Messrs. Air Link Private Ltd., 5-B Clive Ghat Street, Calcutta-1, hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

The case of the Union in its written statement in short is that the workman was employed in the Company for 11 years with a good record of service, but the Company suddenly discharged him on and from 27th June 1958 without any previous notice, charge-sheet, enquiry whatsoever. The Union seeks reinstatement of this workman together with other incidental reliefs.

The Company, on the other hand, in its written statement denies the allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends that the Management detected this workman on 27th June 1958 in pilfering fuels from the Company's truck, and on being taken to task for shortage of fuels on previous occasions he ceased to come to his duty with effect from the following date, i.e., 28th June 1958. The Company further contends that the Union's allegation of dismissing or discharging this workman is absolutely false.

Decision

The evidence in this case is one-sided since the Company examined no witness. The Union examined the workman himself and U.W. 2 Shri Ram Chandra Pandey, Office Secretary to the Union. The workman has stated his own case and denied the Company's allegation of pilfering fuels from the Company's truck as alleged by it in its written statement. He has also stated that he has been out of employment since his dismissal on 27th June 1958. There is nothing on the side of the Company to indicate that there was any charge-sheet or any enquiry held. Therefore, the Union's case that the workman was summarily dismissed may be taken as proved. As regards Company's allegation of the workman's stealing fuels from the truck, on the side of the Company there is no evidence, but a suggestion was thrown out to the workman who denied it. Therefore, this allegation of pilfering fuels is also not proved. So, it must be found that the workman was out of employment since 28th June 1958. On behalf of the Company it is alleged in its written statement that he was not discharged or dismissed, but he did not turn up for work on 28th June 1958 as a result of an altercation between him and the Company over the removal of petrol. Now that the Company's representative has agreed to reinstate him, I think, no useful purpose will be served by entering into the Company's allegation of the workman's stealing fuels. The workman also has agreed to be reinstated on previous terms and conditions. According to his own admission, the workman's wages were Rs. 80 per month. Therefore, the Company is directed to reinstate the workman on his previous monthly wage of Rs. 80. Now, the difference between the parties is over the wages during the period of unemployment, and I think, his 3 months' wages would be adequate in this respect. After the alleged dismissal, the workman lived at his native village, though a suggestion was thrown out to him in his cross-examination that he was employed in Calcutta in some firm on Vivekananda Road, but the same has been denied. Even assuming that he was out of employment and that he passed all the time at his native village, I think, 3 months' wages would be adequate compensation for the period of his forced idleness. Besides that, the workman has stated in his evidence before this Court that he was not given his wages for 27 days of June 1958. Thus in all, the workman is found entitled to his 3 months wages as compensation for the period of forced unemployment plus his wages for 27 days of June 1958 at the rate of Rs. 80 per month.

The Company is, therefore, directed to reinstate the workman within a month of the publication of this award, and during this period the workman must report himself for duty to the Company. The Company is further directed to pay him Rs. 240 (80×3) as compensation for the period of his forced unemployment plus Rs. 72 as his wages for 27 days of June 1958, in all Rs. 312 within the same period, treating the continuity of his service as unbroken.

This is my award.

AWARD

The parties filed written statements. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 28th January 1960. As the Union did not turn up and showed no cause for absence, the case was taken up for hearing ex-parte on that date. After examination of the witness for the employers the case was adjourned to 9th February 1960 for arguments when the Union turned up and showed cause for non-appearance. The Union was allowed to adduce evidence. Thus the hearing as on contest followed from the side of the workmen, only one witness that is Shri Bhutnath Dey, the General Secretary of the Union, was examined. Major E. Fownes on behalf of all the trainers was examined and cross-examined.

The dispute is between twenty-one trainers of horses in the race course and the syces engaged in looking after the horses.

The contentions as raised in the written statement filed by the Union are that the syces are ill-paid and they are overworked and that when each trainer received a sum of Rs. 300 per month to meet the expenses for the maintenance of each horse which could absorb a sum of Rs. 100 for the food of the horse itself, the syces should get the balance Rs. 200.

The trainers on the other hand urge that the position of the trainers is such that they depend for their engagement upon the selection of owners of horse, who can take away the horse from the trainers at any moment of time. It is contended that their employment stands in most uncertain state as the contract of employment is always terminable at any time and it is not possible for them to give the syces, their employees anything more, after meeting other expenses. Besides it is asserted that the syces are getting more wages compared to those in Bombay, Poona, Bangalore, Mysore, Secunderabad.

I now take up for decision the several issues as framed in the order of reference.

Issue Nos. 1 and 2.

These issues being interlinked are taken up together.

The syces get Rs. 65 per month. It appears that they were getting Rs. 55 per month and an increase in wages by Rs. 10 was given in early 1957. There is no dispute on the point that the individual syces are paid by their respective trainers. It is common case of both the parties that the owner of a horse deposits with Royal Calcutta Turf Club every month a sum of Rs. 300 for the necessary expenses for the animal in favour of the trainer as appointed by the horse owner and the trainers withdraw that sum to meet the expenses. It appears from the evidence of Major Fownes that out of the sum of Rs. 300 known as trainer's fee the trainers are to pay wages to the syces the riding boy, jamader and further meet all the expenses including medical expenses of the horse and also the stable rent. There is nothing to contradict it. The evidence of the witness is that the syces, riding boys and jamaders are direct employees of the trainers and the owner of the horses have got nothing to do with the same. The function of the horse owner is to place the horse in charge of the trainers as he selects and pay through the Turf Club a sum of Rs. 300 in favour of the trainers to meet all expenses necessary for the training of the horse. Naturally there is no fixity as to the number of horses placed under a particular trainer in a season. Major Fownes stated that Macpherson (Serial No. 10), Bloss (serial No. 15), Quidwai (serial No. 19) have got very few horses under them and that none of the horse placed under them could win in any race recently and that they are in debts. The training fee of Rs. 300 per horse is the only income of the trainer. It is only if a particular horse wins a race that a percentage of the winning money is given to the trainer. So these persons, engaged in the occupation as trainer as their vocation, are to depend upon chance and luck, on the result of a race, to earn an income over and above, the training fees. Besides the existence of the horse the ownership of the same as well as the placement of the same with the trainers are matters from their very nature linked up with factors quite uncertain and beyond any control of the trainers. In the background of all these uncertain factors, it has got to be seen how far the trainers are in a position to give more wages to the syces. Admittedly the trainers pay wages to Jamaders and riding boys. There is however no fixity as to the number of riding boys, jamader engaged by each trainers. It all depends upon the number of horses and the nature and type of such horses, as happen to be placed under a trainer at any particular time. But certainly the trainers incur some expenses on that score. According to the evidence of the Secretary of the Union, the expenses for the maintenance of a horse comes to about Rs. 100 per month. The employer submitted a statement, Ext. A, showing in it average expenses per horse in a stable of twelve. The statement shows stable rent at Rs. 20, salary of the riding boys at Rs. 10 and jamader at Rs. 6-8. The total expenses are shown at Rs. 278-8. This was the estimate as done in 1949. From that chart, it can be safely said that a trainee can have little margin for his ownself after meeting the compulsory expenses. Obviously the margin left to the trainers increases when the number of horses placed under a trainer increases. At the same time it cannot be ignored that a trainer must have his own remuneration, for his work as a trainer from the training fee. I do not think that in the particular nature of the occupation of the trainer, it is at all safe to compare them with an employer engaged in an industry in the ordinary sense of the term. They are at most petty employers engaged in a trade full of uncertainties. It is clear from the evidence that the syces get Rs. 55 or Rs. 60 at Bombay and Rs. 40 to Rs. 60 at Madras and Bangalore. There is no evidence to show that the syces in Calcutta get anything more. In Tollygunge Race Course the syces get Rs. 55 per month. Clearly these syces get more wages compared to those in this region or in other States. It is true that the minimum wage of unskilled workers had been fixed at Rs. 67.17 in the Jute Industry, by the Tribunal in 1955 and at Rs. 71 in the selected Engineering Industries, by the recent Engineering Tribunal. But this Industry in which these workmen are engaged by the trainers stands no comparison with those industries. The learned lawyer urged much on the point that the syces are not being paid the bare minimum wages, above the poverty line. The syces get free quarters and considering such benefit regarding housing real wages amounts to more than what even a workman in such other industry as the Jute Industry gets.

I thus find that there is no scope for increasing the minimum wages of syces from the present level of Rs. 65 per month considering the financial position of the employer which is not at all happy. I think it would be unwise to split up the wage structure in basic pay and dearness allowance or to provide for additional dearness allowance.

Issue No. 3.

This issue relates to working hours. The Union Secretary stated that the syces work from 3-30 a.m. to 8-30 a.m. and then from 2-30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Major Fownes gives the duty hours as being 4-30 to 9 in the morning and from 4 to 6 in the evening. The syces themselves are the best persons competent to depose on the point. But they are not examined. I thus believe the evidence of Major Fownes. According to his evidence syces are to work for about seven hours. The nature of duties are not at all heavy. I thus do not like to interfere in fixing up the working hours at a lesser period or otherwise.

Issue No. 4.

There is no evidence to show what profit the individual trainer derived on 1956-57. There thus arises no point in declaring bonus. I disallow the claim.

Issue No. 5.

At present there is one syce as against each horse there are few extra hands. Considering the nature of duties of a syce I think there is no scope for increasing the number of syces per horse.

Issue No. 6.

It appears that there is already a resident medical officer to look after the syces. He is paid by the Turf Club. Major Fownes stated that the trainers pay for the extra expenses of medicine as and when necessary. There is no scope for adding to the existing facilities enjoyed by the workmen.

Issue No. 7.

The Union demands that the syces would have continuity of service and for that their service would automatically be transferred with the change of ownership of the horse. The horse owner has got nothing to do with the syces directly. There is no relationship as master and servant between the horse owner and syces. The mere fact that there exists an association of horse owners and trainers, does not create any relationship as master and servant between the owner and the syces. It appears that the service condition of syces are framed by the association. But all terms of contract and supervision in respect of the manner in which the work is to be done is exercised by the trainers only. It is not, in the particular circumstances of this case, at all possible to lay down any hard and fast rule that a syce would follow the horse upon transfer of ownership. The prayer is disallowed.

Issue No. 8

The Union demands supply of uniforms. The trainers can not be saddled with such additional liability in the shape of clothing to the employees. Besides the nature of duties of the syces is not such that they should have any special dress or uniform. The claim is disallowed.

Issue No. 9

The syces enjoy 14 days' privilege leave as 14 days' sick leave in a year. The Union demand increase in the period of leave. I find no justification for the same. It is however provided that these kinds of leave would accumulate up to 14 days. Sick leave would be granted only when medical certificate from approved medical officer is produced.

Issue No. 10

The syces while going home on leave are given one way train fare once in a year. Such privilege enjoyed by the workmen is a matter of concession flowing from the generosity of the employer. There is no point in further increasing this benefit and imposing additional burden upon the trainers. It is directed that the same practice be followed with respect to all the syces without discrimination.

AWARD

1. The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute in the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal between the employers of the cotton mills specified in a schedule to the said order, dated 12th September 1956, as amended, and their workmen represented by Unions specified in a schedule to the order, dated 12th September 1956, as amended for adjudication to this tribunal. The award in respect of the aforesaid industrial dispute was published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 10th June 1958.

2. On 3rd September 1957 Shri Bidhu Bhusan Chowdhury and Shri Suresh Sil, workmen of the Dhakeswari Cotton Mills No. 3 at Suryyanagar, Burdwan, applied separately under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act for reinstatement with back wages since the date of their discharge. On 6th December 1957 Shri Subir Bose and Shri Haradhan Banerjee, two other workmen of the Dhakeswari Cotton Mills No. 3 at Suryyanagar, Burdwan, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act for reinstatement with full compensation for the period of their unemployment. These two workmen also applied separately. The applications of Shri Suresh Sil, Shri Bidhu Bhusan Chowdhury, Shri Subir Bose and Shri Haradhan Banerjee were registered as cases Nos. 88/1957, 89/1957, 107/1957 and 108/1957, respectively, under section 33A of the Act. The details of the pleadings in these applications will be considered at the decision of the issues herebelow. These four cases were heard together for the sake of convenience at the instance of the parties. This Award shall govern all the four cases.

3. The Dhakeswari Cotton Mills No. 3 was notified and they appeared and filed written statements in all the cases. The details of the pleadings will be considered at the decision of the issues.

4. The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For the Applicants Workmen in all the cases—
Shri M. Saha, instructed by Shri Bidhu Bhusan Chowdhury.

For the Company— Shri P. K. Ghosh, Advocate, and Shri N. K. Majumdar, Pleader.

5. The points that arise for decision in this case are the same and are as follows:—

Points

- (1) Are the applications under section 33A of the Act maintainable?
- (2) Are the applicants entitled to any relief, as claimed?

DecisionsPoint No. 1:

6. An industrial dispute between a number of cotton mills in West Bengal, including the Dhakeswari Cotton Mills Ltd. No. 3 at Suryyanagar, Asansol, and their workmen was pending before this tribunal from 12th September 1956 to 10th July 1958. The order of reference in that case was made on 12th September 1956 and the award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 10th June 1958. It appears that the four workmen applicants were discharged from service by the Company sometime in December 1956 or in January 1957. It appears that the names of Shri Bidhu Bhusan Chowdhury, Shri Subir Bose and Shri Haradhan Banerjee were struck off on 22nd December 1956, 28th December 1956 and 27th December 1956, respectively, and the name of Suresh Sil was struck off on 25th January 1957. It does not appear, nor is it the case of the Company that permission of the tribunal was obtained before the service of any one of these four workmen was terminated by the Company. It is, therefore, clear that the Company, in terminating the services of these four workmen, contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and the applications of the workmen under section 33A were, therefore, maintainable. This view is supported by the decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Automobile Products of India, Ltd., reported in 1955(I) L.L.J., 346, Equitable Coal Co. Ltd., reported in 1958(I) L.L.J., 793, and the case of the Punjab National Bank, reported in 1959(II) L.L.J., 666. This point is accordingly answered.

Point No. 2:

7. It has been decided in numerous cases, and also by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Punjab National Bank, that in an enquiry under section 33A, the employee would not succeed in obtaining an order of reinstatement merely by proving contravention of section 33 by the employer. After such contravention is proved, it would still be open to the employer to justify the impugned dismissal on the merits. That is a part of the dispute which the Tribunal has to consider, because the complaint made by the employee is treated as an industrial dispute, and the relevant aspects of the said dispute fall to be considered under section 33A [vide decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Punjab National Bank, reported in 1969(11) L.L.J., 666 at 681]. It is, therefore, to be decided if the termination of service of the applicants workmen by the Company in December 1956, and January 1957, was justified, or if the employees were entitled to any relief.

8. Evidence was adduced on both sides. P.W. 1 Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury deposed for the applicants and Ext. 1, a letter, dated 9th July 1957, by the General Secretary of the Union addressed to the Manager, for reinstatement of Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury and Shri Suresh Sil and another was marked for the Union. O.P.W. 1 Shri Bhupendra Chandra Sarker, and O.P.W. 2 Shri Haripada Nag were examined for the Company and documents, Ext. A to Ext. J(7), were marked for the Company.

9. It appears from the evidence on record that there was a case of murder in the Dhakeswari Mill area in the night of 12th December 1956. All the four applicants were arrested by the police in connection with that case of murder. The applicants state, in their written statements, that the Company implicated these workmen in the murder case to get rid of them, as they were militant Trade Union workers. The Company, in its written statement, denies the allegation that these workmen were implicated in the murder case by them, or that they made any attempt to get rid of these workmen on account of their Trade Union activities. It appears that Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury was absent from work from the morning of 13th December 1956, that he was arrested by the police on 26th December 1956, and his name was struck off the rolls on 22nd December 1956. P.W. 1 Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury states in evidence that he was arrested by the police on 24th December 1956 at Asansol. He also states that Shri Suresh Sil was also arrested on the same date. Ext. 1, the order-sheet of the Magistrate, shows that accused Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury and Suresh Sil were produced before the Magistrate on 26th December 1956. Order-sheet, Ext. 1(2), shows that Suresh Sil was released on bail on 26th February 1957. P.W. 1 Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury states that it may be that Subir worked in the factory till 16th December 1957, and then came to Calcutta where he was arrested. He also states that Haradhan also worked up to 16th December 1956 and then he went to Agartala where he was arrested. Order-sheet, Ext. 1(3), shows that Subir Bose was produced under escort from Alipore before the Magistrate at Asansol on 25th March 1957, and order-sheet, Ext. 1(4), shows that absconding accused Haradhan Banerjee was arrested by the police at Asansol, and detained in the Agartala Court. Order-sheet, Ext. 1(4), shows that accused Haradhan Banerjee was produced under arrest from Subdivisional Magistrate, Udaipur, Tripura, before the Magistrate at Asansol on 11th April 1957. Order-sheet, Ext. 1(5), shows that under orders of the Hon'ble High Court, Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury was released on bail on 21st May 1957. Ext. 1(7), order-sheet of the Sessions Judge, shows that the other workmen applicants who were accused in this case were released on bail on 9th September 1957.

10. Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury states that on the morning of 13th December 1956 when he was coming to the factory to work, he was informed by Shri Bhupendra Chandra Sarker, Line Supervisor of the barracks, that the police was coming to arrest him and that, unless he went away, he might be arrested. Thereafter, he left the barracks. O.P.W. 1 Shri Bhupendra Chandra Sarker, Line Supervisor, deposed and denied that he ever told Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury on 13th December 1956 that he should go away or would be arrested. The statement of Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury that he absconded under instructions from Shri Bhupendra Chandra Sarker, is unworthy of acceptance, in view of the evidence on record. It is clear from his evidence that he went to Asansol on 12th December 1956, after doing his duty in the factory at 6 a.m., and thereafter he did not attend his duties in the mill, and was arrested by the police on 24th December 1956 at Asansol. The evidence shows that he was staying in his maternal uncle's house at Asansol. Exts. E and E(1) is a copy of register of attendance of Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury. This shows that he was absent from the factory from 13th December 1956, and was absent for the whole of December and January. Ext. E(1) shows an entry that his name was struck off on 22nd December 1956 due to long absence without leave, and this was advised on 3rd January 1957.

11. Shri Suresh Sil, who was arrested on 24th December 1956, also attended the factory till 22nd December 1956, Saturday. He was absent from 24th December 1956, and was absent for the whole of December and whole of January, as would appear from his Attendance Register, Exts. F and F(1). Ext. F(1) shows that his name was struck off on 25th January 1957, due to long absence without intimation. According to the evidence of Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury, Haradhan Banerjee and Subir Bose worked up to 16th December 1956. Thereafter, Haradhan Banerjee went to Agartala, where he was arrested, and Subir Bose went to Calcutta, where he was arrested. Haradhan Banerjee was arrested at Agartala on 19th February 1957. P.W. 1 Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury states that Haradhan Banerjee fell ill and went to his home at Agartala. Subir Bose was arrested in Calcutta on 25th March 1957. Ext. G, the Attendance Register of Haradhan Banerjee in December 1956, shows that he worked till 15th December 1956, Saturday, and was absent from work from Monday, 17th December, 1956. Sunday is a holiday in this mill. He was absent for the whole of December. Ext. G shows an entry that the name of Haradhan Banerjee was struck off from 26th December 1956, due to long absence without leave, as advised on 3rd January 1957. Ext. H is the Attendance Register of Subir Kumar Bose for December 1956. This also shows that he was absent from 17th December 1956, and was absent for the whole of December, and that his name was struck off on 28th December 1956, due to long absence without leave.

12. The Standing Orders of the Company, Ext. J, shows in rule 14(f) that habitual absence without leave or absence without leave for more than six consecutive days without sufficient cause is a misconduct for which a workman may be liable to suspension or dismissal according to clause (n) of that rule. In each of these cases, as mentioned above, the service of the workmen was terminated after more than six days of absence without leave.

It has been decided by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Burn & Co., Calcutta, reported in 1957(1) L.L.J., 226, that when a workman was arrested under the West Bengal Security Act and detained in jail from 25th January 1949 to 5th April 1949, and the Company terminated his services on 22nd April 1949, on the ground of continued absence, the termination of service of the workman by the Company was justified in spite of the fact that no formal charge-sheet was delivered to him. The Hon'ble Court observes that as the ground of discharge is the continued absence of the employee and his inability to do work, no useful purpose would be served by a formal charge being delivered to him and he could not give any conceivable answer to such charge if one was given to him. The same view has been approved by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Indiap Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., reported in 1959(1) L.L.J., 260 at page 268. The Hon'ble Court observes that it is true that arrested men were not in a position to come to their work because they had been arrested by the police. This may be unfortunate for them, but it would be unjust to hold that in such circumstances, the Company must always give leave when an application for leave is made. The Hon'ble Court observes that if the workmen are arrested at the instance of the Company for the purpose of victimisation and in order to get rid of them on the ostensible pretext of continued absence, the position would be different. It will then be a colourable or a mala fide exercise of power under the relevant Standing Order. There is no evidence on record to justify that in the present case the workmen were arrested at the instance of the Company for the purpose of victimisation in order to get rid of them on the ostensible pretext of continued absence. It appears that Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury was the Assistant Secretary of the Union since 1957. His name was struck off in December 1956. Exts. A, B, C and C(1) show that Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury was dismissed in July 1956, and that, on his offering apology in writing, he was reinstated. I do not find any evidence on record to justify the plea that the workmen were victimised for their Union activities. The orders of termination of service under clause 14(f) and (a) on the four workmen applicants is, therefore, justified on merits. It was pointed out by the learned Advocate for the workmen that under rule 16(1) of the Standing Orders, a charge-sheet ought to have been given to the workmen concerned and a copy of the order passed by the Manager also should have been supplied to them. I have already noted above the view of the Hon'ble Supreme Court on the necessity or otherwise of a charge-sheet to be given to an absentee workman. In conformity with the directions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, I consider that no such charge-sheet was necessary to be issued to the applicants workmen in the present case. As to the supply of a copy of the order, it appears that no such copy was supplied to any of the workmen. It has been decided by the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court in the case of Nuddea Mills Co., reported in 64-C.W.N., 106, that failure to comply with the provisions of the Standing Order that a copy of the order awarding punishment passed by the Manager shall be supplied to the workmen concerned does not invalidate the order of discharge. It has been decided that unless clear words have been used to show that it was the intention of the Standing Orders to make such supplying of the copy of the order as the condition precedent to the validity of the order, it is unreasonable to think that such was the intention. There is nothing to show that it was the intention of the Standing Orders, Ext. J, in clause 16 to make such supplying of the copy of the order as the condition precedent to the validity of the order. It is, therefore, held that the failure to supply a copy of the order to the workmen concerned does not invalidate the order of termination of their services.

13. Considering the evidence on record and the facts and circumstances of the case, it is held that the termination of services of the workmen applicants, Shri Bidhu Bhushan Chowdhury in case No. 90 of 1957, Shri Suresh Sil in case No. 88 of 1957, Shri Subir Bose in case No. 107 of 1957 and Shri Haradhan Banerjee in case No. 108 of 1957 by the Company in December 1956 and January 1957, was justified, and that the workmen applicants are not entitled to any relief in these cases.

14. This point is accordingly answered.

Dunlop Rubber Co. (India) Ltd., P.O. Sahagunj, district Hooghly, and their workmen represented by the Dunlop Workers' Union, P.O. Sahagunj, district Hooghly, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-L.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

1. What should be the rate of wages of the workmen of the Dual Auto Mill Section of Messrs. Dunlop Rubber Co., as represented by Dunlop Workers' Union. What should be the date of giving effect to this new rate.

The reference was received by this tribunal on 17th November 1958. Notices were served upon the parties. The Union, namely, Dunlop Workers' Union representing the workmen of Messrs. Dunlop Rubber Co. (India) Ltd., filed its written statement on 12th January 1959. The Company, namely, Dunlop Rubber Co. (India) Ltd., filed its written statement on 17th March 1959. The date of hearing was fixed on 4th November 1959. On 17th November 1959 the Union prayed for production of certain documents by the Company for inspection by the Union. The parties were heard on 30th November 1959 and the Company was directed to produce certain documents before 21st December 1959 for inspection by the Union. After adjournments the case was fixed on 24th February 1960 for hearing. On that date negotiations for settlement took place between the parties before the tribunal and at the suggestion of the tribunal the case was adjourned to 2nd March 1960 for settlement, if possible. On 2nd March 1960 the parties agreed to settle the matter in dispute on the Company having agreed to pay an additional increase of 0.18 nP. for an output of 17 batches in an 8-hour shift giving a total additional earning of 1.08 nP. per week and the parties were directed to file a joint petition of settlement on 3rd March 1960. On that date the parties filed a joint petition praying for time which was granted till 7th March 1960 for filing the petition of compromise.

On 7th March 1960 the parties filed a joint petition for settlement embodying terms of compromise in modification of the terms agreed on 2nd March 1960, at the suggestion of this tribunal. The agreed terms are that the workmen of the Dual Auto Mill Section shall receive with effect from 1st March 1960 an additional increase of their wages at the rate of 0.21 nP. (twenty-one naye paise) for an output of 17 batches in an eight-hour shift giving a total additional earning of Rs. 1.26 nP. (rupee one and twenty-six naye paise) per week. On these terms the matter in dispute has been settled between the parties as embodied in the petition of compromise filed by the parties on 7th March 1960.

the terms of this agreement the workmen of the Dual Auto Mill Section shall receive with effect from 1st March 1960 an additional increase of their existing wages at the rate of 0.21 nP. for an output of 17 batches in an 8-hour shift giving a total additional earning of Rs. 1.26 nP. per week. I, therefore, give effect to these terms of compromise and pass my award in terms thereof as prayed for by the parties. The petition of compromise shall form a part of the award.

These twenty applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act have been filed by the Manjhis and Dandees of boats against their employers, the owners of the boats. All the petitioners are represented by the Calcutta Boatmen Union.

In cases Nos. 19/59, 28/59, 29/59, 31/59, 33/59, 36/59, 37/59 and 38/59, the complainants claim arrears of wages at the rate of Rs. 339 per month. In cases Nos. 21/59, 22/59, 23/59, 24/59, they claim arrears of wages at the rate of Rs. 241 per month. In the rest of the cases the arrears of the wages are claimed at the rate of Rs. 290 per month. The arrears of wages have been claimed as due from the month of December 1957 to January 1959 in cases Nos. 19/59, 20/59, 21/59, 22/59, 23/59, 24/59, 25/59, 26/59, 27/59, 28/59, 29/59, 30/59, 32/59, 33/59, 34/59, 35/59, 36/59, 37/59 and 38/59. In case No. 31/59, the claim is from January 1958 to January 1959. A common case as made out in these applications is that the applicants in each case comprising of one manjhi and some Dandees (number of Dandees being five in some cases, four in some cases and three in some cases), are the employees of the Opposite Parties and they used to receive wages in two instalments—First instalment being payable on the 20th of each calendar month and the next instalment on the 10th of the next following month. Such wages had been paid irrespective of any work given to November 1957, in case No. 22/59—from 22nd November 1957, in case No. 35/59—from 6th December 1957, in case No. 37/59—from 2nd December 1957). It is also alleged in all the cases that the employers served notices, dated 25th January 1958 or 3rd February 1958 purporting to be charge-sheeted against the Manjhis of the boat concerned wherein the Manjhis, i.e., the petitioners No. 1 of each case is charged falsely inter alia with keeping the boat idle, tied down in Calcutta Jetty No. 6. The Manjhis, petitioners, who were then charge-sheeted on 25th January 1958, duly replied to the charges on 1st February 1958 denying the allegations in writing. In cases Nos. 28/59, 32/59, 33/59, wherein the charge-sheets in similar terms were given on 3rd February 1958, the replies were given by the Manjhis, petitioners, concerned on 7th February 1958. In cases Nos. 19/59, 20/59, 23/59, 25/59, 28/59, 29/59, 30/59, 36/59 and 38/59, the employers served notices on the petitioner No. 1 of each case to appear at the office of the employers on specific dates in the month of February 1958, for the purpose of enquiry with regard to the charges as per charge-sheets. The petitioners duly went to the office at the appointed time but strangely enough no enquiry was made and a certain Bengali gentleman present there asked them to sign some documents which had been prepared behind their back, and to that they refused. After that the Manjhis received letters from the employers on the dates specified in the several petitions in the month of March 1958, to report to office to receive order for carrying cargoes. Then the Manjhis received orders from the employers on 16th June 1958 in cases Nos. 19/59, 20/59, 23/59, 25/59, 28/59, 29/59 and 38/59 and on 22nd April 1958 in cases Nos. 21/59, 22/59, 24/59, 27/59, 30/59, 31/59, 32/59, 33/59, 34/59, 35/59, 36/59 and 37/59, to take the boats to Ghusuri Chara with immediate effect, and they complied with the said direction. Then the Manjhis received orders on 30th April 1958 in those cases wherein the orders for taking the boats had been sent on 22nd April 1958, and the boats were laid up. From that time the Manjhis had been offered Rs. 50 each per month as laid off wages. Similar orders were received on 21st June 1958 by the Manjhis who received the orders for taking the boats to Ghusuri Chara on 16th June 1958 by the employers. Since then the boat had remained idle. Hence the complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, Non-payment of wages at the stipulated rates, and keeping the boats laid up at Ghusuri Chara, and offering payment simply to the Manjhis at the rate of Rs. 50 per month are alleged to be alterations of the conditions of service, in regard to the matter connected with the dispute. Alterations of such nature, in the conditions of service, effected by the employer, during the pendency of the proceedings, to the prejudice of the workmen, without written permission taken before hand by the employer, gave rise to the complaints for which an adjudication is called for.

by the Tribunal that the employer must pay wages to the Manjhis and the Dandees at the rates mentioned in paragraph 5(a) of each of the petition.

The employers, i.e., the Opposite Party, in their written objection challenged the maintainability of the applications. It is contended that the applications do not disclose any contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is further contended that the self-same point in the matter of non-payment of wages had been pressed by the Union on behalf of the petitioners in its application for an interim relief which was rejected by the Tribunal. So the applicants are not entitled to raise the self-same point over again. The Opposite Party employers also challenged the merits and correctness of the allegations made in the petitions of complaint.

Before I enter into the merits of these cases, it is necessary to trace out the history of the development of the dispute between the parties. The Union submitted a letter including a charter of demands to the employers on 10th October 1957 [vide Ext. Z(57)]. That letter also contained allegations of unfair labour practice, unlawful deduction of wages, failure to employ proper number of crew in the boats, inadequacy in wages, etc. The Conciliation Officer, Shri S. N. Roy, sent a letter, dated 26th December 1957, to Messrs. Mithailal Harilal Shaw asking them to maintain the status quo during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings. In the Annexure to that letter a list of twenty workmen alleged to have been dismissed in November 1957 [vide Ext. Z(67)] was given. The employers gave a reply to that letter on 1st January 1958 [Ext. Z(68)], denying therein the relationship of master and servant between the Company and the Dandees who were described as being employees of the Manjhis who stood in the position of independent contractors. It was further contended that the boats with which were concerned five Manjhis as mentioned in Ext. Z(67) had been laid off according to the custom and practice, and that these Manjhis along with others wanted to seize the boats and took forcible possession of the boat Brand No. A 5451 and in consequence thereof they resorted in rioting and assaulting for which a criminal case had been started. It may be mentioned that the employers even prior to that gave a reply to the charter of demands on 1st November 1957 [Ext. Z(66)] alleging therein that the Manjhis in fact occupied the position of contractors in relation and they received a lump sum per month according to the size and capacity of the boat, and that actually they (Manjhis) employed the necessary compliment of Dandees according to the rules of the Port Commissioners. Be that as it is, presumably, when the conciliation proceedings failed to yield any fruitful result, the Government of West Bengal as per order No. 582-I.R., dated 14th February 1958, referred the dispute to the Tribunal. The dispute related to seven specified issues. The Union submitted its written statement on 19th April 1958 [Ext. Z(59)]. It was alleged in the written statement that Bindheswari Shah owned 46 boats and two steamers of various sizes in his own name as well as in the names of certain members of his family, and that he was actually carrying on the boat business in the benami of his sons, namely, Mithailal Harilal Shah, Harilal Jaiswal, his daughter, namely, Sm. Ful-kumari, his daughters-in-law, namely, Sm. Jasoda and Sm. Chandra, his grandson, namely, Prokas. It may be mentioned in this connection that in the charter of demands, Ext. Z(57), the Union claimed a scale of pay for the Manjhis at Rs. 50-80, and for the Dandies at Rs. 36-76.

The employers submitted their written statement on 5th June 1958. After that the Government of West Bengal, by order No. 2708-I.R., dated 1st July 1958, added one more issue, viz., issue No. 8, which related to the dispute regarding non-payment of wages to the workmen as given in the attached statement. Obviously, there arose a question of submitting further written statements on account of the newly added issue. The Union submitted the additional written statement on 29th July 1958. In that written statement at paragraph 2(vii) it was stated that the employers stopped all on a sudden payment of wages which was payable on the 20th October 1957. In paragraph 2(xxix) of the said written statement, the Union claimed arrears in wages as mentioned in the schedule annexed thereto and marked with the letter "A". The employers submitted objections to this written statement filed by the Union on 9th August 1958. The additional issue, i.e., issue No. 8, as framed under the order of reference, on the question of non-payment of wages described in the statement annexed the names of Manjhis and Dandees of 27 boats. The issue relates to wages due from the month of November or December or January, in favour of the Manjhis and Dandees in the respective boats considered separately.

The Union thereafter filed a petition on 14th August 1958 praying for an interim relief in the shape of an interim award claiming arrears in wages amounting to Rs. 53,997 as per Annexure "A" to the Union's written statement filed on 29th August 1958. In that petition, at paragraph 4, it was alleged that when the employees had approached the employers for payment of wages on 10th August 1958, they were refused such payment and were asked to receive Rs. 50 only in full and final settlement of their claim. The employers contested this petition for interim relief. Shri M. N. Gan, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal, rejected the prayer for interim relief as it was found prima facie that the payment of arrears of wages had no connection with any industrial dispute or with that referred to the Tribunal. It may be mentioned in this connection that the claim for arrears of wages had been made in respect of the Manjhis and the Dandees of 29 boats including the Manjhis and the Dandees of the present 20 complaint cases, except for cases Nos. 26/59 and 33/59. The claim for arrears of wages from November 1957 to June 1958, had been made in respect of case No. 30/59, and from January 1958 to June 1958, in respect of case Nos. 20 and 31, and from December 1957 to June 1958 in respect of other 15 cases. Thereafter from 14th September 1958 onward as many as 11 applications were filed by the Manjhis and the Dandees of the respective boats alleging therein that the employers had violated the condition of service in not making payment of wages every month in two instalments, and that they altered the conditions of service by insisting upon acceptance of payment of wages at the rate of Rs. 50 only per month with effect from the dates the boats had been taken to Ghusari Chara under the direction of the employers. These eleven complaint cases, registered under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, were heard together and the learned judge in a single award covering all these eleven complaint cases dismissed the same and held that the petitions of complaints were not maintainable. That award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary," dated 30th April 1959.

The applicants examined all the Manjhis of all the boats. Besides they examined three Dandeos P.W. 7, Sk. Jalil, a Dandee in case No. 32/59, P.W. 8, Ibrahim Dandee, a Dandee in case No. 36/59, and P.W. 9, Muslim who appears to be a Dandee in case No. 25/59. The Secretary of the Union P.W. 21, Wajid Hossain, also deposed from the side of the Opposite Party only one witness Shri Kalidas Bhattacharjee, who claims to be the Manager of the Opposite Parties, Mithailal Hirakal Shaw, Hindusthan Boating Service, and Bindeswari Shah had been examined. Besides, a large number of documents including the charge-sheets, the reply thereto, the letter intimating that the boats be taken to Ghusari Chara, etc., are produced. Before entering into the merits of the allegations it is necessary to determine how far the objections taken by the employers challenging the maintainability of these applications under the law is tenable.

Apparently, it is only if it be found that there was a contravention of section 33 of the Act, then the Tribunal would adjudicate upon the dispute, as comes out from the grievance of such contravention, treating the matter of grievance as an industrial dispute. The Tribunal must then give such relief, as in the case of a dispute referred to the same by the Government. The aggrieved party need not depend upon the decision of the Government, for making reference to the Tribunal for adjudication. So the provision in section 33A gives an independent right to the workmen concerned in a pending adjudication proceeding, to get a relief, from the Tribunal, in seisin, to adjudicate upon the dispute, and give an all comprehensive award, to redress the grievance of the workmen. Here the grievance of the workmen arises from non-payment of their wages by the employers. Such stoppage of payment in wages however arose prior to the orders of reference made on 14th February 1958 and 1st July 1958, and as such is a continuing grievance. The learned lawyer for the employers thus urged that there could be no infringement of section 33 of the Industrial Dispute Act, when the alleged grievance, as stated by the applicants, arose prior to the order of reference. Besides it is also urged that non-payment of wages is neither an alteration in the conditions of service nor does it amount to a punishment. Obviously, the question as to justification or otherwise of the grievance arising from non-payment of wages would call for decision, within the scope of these complaint cases, provided, it be established that such non-payments amount to a contravention of section 33 of the Act. The Patna High Court in the case reported in 1958, I, L.L.J. p. 84 [National Coal Co. and Dave (L.P.) and another] held that non-payment of wages is neither an alteration in the condition of service or does it amounts to a punishment, and that such a case comes to be dealt with under the provisions of the Payment of Wages Act. A similar view had been taken in the case between Shama Biscuit Co. Ltd. and their workmen, a short decision reported in 1952, II, L.L.J. p. 343. In the case reported in 1958, I, L.L.J. p. 625 [Sreedharan (N) and 7 others and K. Kesavan & Sons Saw Mills], the Tribunal of Trivandrum held that reduction in the rates of wages paid to piece-rated workmen during the pendency of the case was violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The facts and circumstances of the present case are different from that case. Here, there was no alteration in the rates of wages. It is clearly a case of non-payment of wages, and the relief sought for, is in the shape of recovery of arrears in wages. Besides, in order to attract the provisions of section 33, it has got to be shown that the alteration of the conditions of service was in regard to any matter connected with the dispute. The orders of reference cover eight issues of whom Issue No. 1 is regarding fixation of wages and grades. The other issues are very clearly not in any way connected with the grievances made out. The Union in the written statement contended in paragraph 6 of the same that there was no grades or scales and the wages as paid to the boatmen are very poor. It is, however, admitted by the Dandeos that they receive payments of wages not from the boat owner but from the respective Manjhi. P.W. 3, Janab Ali, the Manjhi, in case No. 27/59, stated that the monthly wage of the Manjhis and the Dandeos is Rs. 241 per month and that he pays the Dandeos. There is no doubt that so far as payment of wages is concerned, the Manjhis only received the money from the employers and the Dandeos in their turn got payments from the Manjhis. It seems that the employer paid wages to Manjhis covering the remunerations of the Dandeos. Now, let me consider how the payments had been made to the Manjhis.

The employer produced vouchers showing payment of wages to the Manjhis. These are marked Exts. V to V(26) in case No. 19/59, R to R(4) in case No. 20/59, Exts. Z(89) to Z(106) in case No. 21/59, Exts. N to N(4) in case No. 22/59, Ext. G in case No. 23/59, Exts. Z to Z(22) in case No. 25/59, Exts. Q to Q(31) in case No. 26/59, Ext. D to Ext. D(8) in case No. 27/58, Exts. T to T(4) in case No. 30/59, Ext. J and Ext. K in case No. 31/59, Ext. R to Ext. R(4) in case No. 32/59. Besides, the Manjhis admitted their signatures in the books of accounts, showing payment of wages which are marked as exhibits. The payments by these vouchers were made at different dates and I do not find any system regarding the dates of payment and any regularity in the same. The case as to payment on two distinct dates is not proved. In fact, under Issue No. 1, in the order of reference, wages of the boatmen are to be fixed. There is nothing to show that the wages for Manjhis and Dandeos had been split up at the instance of the boat owner. So when the wage rates of the workmen is not fixed, stoppage of payment cannot be taken as alterations in the wage structure at all. The word "alter" means making a change. That ordinarily is connected with the idea of substituting a new thing for an existing

one. The total stoppage in payment of wages is, in my opinion, not an alteration in wage rates but something else, though it might give rise to a greater grievance. Section 33 of the Act is designed to ensure maintenance of status quo with respect to matters connected with the dispute and I do not think that non-payment of wages falls within it. The Union claimed a scale of pay for the Manjhis starting on Rs. 50 and that for the Dandeas starting on Rs. 36 per month. It is, however, curious to note that the Manjhis stated in their depositions that they get wages as Rs. 109 in some cases (where the total wages is Rs. 339) and Rs. 100 in some cases (where total wages is Rs. 290) and that the Dandeas get Rs. 46 or Rs. 47-8-0. Naturally a scale of wages with a start at a lesser amount could not be made if already they were getting more.

Besides the grievances arising from the non-payment of wages is already an issue in the main reference case and there can arise no question of taking up that grievance in the scope of these cases, under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

I thus hold that these applications are not maintainable in law. No case as to violation of section 33 could be made out so far the claim for wages arising from non-payment of wages is concerned. It is true the employer levelled a charge against the Manjhis to the effect that the boat had been kept idle and the Manjhis refused to carry out the orders to ply the boat and carry cargoes and that they threatened with violence the boat supervisors and the Manager. The charge-sheets were given to the Manjhis on 25th January 1958, and these are marked as exhibits. The Manjhis as well duly gave reply to the charges in denial of the allegations. It appears that the Manjhis in cases Nos. 24/59, 31/59, 32/59 and 34/59 have been informed in writing on 30th April 1958, that they are let off with warnings and that they would be paid no wages for the period they refused to ply the boat and that the boat would remain laid up as there was no work available. Now, it is well established that warning by itself is not a punishment. There was however a decision taken by the Management not to pay wages for the period the boats remained idle. The question is if act of non-payment of wages amounts to a punishment. The Management examined the Manager, Kalidas Bhattacharjee, on the point. He stated that he gave orders to the Manjhis to ply the boats as per direction but they refused. It is admitted in the petition of complaints in cases Nos. 19/59, 20/59, 23/59, 25/59, 27/59, 28/59, 29/59, 30/59, 32/59, 36/59 and 38/59 that the Management asked the Manjhis to receive orders. The letters sent by the Management to that effect are marked as exhibits. There is nothing however to show that the Manjhis complied with such direction given in March 1959. So, even if the enquiry on the charges were not done properly, it is clear that attempts had been made by the employer to persuade the Manjhis to keep the business going on. I am inclined to hold incidentally that even on merits, the employer was justified in not making payment of wages to the workmen, as they deliberately refrained from doing work. Afterwards the boats are laid up at Ghusari Chara either because the license expired, or for repair of boats or for loss in trade. The employers offered Rs. 50 per month to the Manjhis since the date the boats were laid up. It appears from rule 69 of the Port Rules, Ext. Z, that when the cargo boat is laid up above the Willingdon Bridge, one watchman only shall be there. The contention of the Opposite Party is that when the boats were to remain laid up, and when under the rules, only one watchman to keep watch over the same, is to be retained, a sum of Rs. 50 is only payable to the watchman that is the Manjhi. The Opposite Party proved entries in Wages Register, Exts. Z(138) to Z(145) to show that the Manjhis had been paid at Rs. 50 per month during the laid up period. From the facts and circumstances I hold that when the boats are laid up, the condition of service is such that the Manjhi alone, as the watchman, would get Rs. 50. So, it cannot be said that there was any alteration in the conditions of employment when the Manjhis were offered Rs. 50 when the boats were laid up. The question whether the workmen can claim lay-off compensation under Chapter VA of the Act is not a point to be decided here, as lay-off by itself is not a contravention of section 33.

Hence I find that the applications are not maintainable. These stand rejected.

—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1613-L.R./IR/13L-11/59, dated the 22nd April 1959, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Rupasree Press (Private) Ltd., 9 Anthony Bagan Lane, Calcutta-9, and their workmen represented by West Bengal Press Workers' and Employees' Union, 84/1A Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Rupasree Press (Private) Ltd., 9 Anthony Bagan Lane, Calcutta-9 and their workmen represented by West Bengal Press Workers' and Employees' Union, 84/1A Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII-80/59.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri G. KUMAR, District Judge.

AWARD

By Government order No. 1613-I.R./IR/13L-11/59, dated the 22nd April 1959, a dispute between Messrs. Rupasree Press (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by West Bengal Press Workers' and Employees' Union, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The following issues have been framed by Government:—

- (1) Scales of pay.
- (2) Dearness allowance.
- (3) Leave and holidays.
- (4) Retiring benefits.
- (5) Working hours.

The parties have filed a joint petition of compromise on 4th March 1960 together with an annexure whereby the dispute has been amicably settled. The terms of the compromise appear to be fair and reasonable, and therefore, an award is passed in terms thereof which together with the annexure do form part of the award as schedule 'X'.

The parties have done well by settling the dispute amicably; otherwise, the existence of the Company might have been at stake which would certainly not have been very pleasant to either party.

This is the award.

Dictated and corrected by me.

G. KUMAR, Judge.

Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

In the matter of G.O. No. 1613-I.R./IR/13L-11/59, dated the 22nd April 1959.

The humble joint petition on behalf of the above-named parties most respectfully sheweth:

(a) Grades and scales of pay

It is agreed by the Union that in view of the adverse financial condition of the Company, it is kept open for future.

(b) Dearness allowance

It is agreed by both the parties that out of the composite wage structure of the Company, Rs. 2 will be taken as dearness allowance to keep in line with Omnibus Press Tribunal Award and thereafter Rs. 2 will be added as flat increase in dearness allowance to all categories, i.e., the dearness allowance will come to a total of Rs. 30 to be effected from March 1960.

(c) Leave and holidays

It is agreed that the Company shall observe the provisions of the Press Tribunal Award of 1948 ("Calcutta Gazette", page 33, Major Tribunal's Award, 1948).

(d) Retiring gratuity

It is agreed by the Union that the issue shall be kept open for future as the Company is not in a position to shoulder the additional financial burden at present in view of the adverse financial position of the Company.

(e) Working hours

It is agreed that the Company shall reduce one hour from the existing system of working hours on each Saturday, which will bring the working hours in line with the Tribunal Award of 1948.

2. It is agreed by both the parties that the existing employees will get wages as per annexure. If in future any increment is granted the employees will be entitled to the next higher stage. This will be effective from March 1960.

That total emoluments (wages and dearness allowance) each employee will get is shown in annexure to this petition.

3. Although overtime does not form part of the subject matters for adjudication, it is mutually agreed that the rates of overtime shall be governed by the provisions of the Factories Act, 1948.

This settles all disputes regarding the issues under reference.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour by order No. 4928-I.R./IR/7L-16/57, dated 14th December 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Fort William Jute Co., Ltd., Sibpore, Howrah, and their four workmen represented by Fort William Jute Mills Employees' Union, 12 Raj Narayan Roy Choudhury Ghat Road, Sibpore, Howrah, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication;

Schedule

Is the dismissal of the following workmen justified? To what relief including reinstatement and/or compensation are they entitled?

- (1) Shri Pulin Behari Nath.
- (2) Shri Panchanan Dawn.
- (3) Shri Nirmalendu Patra.
- (4) Shri Sisir Kumar Ghosh.

AWARD

This is a dispute arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of 4 workmen, namely, (1) Shri Pulin Behari Nath, (2) Shri Panchanan Dawn, (3) Shri Nirmalendu Patra and (4) Shri Sisir Kumar Ghosh previously employed in Messrs. Fort William Jute Co., Ltd., Sibpore, Howrah, hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

Decision

Besides the point referred to for determination by this Court, the learned Advocate for the Company contended that this is an individual dispute. So this point is taken up first. His contention is that this is an individual dispute, and the reference is incompetent as the dispute is described in the order of reference as one between Messrs. Fort William Jute Co., Ltd., and their 4 workmen named therein represented by Fort William Jute Mills Employees' Union. I think, there is no substance in this contention as the Union of the employees of the Company of which the concerned workmen are members has espoused their cause. If any authority be needed, reference may be made to the case law of Express Newspapers (Private) Ltd., reported in 1959 L.L.J. Vol. 1, pages 600-604. In this illuminating judgment, the requirements of an industrial dispute have been fully discussed and some previous decisions on the point were also reviewed, and it is laid down, inter alia, that the real test appears to be as to whether the majority or a large portion of the workmen employed in the particular industry are concerned in the dispute or not. Where the Union is of the workmen employed in that particular industry, it may be presumed that when the Union takes up the cause of an individual workman it signifies a concerted action on the part of the workmen who are members of that Union. If the employer Company alleges that the Union does not represent the views of the majority of the workmen or a large portion thereof, then in the first instance, it would be for him to prove the same. In the instant case, the Company has not adduced any evidence to rebut the presumption that the Union backs up the aggrieved workmen concerned. Thus I hold that the instant dispute is an industrial dispute, and the reference is competent.

At the very outset, it needs be stated that the case of Shri Sisir Kumar Ghosh was not pressed by the Union during trial. Shri Nirmalendu Patra was employed as Head Clerk in the Weaving Section, Shri Pulin Behari Nath as Head Clerk in the Finishing Department and Panchanan Dawn as Assistant Finishing Clerk. All of them had put in long years of service in this Company. The whole dispute hinges on the dates of death of Company's two workers—Sheo Pujan and Barsati. The Company's case is that Sheo Pujan expired on 20th April 1956, but his wages were drawn up to 21st April 1956, and for the bungling of all necessary papers and drawal of excess wages for a day Shri Nirmalendu Patra, one of the workmen concerned, was charge-sheeted and ultimately dismissed. Regarding the other two workmen concerned Shri Pulin Behari Nath and Shri Panchanan Dawn who were charged with similar misconduct as regards the death of another workman Barsati, the Company's case is that Barsati died on 29th February 1956, but his wages were drawn up to 3rd March 1956, and that all records of the Company were accordingly manipulated and excess drawals on the score of his wages were made and the amount thus drawn was misappropriated by those 2 workmen. In both these cases, the Company contends that due enquiries were held wherein the 3 workmen were given reasonable facilities to defend themselves, and that the decisions reached by the Company as a result of enquiries are not vitiated in any way, and as such the Company's decisions dismissing these 3 workmen must stand and cannot be interfered with.

The Union on behalf of these workmen contends that the 2 workmen—Sheo Pujan and Barsati had actually worked on 21st April 1956 and 29th February 1956, respectively, and that the records are all correct and that no enquiries were held, nor were the workmen concerned given reasonable facilities to defend themselves at the enquiries, and that the reports of the Gram Panchayet and the local Police are not admissible in evidence, nor can these be relied upon. The Union also impugns the enquiries on other grounds which will be dealt with in due course.

On a very careful examination of the entire evidence on record—both oral and documentary, and after having heard the arguments advanced on behalf of the parties I conclude, let me say, at the very outset that it would be unsafe to rely on the Gram Panchayet's reports which are inadmissible in evidence as also the Police reports in view of other conflicting evidence on record in fixing up the dates of the death of Sheo Pujan and Barsati as contended for the Company, and thus to hold that these 3 workmen concerned are guilty of excess drawals and misappropriation, and come to a finding that their dismissals are justified. It has been seriously contended before me and that very rightly by the learned Lawyer on behalf of the Union that the enquiry was not properly held by the Company as the Departmental Overseer Shri K. C. Dutt was not examined at the enquiry, nor were Raj Monia, widow of Sheo Pujan, and Ram Chet Ram, son of Barsati, examined there and also because the thumb impressions of Sheo Pujan and Barsati on their Wage Tickets were not verified with their admitted thumb-impressions on their Service Cards (Exts. A and A-1), and because Panchayet reports and Police reports are inadmissible in evidence and could not be tested by cross-examination. So, the charges cannot be held to have been established. Having regards to the non-examination of Shri P. K. Ghosh, Enquiring Officer, and Shri K. Jajoo, Overseer, in this Court and non-production of the proceedings of the enquiries de die in diem coupled with the non-testing of the thumb impressions as said above and also bearing in mind that conflicting dates of death are on record, I feel, it will not be correct to hold that Sheo Pujan died on 20th April 1956 and Barsati died on 29th February 1956. Section 35 of the Evidence Act runs as follows:—

“An entry in any public or other official book, register or record, stating a fact in issue or relevant fact, and made by a public servant in discharge of his official duty, or by any other person in performance of a duty specially enjoined by the law of the country in which such book, register or record is kept, is itself a relevant fact.”

The members of the Gram Panchayets are not enjoined by any law to keep any record or register of dates of death of villagers, and as there was no statutory duty cast upon them to record such dates of death, their reports Ext. N stating that Sheo Pujan died on 20th April 1956 and Ext. H declaring that Barsati died on 29th February 1956 are not admissible in evidence. Exts. N and H are nothing more than letters from Gram Panchayets and these are not certified copies of entries in public registers. If the members of the Panchayet were in the Witness Box their evidence could have been tested in cross-examination. Likewise, police reports Exts. O and I based on reports from Panchayets are also not duly proved. So, the Court cannot act upon them. These Gram Panchayet's reports are, therefore, not admissible in evidence, and this is also confirmed by the letter (Ext. 1) that Gram Panchayets had no authority to issue birth and death certificates. If the Gram Panchayet's reports and the Police reports on which the Company relies are left out of consideration, there is no cogent evidence as to the actual dates of death of Sheo Pujan and Barsati. I think, the best evidence in this case would have been of Raj Monia, widow of Sheo Pujan and Ram Chet Ram, son of Barsati. The Company should have examined them in Court and the Union might have cross-examined them. It may be stated that one of the workmen concerned—Shri Nirmalendu Patra obtained an affidavit (Ext. 3) from Raj Monia, widow of Sheo Pujan, affirming that he expired on 16th June 1956. This places the date of death of Sheo Pujan about 2 months later than 20th April 1956 which is alleged by the Company to be the date of death of Sheo Pujan. The learned Advocate for the Company contends that the Indian Evidence Act is not applicable to enquiries conducted by Tribunals, and reference is made to the case of Union of India vs. Varma reported in 1958 L.L.J. Vol. II, pages 259-264 where it is laid down that the Evidence Act has got no application to enquiries conducted by Tribunals even though they may be judicial in character. The law requires that such Tribunals should observe rules of natural justice in the conduct of the enquiry, and if they do so, their decision is not liable to be impeached on the ground that the procedure followed was not in accordance with that which obtains in a Court of law. Stating it broadly and without intending it to be exhaustive, it may be observed that rules of natural justice require that a party should have the opportunity of adducing all relevant evidence on which he relies, that the evidence of the opponent should be taken in his presence, and that he should be given the opportunity of cross-examining the witness examined by that party, and that no materials should be relied upon against him without his being given an opportunity of explaining them. If those are satisfied, the enquiry is not open to attack on the ground that the procedure laid down in the Evidence Act for taking evidence was not strictly followed. It appears that this case related to a departmental proceeding against Shri Varma, an Assistant Controller in the Commerce Department of the Union Government, on a charge of corruption. Shri Varma replied to the charge and he was directed to state whether he wished to lead oral or documentary evidence in defence. In the enquiry witnesses were examined. The Enquiring Officer found that charges had been made out and notice was given to Varma that he should be dismissed. Shri Varma submitted that the finding of "guilty" was not proper as he had not been permitted to cross-examine the witnesses who opposed against him. The Enquiring Officer held that there was no substance in that contention and he was ordered to be dismissed. Shri Varma then moved the Punjab High Court which held that Shri Varma had been denied an opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses who gave evidence in support of the charge. In the result, Shri Varma was directed to be reinstated. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in appeal held that the respondent had full opportunity of placing his evidence before the Enquiring Officer, and the appeal was allowed.

As this is a judicial proceeding under the Industrial Disputes Act, the above ruling does not help the Company. In such judicial proceedings the Court can act only on evidence legally adduced in conformity with the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act (vide Calcutta High Court case of Urakur Coal Company, Ltd., and Labour Appellate Tribunal of India and others reported in 68 L.L.J. Vol. II, pages 580-584. Having regard to the above case law of the Calcutta High Court, the Court cannot act upon the reports of Panchayets and Police reports which are not duly proved in this case. In the midst of these conflicting reports as to the dates of death of Sheo Pujan and Barsati, the Court is neither in a position to say definitely on which dates Sheo Pujan and Barsati died, nor will the Court be justified in speculating in that direction. A good deal of responsibility for the disbursement of wages attaches to the Departmental Overseer, who checks the wage sheets and issues leave passes to the workman, but curiously enough, this Departmental Overseer has not been examined in Court, nor Jajun's statement (Ext. J) is on record. If they were produced, evidence might have been obtained to how they could verify the presence of Barsati and Sheo Pujan on the dates on which their wages were disbursed to them for the last time, and how leave passes, pay-sheets and vouchers were prepared and how the Accountant checked them. As the non-production of the Departmental Overseer, Accountant and the Enquiring Officer

Shri P. K. Ghosh before this Court seems to be significant.

As regards the enquiry, for the Company it is argued that the workmen did not adduce any evidence at the domestic enquiries, nor did they cross-examine the Company's witnesses, but simply remained satisfied by saying that they would proceed on the statements recorded during the preliminary enquiry. As already stated, the proceedings of enquiry are not produced, and the evidence of Shri P. N. Chakrabarty (C.W. 1) is not convincing enough, as it appeared to me, having regard to his demeanour in the witness box. In the circumstances, I would hold that there was no proper enquiry into the charge-sheets Ext. 2 (against Nirmalendu) and Exts. 2-A and 2-B (against Pulin and Panchanan), and principles of natural justice were violated as no witnesses for the workmen were examined, and there was basic error of facts as the Company proceeded simply on the reports of the Gram Panchayets and letters from the Police which are inadmissible in evidence—not caring to secure the best evidence from Raj Monia and Ram Chet Ram. The Union has further adduced evidence to show that Nirmalendu Patra is a Member of the Union, Pulin Behari Nath its Assistant Secretary previously and Panchanan Dawn, a member of the Executive Committee up to his discharge, and their activities in that direction were obviously not liked by the Company, because the Company's Labour Officer Shri P. N. Chakrabarty (C.W. 1) has stated in his evidence in Court that the Company did not even recognise the Union. In the circumstances, it may be said that the Company did not obviously take in good graces the activities of these workmen, and therefore they were singled out for departmental disciplinary proceedings while some others, i.e., Departmental Overseer, Accountant and the workmen who prepared the wage-sheets and vouchers and also shared the responsibility were not examined. Thus the Company made discrimination in the matter of taking action against workmen and workmen, and this savours of unfair labour practice which also vitiates the result of the domestic enquiries. In this connection, reference may be made to the case of G. C. McKenzie and others reported in 1959 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 285 which lays down as follows:—

"Undoubtedly, the management of a concern has power to direct its own internal administration and discipline; but the power is not unlimited and when a dispute arises, Industrial Tribunals have been given the power to see whether the termination of service of a workman is justified and to give appropriate relief. In cases of dismissal on misconduct, the Tribunal does not, however, act as a Court of appeal and substitute its own judgment for that of the management. It will interfere—

- (i) when there is want of good faith,
- (ii) when there is victimisation or unfair labour practice,
- (iii) when the management has been guilty of a basic error or violation of a principle of natural justice, and

(iv) when on the materials the finding is completely baseless or perverse.

It is for the management to determine what constitutes major misconduct within its standing orders sufficient to merit dismissal of a workman, but in determining such misconduct it must have facts upon which to base its conclusions and it must act in good faith without caprice or discrimination and without motives of vindictiveness, intimidation or resorting to unfair labour practice and there must be no infraction of the accepted rules of natural justice. When the management does have facts from which it can conclude misconduct, its judgment cannot be questioned provided the above-mentioned principles are not violated. But in the absence of these facts or in case of violation of the principles set out above, its position is untenable.

In the absence of any of the vitiating circumstances mentioned above, it would not be open to the Industrial Tribunal (in the instant case by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in appeal) to disbelieve the evidence of a witness examined at the domestic enquiry and come to a different conclusion on merits."

So, the decisions reached at the domestic enquiries stand vitiated because the findings are perverse and because of basic error of facts and for violation of principles of natural justice and for discrimination savouring of victimisation and unfair labour practice. I am, therefore, on all these considerations unable to uphold the decision of the Company reached at the domestic enquiries. It is, therefore, held that the charges against them are not proved. The dismissals of these workmen are, therefore, found unjustified. As regards relief, the normal relief is reinstatement, and I think, in the circumstances of the case I shall not be justified in denying normal relief, and so they must be reinstated and given full wages for the period of their forced unemployment.

The Company is, therefore, directed to reinstate the workmen, viz., Pulin Behari Nath, Panchanan Dawn and Nirmalendu Patra treating their continuity of service as unbroken, within a month of the publication of this award, and pay them all their due wages from the date of their discharge up to the date of their reinstatement within the above period. The workmen must report themselves for duty at Company's Office within the same period.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.)
Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 1645-I.R./IR/81-37/58, dated 23rd April 1959, referred, under sections 7A and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Issue.

Whether the discontinuance of production bonus to the workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, the workmen are entitled?

AWARD.

Decisions

6. Issue No. 1: The Union's case is that Messrs. Bangeswari Cotton Mills Ltd., introduced a Production Bonus Scheme several years ago and the workmen got Production Bonus on the basis of the said Scheme. The Production Bonus was paid from the date of introduction of the scheme till 10th July 1958, and the workmen were enjoying the payment as an existing benefit and as a condition of service. On the publication of the last Cotton Textile Tribunal Award, the Management unjustly and unfairly discontinued the said existing benefit of Production Bonus to the prejudice of the workmen with effect from the 11th July 1958. The discontinuance of the payment of the Production Bonus was made on an erroneous plea that the last Cotton Textile Tribunal Award rejected the claim of Production Bonus. This plea, as taken by the Management, is wholly untenable, in view of the fact that the award has nowhere directed that the payment of Production Bonus should be discontinued. The act of the Management in discontinuing this payment of the Production Bonus has been unjust and mala fide. The workmen, therefore, pray for an award directing the continuance of the Production Bonus to the workmen under the scheme as introduced by the Management with effect from 11th July 1958.

7. The Company, in its written statement, states that the Mill introduced "incentive" scheme of production for the workmen employed only in a particular section, viz., Weaving Shed of the Mill, in order to have higher production and to raise the efficiency level of the Mill, which was very low. The Scheme had undergone many changes from time to time, and the aforesaid "incentive" was discontinued, inasmuch as, the stock had accumulated due to slump and the "incentive" not having produced the desired effect. The Scheme alleged by the workmen as a condition of service. The Scheme was just a management function to stimulate production as and when needed. The question of Production Bonus was raised before the First Industrial Tribunal in the matter of the industrial dispute in the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal, and the Tribunal in its award, published on 10th June 1958, rejected the claim as such. The Mill submits that the question of re-introduction of Production Bonus and relief to the workmen does not arise at all. The Mill acted bona fide and in accordance with the provisions of law. The management function in the discharge of routine duties is not liable to be interfered with by the Tribunal. The issue should be answered in the affirmative holding that the Mill is justified in discontinuing the "incentive" for production.

8. Evidence was adduced on both sides. P.W. 1 Shri Gopal Chandra Dutta, a Weaver in the Bangeswari Cotton Mills, deposed for the Union, and the document, Ext. 1, showing the Production Bonus Scheme of the Weaving Department, was marked as Ext. 1. O.P.W. 1 Shri Kalipada Saha, a Weaving Assistant, deposed for the Company.

9. I shall first deal with the plea of the Company in the written statement that the First Industrial Tribunal in its award on the industrial disputes in the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal, which was published on 10th June 1958, rejected the claim of a Production Bonus. This question has been dealt with at page 2081 of the award. The issue before the Tribunal was for a revision of the existing bonus in the Industry, which was based on the dividends paid to the share-holders. Some of the Unions also claimed Production Bonus and Attendance Bonus, and the Tribunal observed that there was no justification for the claim of Production Bonus or Attendance Bonus, and rejected the claim. The Tribunal rejected the claim of Production Bonus and Attendance Bonus, as made by some of the Unions in the proceeding, and this order did not relate to any existing bonus that was paid by any of the Units in the Industry. There cannot be any plea that the Tribunal discontinued any existing benefit of Production Bonus if that was paid in any Unit of the Industry. It is, therefore, decided that the award of the Second Cotton Textile Tribunal did not touch the Production Bonus, if any, that might be existing in the Bangeswari Cotton Mills and which was a subject-matter of the present dispute.

10. It is proved by P.W. 1 Shri Gopal Chandra Dutta, and admitted by O.P.W. 1 Shri Kalipada Saha, that the Production Bonus in question was introduced in 1947 or 1948, and that the Scheme of this bonus is as shown in Ext. 1, which was filed by P.W. 1. This Scheme shows provision of payment of Incentive Bonus to Line Jobbers and Weavers. It is, therefore, clear that the Production Bonus in question is payable only to the Weavers and the Line Jobbers. It appears from the evidence of P.W. 1 and also O.P.W. 1 that this Production Bonus was paid till 10th of July 1958, and was re-introduced in December 1959, but after this re-introduction in 1959, the Line Jobbers were not paid any bonus. O.P.W. 1 states that the bonus was introduced in 1947-48, and it was stopped in 1952 on account of accumulation of stocks. It was again started in 1953 and was again stopped in 1958 July and re-introduced in December 1959. Since December 1959, only the Weavers are being paid according to the old Scheme, but not the Line Jobbers. The bonus was stopped in 1958 July, as there was an accumulation of stocks and production was not encouraged. In the cross-examination of O.P.W. 1, he was asked by the Court as to whether he was aware of any rule or scheme as to accumulation of stocks in which event the bonus was to be discontinued. The witness replied in the negative. The witness did not bring any paper also to show that there was any accumulation of stock in 1952 and 1958, when the payment was discontinued. It appears from the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that notices were issued by the Company in 1952, as well as in 1958, informing the Weavers and the Line Jobbers that the Production Bonus was to be discontinued for accumulation of stocks, but no such notice was produced in Court. There were no papers to show that the Line Jobbers did not attain the desired efficiency, for which reason, it is stated that the Production Bonus for the Line Jobbers was not restored in 1959. It was claimed in the written statement that payment of Production Bonus was a management function and was not liable to be interfered with by the Tribunal.

11. It has been decided by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Titaghur Paper Mills Co., Ltd., reported in 1959(II) L.L.J., 9, that basically everything connected with the management of an industrial concern is the Management function, except the internal affairs of any Union which may exist. The Act has made no distinction between what may be called exclusive Management function and others. It is also well-settled that the Tribunals under the Act have power to interfere with Management function falling within their purview in the interest of industrial peace, and the Act was enacted with that object. Once the Tribunal has jurisdiction to entertain such an industrial dispute which comes within the terms of section 2(k) of the Act, there is no reason why the power of the Tribunal to take into consideration an incentive wage plan like a Production Bonus Scheme already introduced should be limited merely to the consideration of the question whether the employer's notice is mala fide, etc. Where a Production Bonus Scheme is in force and has become a term of employment, there is no reason why the Tribunal should not have the power to vary its terms if circumstances justify it. Nor can the power of revision be denied to the Tribunal in respect of a scheme actually introduced on the ground that the introduction of such a scheme was an exclusive Management function and therefore it should be immune from being touched at all. Therefore, even assuming that the initiation of a Production Bonus Scheme is an exclusive Management function and the decision with respect to its introduction rests initially with the Management, the right of the Tribunal to take into consideration such an initiated scheme (which has become a term of employment) and to revise it cannot for a moment be doubted under the Act. It is true that the Tribunal will not lightly interfere with a scheme introduced by the Management and accepted by the Union. It is also true that the Tribunal could only make a change in the rates for good and sufficient reasons. There can be no doubt that if Tribunal has jurisdiction under the Act to take into consideration a Production Bonus Scheme which has been introduced and is in operation and in proper cases to revise it, and if necessary change the rates and other conditions on which such bonus is payable. The plea that the payment of Production Bonus is such a Management function as cannot be interfered with by the Tribunal is, therefore, unworthy of support.

12. I have already stated above that the Production Bonus which was in operation from 1947 till 1952, and from 1953 till 1958, 10th July should not be discontinued on account of the operation of the award of the Second Cotton Textile Tribunal from 10th July 1958. The learned spokesman for the Company pointed out that the Production Bonus was discontinued with effect from 11th June 1958, on account of a slump in the Industry which occurred in 1956, and the Company discontinued the payment of Production Bonus on account of the pendency of the Second Cotton Textile Tribunal, which ended on 10th July 1958, i.e., one month after the date of the publication of the award on 10th June 1958 in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary". The Company did not produce any papers to show that on both the occasions in 1952 and 1958, discontinuance of the payment of Production Bonus was effected on account of accumulation of stocks. I would, however, accept this plea in the circumstances of the case, in view of the fact that the stoppage of the bonus in 1952 was not denied and it is the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that on that occasion also it was stopped on account of accumulation of stocks. There is no evidence on record to show as to details of the circumstances surrounding the accumulation of stocks that was considered to be a sufficient reason for the Company to discontinue the payment of this bonus. O.P.W. 1 also could not answer as to the rule or scheme showing the extent of accumulation of stock that was to justify the stoppage of the bonus. The learned spokesman for the Company stated that it was not possible for the Company to carry on its business if there was an accumulation of stocks to the extent of more than two months' production. I understand from the learned Advocate for the Union that 70 per cent. of the Weavers used to get the bonus.

13. Considering the evidence on record and the circumstances of the case, it appears to me that the Company has failed to justify that the discontinuance of the Production Bonus from 11th

July 1958, till November 1959, was on account of unfavourable accumulation of stocks for the entire period. The fact that Incentive Bonus for the Line Jobbers was not restored, shows that the Company did not restore the bonus to the full extent even when, according to it, there was no difficulty in regard to accumulated stocks. The Company has not adduced any evidence on the point in assertion of the claim that the introduction or the discontinuance of the Production Bonus was a routine Management function depending on its discretion, and beyond the jurisdiction of the Tribunal. In these circumstances, it is awarded that the workmen should be given a token amount for the period of discontinuance of the bonus and a rule as to the extent of accumulation justifying stoppage of bonus should also be framed. It is, therefore, awarded that the Weavers and the Line Jobbers of the Company do get Rs. 2 per head by way of Production Bonus for the period of its discontinuance in question. It is also awarded that the Production Bonus shall be discontinued when there is an accumulation of unsold stocks to the extent of two months' production or more. The Line Jobbers should also be given the bonus according to the existing scheme of the Company, shown in Ext. 1, which appears as Appendix A to this Award.

14. This issue is accordingly answered.

Provided that, if a municipal officer or servant has applied in writing for earned leave due to him preparatory to retirement and has on account of the exigencies of the municipal service been denied that leave in whole or in part by the authority empowered to grant it, the said authority may grant to the municipal officer or servant the whole or any portion of the earned leave so denied, even though it extends to a date beyond the date on which shall officer or servant must compulsorily retire:

Provided further that a municipal officer or servant whose service has been extended in the interest of the municipal service beyond the date of his compulsory retirement may similarly be granted either within the period of extension or, if the conditions of the preceding proviso are satisfied, after its expiry, any earned leave which could have been granted to him under the preceding proviso had he retired on that date and in addition any earned leave due in respect of such extension not exceeding the limit of 90 days in all prescribed in rule 6.

5. Subject to the provisions of rules 2 and 4, a municipal officer or servant may at any time be granted the whole or any part of the earned leave due to him.

(2) No earned leave is admissible to a municipal officer or servant in inferior service not in permanent employ.

Note 1.—In calculating "earned leave" under rule 6, rule 7 and rule 8 the actual number of days of duty performed should first be counted and then multiplied by 1/11th or 1/22nd as the case may be, and the product expressed in days (and a fraction of a day).

9. (a) A leave account shall be maintained for each municipal officer and servant in terms of leave on average pay.

(b) In the leave account of a municipal officer or servant shall be credited the leave earned by him under rules 6, 7 and 8 of these rules.

10. A municipal officer or servant not in permanent employ appointed without interruption of duty substantively to a permanent post shall be credited with earned leave which would have been admissible if his previous duty had been duty as a municipal officer or servant in permanent employ diminished by any earned leave already taken. Leave is not an interruption of duty for the purpose of this rule.

11. When the day immediately preceding the day on which a municipal officer or servant's leave begins or immediately following the day on which his leave expires is a holiday or one of a series of holidays, the municipal employee may leave his station at the close of the day before or return to it on the day following such holiday or series of holidays.

12. Unless the authority sanctioning the leave in any case otherwise directs—

(i) if holidays are prefixed to leave, the leave and any consequent rearrangement of pay and allowances take effect from the first day after the holidays; and

(ii) if holidays are affixed to leave, the leave is treated as having terminated on, and any consequent rearrangement of pay and allowances take effect from the day on which the leave would have ended if holidays had not been affixed.

13. Leave on private affairs may be granted only to a permanent municipal officer or servant in superior service for twelve months in all, and on any one occasion for not more than three months.

14. (1) Leave on medical certificate not exceeding twelve months in all during his service may be granted to a permanent Municipal officer or servant:

Provided that, when the maximum period of twelve months is exhausted, further leave on medical certificate not exceeding six months in all may be granted in exceptional cases.

(2) Leave on medical certificate may be granted to a municipal officer or servant not in permanent employ, when he is in superior service, up to one-thirtieth of the period spent on duty minus the amount of any such leave that may already have been taken by him.

(3) Leave admissible under sub-rules (1) and (2) shall be granted only on production of a medical certificate from such medical authority as the municipal commissioners may, by general or special order, direct and for a period not exceeding that recommended by the medical authority.

(4) In the case of a municipal officer or servant in superior service not in permanent employ who is subsequently appointed to a permanent post, the leave admissible under sub-rule (1) in respect of his permanent service shall be reduced by such leave as may already have been enjoyed by him under sub-rule (2) during his previous temporary service.

15. (1) Extraordinary leave may be granted to any municipal officer or servant in special circumstances—

(a) when no other leave is admissible, or

(b) when other leave is admissible, but the officer or servant concerned applies in writing for the grant of extraordinary leave.

(2) Except in the case of municipal officer or servant in permanent employ, the duration of extraordinary leave shall not exceed three months on any one occasion.

(3) The authority empowered to grant leave may commute retrospectively periods of absence without leave into extraordinary leave.

16. (1) A municipal officer or servant on earned leave is entitled—

(a) if in permanent employ, to leave salary equal to his average pay or, to his average substantive pay for the 12 complete months, preceding the month in which leave is taken, whichever is greater;

(b) if not in permanent employ, to leave salary equal to his pay on the day before the leave commences.

(2) Municipal officer or servant on leave on private affairs or leave on medical certificate is entitled to leave salary equal to half his average pay or, to half his average substantive pay for the 12 complete months, preceding the month in which leave is taken, whichever is greater, subject in either case to a maximum of Rs. 750.

(3) Municipal officer or servant on extraordinary leave is not entitled to any leave salary.

(4) For the purpose of this rule "substantive" pay means the pay of the permanent post which the officer or servant holds substantively or on which he holds a lien or would hold a lien had the lien not been suspended.

Note.—Average pay will be calculated on the average monthly pay earned during the 36 complete months immediately preceding the month in which the event occurs which necessitates the calculation of average pay.

17. Leave on medical certificate for any period not exceeding a month, may be granted by the Chairman of the municipality concerned.

18. (1) The authority competent to fill her post substantively may grant to a female municipal officer or servant in permanent employ maternity leave, which is not debited against the leave account on full pay at the rate she was drawing at the time of taking leave, for a period which may extend up to the end of three months from the date of its commencement or to the end of six weeks from the date of delivery which is earlier.

(2) Leave of any other kind, as may be due may be granted in continuation of maternity leave, if the request for its grant be supported by a medical certificate.

Note 1.—In the case of a female municipal officer or servant in temporary employ, maternity leave may be granted up to four weeks prior to and four weeks after the date of delivery, provided that she has been in municipal employ for at least nine months immediately preceding the date of delivery.

Note 2.—Maternity leave under this rule may also be granted in cases of miscarriage including abortion subject to the condition that the leave admissible to a temporary female municipal officer or servant does not exceed six weeks in all and the application is supported by a certificate from the authorised medical attendant.

19. Unless otherwise provided in these rules, leave shall be granted by the commissioners of the municipality at a meeting.

20. The Executive Officer or where there is no Executive Officer, the Chairman of the municipality concerned may grant (i) casual leave for a period not exceeding seven days at any one time or fifteen days in twelve months and (ii) earned leave or leave on private affairs or leave on medical certificate for a period not exceeding a month.

21. Quarantine leave may be granted to a municipal officer or servant on the basis of a certificate from a medical officer-in-charge of any Government or municipal hospital or dispensary if his presence in office or duty is considered to be injurious to the health of other municipal officers and servants due to the presence of infectious diseases in his family or household. Such leave may be granted by the Executive Officer or if there is no Executive Officer, by the Chairman of the municipality concerned for a period not exceeding twenty-one days, or, in exceptional circumstances, thirty days. Any leave necessary for quarantine purpose in excess of this period shall be treated as ordinary leave. Quarantine leave may also be granted, when necessary, in continuation of other leave subject to the above maximum. A municipal officer or servant on quarantine leave shall not be treated as absent from duty and his pay shall not be intermitted.

The following diseases only shall be treated as infectious diseases within the meaning of this rule:—

- (1) Small pox,
- (2) Scarlet fever,
- (3) Plague (pneumonic and/or bubonic),
- (4) Typhus,
- (5) Cerebro-spinal meningitis,
- (6) Measles, and
- (7) Mumps.

For persons employed in the preparation or distribution of food, the following additional diseases shall also be treated as infectious:—

- (1) Dysentery,
- (2) Enteric fever (typhoid fever),
- (3) Malta fever, and
- (4) Paratyphoid fever.

22. (a) Special disability leave may be granted by the commissioners at a meeting to a municipal officer or servant who is disabled by injury accidentally incurred in, or in consequence of the due performance of his official duties, or intentionally inflicted in consequence of his official position, or by illness incurred in the performance of any particular duty which has the effect of increasing his liability to illness or injury beyond the ordinary risk attaching to the post he holds subject to the following conditions:—

- (i) that the disability, if due to disease, must be certified by the Chief Medical Officer of the municipality or if there is no such municipal medical officer, by a registered medical practitioner;
- (ii) that the period of leave granted shall be such as is certified by the municipal medical officer or a registered medical practitioner, as the case may be, subject to a maximum of twenty-four months.

(b) Such leave shall not be admissible unless the disability manifested itself within three months of the occurrence to which it is attributed, and the person disabled acted with due promptitude in bringing it to notice of the commissioners of the municipality, provided that if commissioners are satisfied as to the cause of the disability, such leave may be granted in cases where the disability manifested itself more than three months after the occurrence of its cause.

(c) Such leave may be combined with leave of any other kind.

(d) Such leave may be granted more than once if the disability is aggravated or reproduced in similar circumstances at a later date, but not more than twenty-four months of such leave shall be granted in consequence of any one disability.

(e) Leave salary during such leave may be equal—

- (i) for the first four months of any period of such leave, including a period of such leave granted under sub-rule (d) of this rule, to average pay, and
- (ii) for the remaining period of any such leave, to half average pay, or at the option of the municipal officer or servant for a period not exceeding the period of average pay which would otherwise be admissible to him; to average pay:

Provided that in cases where the disability is not due to injury intentionally inflicted in consequence of official position, the commissioners at a meeting may grant such leave on average pay for a period less than four months and may treat part of the absence as covered by other leave.

23. Grant of leave to municipal officers or servants engaged on contract shall be governed as follows:—

(i) Where the contract is for one year or less, earned leave admissible shall be at one-twenty-second of the period spent on duty. Though ranking as earned leave, this may be granted only on medical certificate, and if subsequently it becomes necessary to grant the municipal officer or servant further leave, after the earned leave has been exhausted, leave on medical certificate may be granted to him subject to the condition that the total period of the two kinds of leave does not exceed one-eleventh of the period spent on duty.

If the municipal officer or servant serves in a Vacation Department, earned leave shall not be admissible, but he may be granted, if absolutely necessary, leave on medical certificate to the extent of one-twenty-second of the period spent on duty.

(ii) Where the contract is for more than one year but not more than five years, leave on medical certificate may be allowed in addition to earned leave under sub-rule (1) of rule 8 of these rules subject to a maximum of four months in all during the period of the contract. In addition, extraordinary leave may be granted in special circumstances when no other leave is admissible subject to a total maximum limit of three months in respect of such leave. If the municipal officer or servant serves in a Vacation Department, earned leave will not be admissible.

(iii) Where the contract is for a term longer than five years or an original contract for five years or less is extended so as to make the total period of contract longer than five years, leave admissible to a permanent municipal officer or servant under these rules may be allowed, subject to the restrictions that no leave on private affairs shall be granted and that the leave on medical certificate will be limited to six months in all. In the case of extension of contract to a period longer than five years the municipal officer or servant shall be credited with the earned leave that would have been admissible had the contract been initially one of more than five years, diminished by any earned leave already taken, and leave on medical certificate, if any, already taken shall count against the six months' limit prescribed.

(iv) Where the contract is for an indefinite period, or an original contract for a definite period is extended for an indefinite period, the rules regarding grant of leave to permanent municipal employees except rule 16 shall apply. In the latter case the municipal officers or servant shall be credited with the earned leave that would have been admissible had the contract been initially one for an indefinite period, diminished by any earned leave already taken and leave on medical certificate, if any, already taken, shall count against the limit prescribed in sub-rule (1) of rule 14.

(v) In the case of a municipal officer or servant falling under clauses (ii) to (iv) above, earned leave may be granted after the expiry of the contract only when it has been applied for during the period of the contract and refused owing to the exigencies of the public service. A municipal employee whose services are dispensed with on the ground of ill-health may be permitted to take all earned leave due to him before his service is terminated.

(vi) The leave salary during leave taken under the above clauses will be regulated as follows:—

(a) A municipal officer or servant on earned leave is entitled to leave salary equal to his average pay.

(b) A municipal officer or servant on leave on private affairs or on medical certificate is entitled to leave salary equal to half his average pay subject in either case to a maximum of Rs. 750.

Note.—“Average pay” means here the average monthly pay earned during the twelve complete months preceding the month in which the event occurs which necessitates the calculation of average pay.

(c) A municipal officer or servant on extraordinary leave is not entitled to any leave salary.

(d) A municipal officer or servant initially engaged on contract becomes subject to the leave rules regarding permanent municipal employees on his being taken into permanent employment after the expiry of his contract. In such a case the municipal officer or servant shall be credited with the earned leave that would have been admissible had his previous duty been duty as an officer in permanent employ diminished by any earned leave already taken, and leave on medical certificate if any already taken, shall count against the limit prescribed in rule 14.

24. (a) Earned leave is not admissible to a municipal officer or servant in permanent employ serving in a Vacation Department in respect of duty performed in any year in which he avails himself of the full vacation.

(b) The earned leave admissible to such a municipal officer or servant in respect of any year in which he is prevented from availing himself of the full vacation is such proportion of 15 days' earned leave if he is in inferior service and 30 days' earned leave if he is in superior service, as the number of days of the vacation not taken bears to the full vacation:

Provided that if in any year he is prevented from availing himself of any part of the vacation, earned leave is admissible to him in respect of that year in accordance with the provisions of rule 6 or 7, as the case may be.

(c) Vacation may be taken in combination with or in continuation of any kind of leave under these rules, provided that the total duration of vacation and earned leave taken in conjunction, whether the earned leave is taken in combination with or in continuation of other leave or not, shall not exceed 90 days in the case of a municipal employee governed by rule 6 or 30 days if he is governed by rule 7.

(d) Earned leave is not admissible to a municipal officer or servant serving in a Vacation Department who is not in permanent employ.

By order of the Governor.

1. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be laid on to such holding for domestic purposes shall apply to the Commissioners for the same on the printed Form A to be supplied free of cost at the municipal office. The conditions subject to which a house-connection will be given are set out in the form, and the owner or occupier shall sign the statement undertaking to observe the rules before a house-connection will be given.

2. A fee shall be paid at the rates mentioned hereunder, to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each connection to municipal main supply before any work is commenced, such fee to be in addition to all the other costs and charges imposed under these rules:

	Rs.
For holding with annual valuation up to Rs. 250 ...	150
For holding with annual valuation above Rs. 250 ...	200

In the case of an application for a connection to a holding adjoining a road in which there is no municipal main, the applicant will have to bear the extra cost of providing and laying a service pipe from the nearest municipal main to the boundary of his holding minus such expenses as the Commissioners would normally incur to provide and fix the ferrule in the municipal main and connect the service pipe to it as well as for providing and fixing the stop-cock complete with chamber and the requisite check-pipes. All such service pipes as are laid at the expenses of the applicant shall be vested in the Commissioners from the date on which the connection to the holding is completed.

If the applicant is not willing to incur such expenditure, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to refuse his application until such time as the number of applications for house connections to holdings in that road is sufficient to justify the laying of a branch main therein at the expense of the Commissioners, on which point the decision of the Commissioners shall be final.

3. Each holding shall have a separate connection to the municipal main supply-pipe. On application a holding consisting of two or more houses (excluding out-house) in one compound, may at the discretion of the Commissioners, be split into parts and each part connected separately to the municipal supply-pipe, provided that the sum total of the daily supply in all such parts shall not exceed the quantity of water admissible to the holding under rule 10. All such connections shall, for the purpose of rule 2, be treated as separate connections. Extension from the communication-pipe of one holding to another holding shall not be permitted and combination of holdings for the purpose of these rules shall not be allowed.

4. The connection shall consist of two portions—

(a) the service pipe from the street main to the boundary of holding, including ferrule, stop-cock and check-pipes;

(b) the storage tank (or tanks) with service-pipe connecting to it from the boundary of the holding, also outlet pipes, taps and other accessories as required.

5. The items referred to in clause (a) of rule 4 shall be provided and fixed by and at the expense of the Commissioners, and such pipes and fittings shall remain as their property.

6. The items referred to in clause (b) of rule 4 shall be provided and fixed at the expense of the owner or occupier and shall be maintained by him in good working order. The tank is to be suitably covered and protected and is to be provided with locked lid, ball-valve, stop-valve and overflow pipe. The inlet and outlet pipes shall be so laid that they will be protected from the head of the sun.

7. The owner or occupier shall not permit the service-pipe including the items referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of rule 4 or any part thereof, to be altered, removed or interfered with by any person other than an authorised representative of the Commissioners, who shall be empowered by the Commissioners to alter or adjust the service pipe as may from time to time be necessary for the maintenance of the requisite flow of water. No tapping or branching off of the service pipe shall be allowed except at a level approximately the same as that of the ball-valve.

8. The tank referred to in clause (b) of rule 4 shall be durable and water tight and the cover, overflow-pipe and other accessories shall be so constructed that mosquitoes cannot enter the tank. The ball-valve and the other fittings shall be exact duplicate of standard samples kept in the office of the Baranagore-Kamarhati Joint Water-Supply Committee and approved by them at a meeting. The storage tank or tanks shall be cleaned and sterilized quarterly by the staff of the Commissioners under the supervision of one of their officers and the said officer shall have the power of locking up tank or tanks if he thinks so desirable.

9. Every storage tank shall be fitted with an overflow-pipe, the end of which shall project over the wall of the house and shall be placed in a conspicuous position. Discharge of water from the overflow-pipe means that the ball-valve is failing to function, and the owner or occupier shall notify the Water Works officers every time he finds such discharge occurring, and such officers shall, if necessary, rectify the defect with the help of the staff of and with materials belonging to the Commissioners.

10. Every owner or occupier of any holding, in respect of which a connection has been made under these rules, shall be entitled to supply of water corresponding to the annual valuation of such holding according to the following table:—

Annual valuation of the holdings.		Gallons of water per day to which entitled.

1,201	1,400	350	460
1,401	1,500

For holding with annual valuation above Rs. 1,500 the daily quantity of water (in gallons) will be calculated as follows:—

Holdings with service-pipes—The annual valuation divided by 4.

Holdings with water-closets—The annual valuation divided by 3.

11. If additional water is required over and above the supply of water referred to rule 10, requisition shall be made for the same to the Commissioners in Form C. The requisition shall be for a period of not less than one year, and payment shall be made in advance for the whole year at the rate of one pie per 10 gallons of additional water requisitioned.

When the above conditions have been complied with, the Commissioners shall have the house-connection adjusted so as to enable the additional water to be supplied, the adjustment of the connection and the payment being based on the particulars furnished by the applicant in Form C.

12. In case the owner or occupier having house connection requires for a special occasion or for any other purpose more water than the amount to which he is entitled according to rule 10 or rules 10 and 11 together, as the case may be, or any person having no house-connection requires a temporary supply of water for a special occasion, he may apply to the Commissioners in Form B (obtainable at the municipal office free of charge) for a temporary connection. He shall pay in advance the sum of Rs. 10 per tank, and also shall pay in advance for every week or part of a week during which he retains the temporary connection the following charges:—

	Per day.
	Rs.	as.
(a) For a supply of 200 gallons per day	0	8
(b) For a supply of 300 gallons per day	0	12

(e) For a supply of 750 gallons per day	1	8
(f) For a supply of 900 gallons per day	1	12
(g) For a supply of 1,100 gallons per day	2	0

He shall state in his application the number of days for which the connection is required.

13. On receipt of the application, together with the fees as provided in rule 12, the Commissioners shall forthwith instal within the compound and at a level of two feet above ground a storage tank (or tanks) of 300 gallons capacity with ball-valve and two taps fixed to each tank. They shall connect the same to the street main by a service pipe or pipes, check pipe or pipes and do all other work necessary to commence and maintain the supply.

The Commissioners shall keep in stock a number of tanks, with pipes, fittings etc., for the above purpose.

14. The payment referred to in rule 12 shall be made once a week in advance. In case the owner or occupier fails to make the payment weekly, the Commissioners or their officers may at once stop the temporary supply of water by cutting off the temporary connection and remove the storage tank or tanks, temporary service-pipe, etc., fixed for such connection.

15. Two or more such temporary connections may be taken, if required, on payment of additional costs and weekly charges, as mentioned in rule 12.

16. The Commissioners may cut off the connection between any part of the Water Works and any holding to which water is supplied from such Works, or may turn off such supply, in any of the following cases besides those referred to in sub-section (1) of section 209 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, namely:—

- (a) if the occupier fails to pay his water-rate;
- (b) if the occupier in any way interferes with, damages or alters, the service-pipe; and
- (c) if the occupier refuses to admit any officer duly empowered in that behalf into the holding for the purpose of making any examination or inspection of the service-pipe or storage tank, or prevents such officer from making such examination or inspection:

Provided that twenty-four hours' notice in writing of such examination or inspection may be demanded.

17. The works required under clause (b) of rule 4 shall be carried out by a person or firm employed by owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners. For this purpose the Commissioners shall grant licenses to approved persons or firms, who should preferably have had previous experience in plumbing work.

18. No connection shall be permitted to any holding unless and until the owner or occupier makes effective provision to the satisfaction of the Commissioners for draining away all waste water.

19. The Commissioners will not be responsible for any interruption or diminution of water-supply due to occurrences beyond their control.

AWARD

This is a case arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of as many as 9 workmen as mentioned in the order of reference, previously employed in Messrs. Nundy and Company, 6 G. C. Ghose Road, Calcutta-37 (Head Office 62A Bentinck Street, Calcutta-1), hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

Decision

Besides the point referred to in the order of reference, the learned Advocate for the Company raised two other points, viz., that the reference being a very belated one is incompetent and should be rejected, and secondly that it is an individual dispute. First I take up the contention that the reference should be rejected as a very belated one. It is also urged that the Government did not make a reference about these workmen previously when a reference was made to the Third Industrial Tribunal concerning two other workmen, viz., Shri Ajit Kumar Chatterjee and Shri Harendra Nath Maitra (vide award). In support of this contention, the learned Advocate for the Company has also relied upon the written statement (Ext. C) of the Union in that reference. It is pointed out that the written statement mentions the names of Bishtu Mondal and Akshoy Dutta, two workmen concerned in this dispute who were alleged to have been victimised, but still no reference was made about these two workmen in the prior reference. Simply because Government did not think it fit to refer their case at that stage, Government are not precluded from referring their case at any subsequent stage, if it so thought fit. It may also be pointed out that there is no time-limit prescribed for making references to Court by Government. If any authority be needed, reference may be made to the ruling reported in 1959 L.L.J., vol. II, page 515, wherein it is laid down as follows:—

No rule of limitation has been enacted by Statute and it is therefore open to the workmen to raise a dispute however stale or hoary the claim might have become. But when there is a delay in raising any dispute, an industrial tribunal would be exercising its jurisdiction wisely in taking that circumstances into account, and in appropriate cases refusing relief. That, however, is not a matter of jurisdiction. As the law stands, it is only a matter of discretion.

Government presumably made this reference in the best exercise of its discretion and the Court will not be justified in interfering with it. Thus the reference is held to be competent.

The learned Advocate for the Company has also urged that because of an agreement (Ext. A) purporting to have been entered into on 15th January 1959 wherein the Union undertook that it would not raise any dispute during the next 5 years (vide its paragraph 9), this dispute is barred. This reference appears to have been received in this Court on 13th January 1959, i.e., prior to the date of the agreement on 15th January 1959. But the agreement clearly did not bar any past disputes, and as this is a reference about an old dispute, the reference is not barred. I may also observe in this connection that despite the provisions under the agreement the Union cannot be said to have been estopped thereby from raising any dispute over just causes. Supposing the employer wrongfully dismissed certain workmen without any justifiable reasons, or increased the work-load or reduced wages unjustly, the Union can certainly raise disputes and the provisions in the agreement did not bar any such future disputes as well. To hold otherwise would be placing powers at the hands of the employers which are likely to be abused much to the detriment of the workmen. Thus both these points are answered in favour of the Union.

Next, I take up the justifiability or otherwise of the dismissal of the workmen concerned. At the very outset, I would observe that the cases of Santosh Patra (Sl. No. 3), Arjun Prasad (Sl. No. 5), Sripat Prasad (Sl. No. 8) and Dhananjoy Shaw (Sl. No. 7) were not pressed, and so they may be left out of consideration altogether. It is also reported that Sadhan Chandra Das (Sl. No. 4) is dead. So, the cases of the five aforesaid workmen are out of account altogether. Thus we are concerned only with the cases of Bishtu Mandal (Sl. No. 1), Provash Roy (Sl. No. 2), Akshoy Dutta (Sl. No. 6) and Kuldip Singh (Sl. No. 9). Now I take up their cases one by one.

First, I take up the case of Bishtu Mandal. He was employed in the Company in 1953 as a helper, but he was discharged in 1956. His wages at the time of his recruitment were Rs. 12 per diem which were raised to Rs. 1-10 at the time of his discharge. It is urged for the Union that the Company discharged him without any just reasons and that if his works were not found satisfactory, how the Company enhanced his wages up to that figure at the time of his discharge. The Union, therefore, contends that his discharge is wholly unjustified. The Company served a notice on him (Ext. D) asking him to show cause why his production was less to which he showed cause (vide Annexure I-B to the Union's written statement, Ext. 4). In his reply, he wanted a transfer to his old department and contended that no comparison of his production with that of the older workmen in that department could be justified. No enquiry was held, nor was there anything to show that work was found unsatisfactory. If his work was found unsatisfactory at any time, the Company was at liberty to discharge him on that ground earlier, but the Company never intimated to him that his work was ever found unsatisfactory. Thus his discharge with effect from 21st August 1956 is found unjustified and in contravention of the principles of natural justice. As he is employed in Subodh Industries at present and he does not claim reinstatement, he may be awarded compensation which is assessed at 3 months' wages, i.e., Rs. 150 only as he was admittedly in the Company's service for 4 years approximately, plus notice pay, i.e., Rs. 150 in all. Thus he is granted 3 months' wages all told by way of compensation and notice pay.

Next, I come to Shri Provash Roy. He was employed as a Turner in this Company in 1951 and was discharged on 13th August 1956. He was charge-sheeted on 16th August 1956 (Ext. B) on the allegation that he left after working for a short time without the Company's permission. He denied the charge in his reply (Ext. B-C). He explained that it was not possible for him to work at the automatic grinding machine, and that he did not work at the automatic Brush Machine as he also he did not work previously. So, he was transferred to the Lathe Machine which the Company refused. No enquiry was admittedly held in this case. So, the principles of natural justice were violated in this case and his discharge is found to be unjustified. The Company did not proper consider the case of this workman. Provash Roy has stated in his deposition that he did not seek reinstatement as he is employed in Remington Company where he draws higher wages. Thus he is found entitled to compensation for loss of service and notice pay. As he has put in 5 years service in the Company, the compensation is assessed at his 2½ months' wages. Thus he is found entitled to his 3½ months' wages by way of compensation and notice pay.

Next, I come to Shri Akshay Kumar Dutta. He was employed in this Company as a Packing-man in 1952 and was discharged in November 1956. He was served with two Show Cause Notices (Exts. 7 and 7A), dated 29th October 1956 and 20th October 1956 respectively. The charges are for wrongful confinement of and abusing Aj Kumar Bhattacharjee, Supervisor, on 23rd October 1956 on the way and for leaving his duty post on 19th October 1956 and interfering with other works on 18th October 1956. He denied the charges, vide his letters (Exts. 8 and 8-A). A letter, dated 8th November 1956 (Ext. 9), was served on him intimating the date of enquiry as 12th November 1956, and the enquiry proceedings are marked Ext. Q. The Company, it appears, examined this workman and two other workmen viz., Birendra Nath Das and Purna Chandra Das at the enquiry. There is nothing in the enquiry proceedings to indicate that the workman was asked to examine his own witnesses and to cross-examine the Company's witnesses. Thus no proper enquiry was held. Even a perusal of the statements recorded at the domestic enquiry falls short of proving the charges against the workman. So the order of his dismissal is found unjustified. He is now employed in Subodh Industries and does not want reinstatement. As he was in the Company for 4 years, he is entitled to his 2 months' wages as compensation for loss of service and one month's notice pay as compensation for loss of service.

Next, I take up the case of Kuldip Singh. His case is that he was employed in this Company since 1950/1951 as a Bearer in the Head Office but he was discharged on 29th May 1958 for his refusal to pull a hand driven cart as it was not his normal duty. He further alleges that he was asked to sign a blank paper which he refused and that was also one of the grounds for his discharge. On the other hand, the Company's case is that he was employed as a coolie and that the Company did not dismiss him, but he went home on leave and did not turn up thereafter on the expiry of his leave and did not join though he was asked to do so.

It is further contended for the Company that as he appertaining to the staff of the Head Office is a solitary member of the Union, this is an individual dispute, and the reference is incompetent. This contention is unsound. The Union representing the workman concerned in this case is a Union of this Company's employees (viz., the Nundy Company Employees' Union). Though other employees of the Head Office of the Company are not members of the Union, this does not affect the legal character of the dispute. It is laid down in the case of Express Newspapers (Private) Ltd. reported in 1959 L.L.J., Vol. 1, pages 600-604, that the real test appears to be as to whether the majority or a large portion of the workmen employed in the particular industry are concerned in the dispute or not. Where the Union is of the workmen employed in the particular industry, the presumption is that when the Union takes up the cause of an individual workman it signifies a concerted action on the part of the workmen who are members of that Union. In the instant case, the Union of the particular industry has espoused the cause of this workman, and the Company has not rebutted the presumption to which he is entitled under the law. It is, therefore, held that this is an industrial dispute and the reference about this workman Shri Kuldip Singh is competent.

Now the point is whether the discharge of this workman is justified. It is common ground that no charge-sheet was given to the workman, nor was any enquiry held. For the Company, it is contended that the Chief Inspector of Shops and Establishments in his letter, dated 12th July 1958 (Ext. J), asked Kuldip to rejoin as early as possible. The Company also exhibited letters, Ext. R, dated 1st July 1958, R-1, dated 23rd July 1958 and R-2, dated 12th August 1958—all addressed to the Inspector of Shops and Establishments complaining that Kuldip did not rejoin and that if he did not rejoin within 10 days from 1st July 1958 a new man would be employed in his place. All these letters are written in English, and I doubt if Kuldip could understand the import of all these letters. The Inspector has not been examined in this case. Kuldip states that he approached the Company once before 28th June 1958 and again on 28th June 1958 for work, but was not given any work. In this case, I would rather believe Kuldip that he was not allowed by the Company to rejoin though he reported himself for work. The Company kept up all papers expressing its willingness to take back Kuldip, but actually did not. The Company kept up all papers expressing its willingness to take back Kuldip, but actually did not permit him to rejoin as he alone of the Head Office was a member of the Union. This is the reason why he was sacked. I would, therefore, find that the Company discharged this workman wrongfully and he did not voluntarily give up his job. Such wrongful discharge of a workman cannot be supported. Regarding relief, in the interests of industrial peace and harmony and also having regard to the fact that a substitute has been employed in his place, I do not consider it fit to reinstate him. He must be awarded compensation for loss of service. There is no dispute that he put in about 7 years' service from 1951 to 1958. I would, therefore, award him his 3 months' wages at the rate of Rs. 64 per month, i.e., Rs. 192. Besides this, admittedly his wages for May 1958 are still in arrears as it was remitted to his home address while he was in Calcutta and thus the money order could not be delivered to him. Thus in all he is entitled to get Rs. 192 + Rs. 64 = Rs. 256 only from the Company.

Thus to sum up, it is found that this is an industrial dispute and the reference is competent. The cases of Santosh Patra (Sl. No. 3), Dhananjay Shaw (Sl. No. 7) and Sripat Prasad (Sl. No. 8) are reported to have been settled amicably. Sadhan Das (Sl. No. 4) is dead, and so the reference about him is incompetent, vide the ruling in the case of Malkera Choitudih Colliery and their workmen reported in 1959 L.L.J., Vol. II, pages 471-484. The case of Arjun Prasad (Sl. No. 5) is not pressed.

The discharge of the remaining workmen, viz., Bishtu Mondal (Sl. No. 1), Provash Roy (Sl. No. 2), Akshay Dutta (Sl. No. 6) and Kuldip Singh (Sl. No. 9) is found unjustified. No order for reinstatement is made in these cases, but compensation for loss of service is given in each case. Shri Bishtu Mondal is awarded his three months' wages, i.e., Rs. 150 by way of compensation and notice pay. Shri Provash Roy is awarded his 2½ months' wages as compensation plus notice pay. Akshay Dutta (Sl. No. 6) is awarded his 2 months' wages as compensation plus notice pay. Kuldip Singh (Sl. No. 9) is awarded Rs. 256. The Company is directed to pay the aforesaid amounts to the workmen concerned within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 193-I.R./IR/11L-5/59, dated 16th January 1960, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), an industrial dispute between Messrs. Standard Pharmaceutical Works Ltd., 67 Dr. Suresh Sarkar Road, Calcutta-14 and their workman represented by Standard Pharmaceutical Works Ltd. Workers' Union, 71A Sambhu Babu Lane, Calcutta-14, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the dismissal of the workman Shri M. K. Chatterjee is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

This is a dispute arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of Shri M. K. Chatterjee, previously employed in Messrs. Standard Pharmaceutical Works Ltd., 67 Dr. Suresh Sarkar Road, Calcutta-14, hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

Decision

This case was obtained in this Court on 25th January 1960 and 2nd March 1960 was fixed for appearances of the parties and for written statement by the Union. On 2nd March 1960 none of the parties appeared. So, the case was fixed for 17th March 1960. In the meantime, on 5th March 1960 the parties put in a petition of compromise. It appears from the petition of compromise that the employee concerned settled his dispute with the Company on receipt of all his dues including discharge benefits, ex-gratia payment of bonus and he relinquished his claim for reinstatement. The terms of compromise appear to be fair, reasonable and lawful and may be given effect to. The dispute is thus disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which do form a part of the award.

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri Amulya Chandra Kar and 37 others, workmen of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had altered, to the prejudice of the said workmen conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of the said proceedings;

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by 38 workmen of Messrs. International Tyres and Motors Private Ltd. based on the allegation that the employees had altered to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in the dispute the existing conditions of service when they started paying wages at reduced rate for work done on Saturdays. The opposite party employers filed written objections in due course challenging the maintainability of the complaint in law. They also challenged the merits of the case on question of facts.

The case was fixed for hearing on 19th March 1960 after several adjournments. On that date the workmen as represented by the Union, filed an application for withdrawing the case. Heard both sides. The learned lawyer for the employers did not oppose the prayer. It is just contended that the tribunal must not pass any opinion whether reference of the matter in dispute as an industrial dispute is called for or not. Obviously it is purely a function of the appropriate Government to decide on the point and I have no business to meddle into that affair and so I keep that matter completely outside my duties.

If a party does not want to proceed and withdraws the complaint case, there remains nothing for the tribunal to decide and that brings the case under section 33A to an end. The appropriate orders in such a situation would be that the complaint being withdrawn by the complainants the case stands disposed of and such orders takes the shape of award by this tribunal.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. National Alloy and Metal Works Private Ltd., 17 Nabin Chandra Das Lane, Baranagore, Calcutta-36, and their workmen represented by National Alloy and Metal Mazdoor Union, 16 Ram Krishna Ghosh Road, Calcutta-2. (Case No. VIII-79 of 1959.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, assisted by Shri R. Chatterji, Advocate.

Present for the Union: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharya, M.L.A., President of the Union.

By Government order No. 1608-I.R./IR/11L-7/58, dated 22nd April 1959, the above industrial dispute was referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act to the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication and subsequently by Government order No. 3637-I.R./IR/11L-317/58, dated 30th July 1959, the dispute was withdrawn from the said Tribunal and transferred to this tribunal under section 33B of the Industrial Disputes Act for the purpose of speedy disposal. The case was heard in this tribunal for 3 days and two witnesses were examined for the Union and one for the Company. The hearing was concluded on 1st March 1960.

The employer Messrs. National Alloy and Metal Works (P) Ltd., hereinafter described as the Company, is a small concern manufacturing mainly tin containers and also lamps for the railways. It employs less than 100 workmen. The National Alloy and Metal Mazdoor Union which represents the workmen was registered in October 1958 and on the 1st December 1958 it presented a charter of demands to the Labour Commissioner claiming wages and dearness allowance for the workmen according to the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal. It also preferred demands for casual leave and sick leave, permanency of workmen after six months' service and profit sharing bonus for the year 1958 and certain other demands with which we are not concerned in the present case. The Union further alleged that the Company had dismissed 9 permanent workmen who promoted the formation of the Union on a false plea and subsequently retrenched 33 workmen and demanded their reinstatement. The issues arising out of the said demands which have been referred to this tribunal for adjudication are as follows:—

1. Wages and dearness allowance.
2. Casual leave and sick leave.
3. Permanency of workers.
4. Bonus for 1958.
5. Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?
 - (1) Shri Kartick Chandra Sarkar.
 - (2) Shri Gopal Chandra Bag.
 - (3) Shri Nishikanta Ghosh.
 - (4) Shri Satyen Kumar Das.
 - (5) Shri Ganesh Chandra Jana.
 - (6) Shri Banamali Mondal.
 - (7) Shri Profulla Kumar Das.
 - (8) Shri Ram Samanta.
 - (9) Shri Rabin Das.
6. Whether the retrenchment of the workmen (names given in the Appendix A to this award) is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

The Company in its written statement pleads financial incapacity to pay higher wages and contends that the pay scales fixed by the Third Engineering Tribunal are not applicable to a small industry like this. It also resists the other demands and denies that the nine workmen mentioned in the fifth issue had been dismissed. Its case is that the 9 workmen had voluntarily resigned their appointments by a joint letter of resignation signed by them. With regard to the 33 workmen retrenched it is alleged by the Company that these workmen all belonged to the tin plate section and that the Company was compelled to retrench them for want of raw materials, its quota for tin plates having been reduced by the Government to an insignificant figure in 1958. It is also alleged that the workmen were allowed retrenchment compensation according to the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act and that 26 of them have accepted such payment. With regard to claim for bonus for 1958 the Company's case is that its balance-sheet for the year 1958-59 has not yet been prepared and that as such the claim is premature.

As already stated, this is a very small concern employing less than 100 workmen and it is not an engineering industry of the type for which the Third Major Engineering Tribunal made its award. I do not think therefore that the pay scales of that award can legitimately be applied to this industry. It has not also been shown or alleged that similar industries of this type have adopted the pay scales of that award. Besides, the Company appears to be a losing concern. It was established in 1949 and from the statement, Ext. C, it appears that it made a good profit in 1951-52 and some profit in 1952-53, 1953-54, 1954-55 and 1955-56 and that in other years it sustained losses. Its losses in 1956-57 amounted to Rs. 11,790 and in 1957-58 to Rs. 13,750. This is also clear from the balance-sheets for the last two years which have been produced. From the wage chart filed by the Company it appears that its skilled workers who are 10 in number get daily wages varying from Rs. 2.94 to Rs. 7 daily, equivalent to Rs. 76.44 to Rs. 182 monthly. There are 15 workmen in the semi-skilled category whose wages range from Rs. 2.31 daily, equivalent to Rs. 60.06 monthly to Rs. 2.75 daily, equivalent to Rs. 71.50 monthly. The wages are consolidated and no separate dearness allowance is paid. For a concern of this type and standard the wages paid to the skilled and semi-skilled workers cannot be said to be inadequate.

The wages of the unskilled workers, however, are inadequate since, according to the wage chart, they range from Rs. 1.44 daily (equivalent to Rs. 37.44 monthly) to Rs. 2 daily (equivalent to Rs. 52 monthly), only 8 workmen among 42 getting above Rs. 2 daily and only one getting Rs. 2.25 daily (equivalent to Rs. 58.50 monthly). All these wages are inclusive of dearness allowance. The minimum of Rs. 37.44 is certainly very low and cannot be maintained. It is true that the Company has been sustaining losses, but still it cannot be allowed to pay its workmen such absurdly low minimum. At the same time the financial condition of the Company has to be taken into consideration so that the additional burden that may be thrown upon it in the shape of increase in wages may not prove unbearable resulting in the Company being forced to close its doors and the consequent unemployment of its workmen. Taking everything into consideration, I think that it will be fair and just to both parties to fix the minimum wage of the unskilled workmen at Rs. 52 per month inclusive of dearness allowance. It is necessary to separate the dearness allowance from the wages since consolidated wages are all also being paid by the Company. The said wages will however, be paid at the equivalent daily rate and not monthly. Scales of pay with periodic increments will be altogether inappropriate in concern like this and the Company is not also in a position to bear increasing burden every year. The workmen must wait for better days of the Company for such claim to be advanced. Increments are left to the discretion of the Company. As for the semi-skilled workmen, the existing minimum of Rs. 60 per month in equivalent daily wage should be maintained. For the skilled workmen no direction is necessary because the existing minimum is already above Rs. 75 per month, and they can be left to their own bargaining power. The minimum daily wages of all the existing unskilled workmen who are getting less should be raised to the daily equivalent of Rs. 52 per month i.e., Rs. 2 daily with effect from the date of publication of this award.

It also appears from the wage chart that there are certain boys and apprentices who get minimum daily wages inclusive of dearness allowance varying from Rs. 1.06 to Rs. 1.56 daily. The Union has not made any specific demand for them. Considering that they are boys and only apprentices their minimum wage which appears to be low is raised to Rs. 40 per month inclusive of dearness allowance to be paid at equivalent daily rate. They should also be paid at this rate from the date of publication of the award.

On this issue the Union's claim is that every workman should be granted 7 days' casual leave and 10 days' sick leave on full pay. It is not usual to grant casual leave on full pay to factory workmen who are governed by the Factories Act and therefore the claim for casual leave is rejected. As regards sick leave I direct that sick leave on half-pay for 15 days in a year of service should be allowed to the workmen until the Employees' State Insurance Act comes into operation, as provided in the award of the Second Engineering Tribunal.

Issue No. 3

On this issue the Union's claim is that the workmen should be made permanent after six months' service. The Company's Standing Orders contain the same provision for permanent workmen, a permanent workman being defined therein as a workman who has been engaged on a permanent basis and who has satisfactorily completed a probationary period of six months. The Standing Orders also provide for employment of temporary and casual workmen for work of an essentially temporary or casual nature. But according to the Manager of the Company, actually there are no temporary workmen. He has also stated that the workmen are always made permanent according to the Standing Orders. No case of deviation from this rule has been alleged before me. The existing standing Orders are, therefore, sufficient to meet the demand of the workmen and all that is necessary is a direction that the Standing Orders could be strictly followed.

Issue No. 4

This issue is described as bonus for 1958. The nature of the bonus is not mentioned but from the written statement of the Union it is clear that it is profit-sharing bonus that is wanted because it is described therein as bonus for the year 1958 on the basis of the Full Bench formula. The company's financial year does not correspond to calendar year. It is from April to March. The demand should therefore be construed as a demand for bonus for the financial year 1958-59 ending on 31st March 1959. At the date when the demand was first made, i.e., on 1st December 1958, the financial year had not ended. It was therefore premature demand. The Company's Manager has stated that the balance-sheet for the year 1958-59 is not even yet ready and though the late auditing of the accounts of the Company may be open to criticism, no claim for profit-sharing bonus, according to the Full Bench formula laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal, can be entertained, until the balance-sheet with the profit and loss account for the relevant year is available. The demand in this respect is upon the workmen and that it cannot be discharged until the workmen can make out a case from the audited accounts of the company that there is a net surplus from which bonus can be paid. This demand should therefore be considered to be premature and should be rejected on that ground. It will, however, be open to the Union to raise this demand in proper time after the accounts are audited and the balance-sheet for the year 1958-59 is available.

Issue No. 5

The Company's case, as already stated, is that the 9 workmen named in this issue were not dismissed but that they voluntarily resigned their appointments by a letter jointly signed by all of them. The letter by which they resigned has been produced and marked as Ext. B. Its date is 7th July 1958 and it is written in Bengali. It is a long letter giving elaborate reasons for the resignation. It refers to a previous letter addressed by the workmen to the Chairman of the Works Committee on 2nd June 1958 (Ext. A) demanding an increase of the dearness allowance and complains that it was not considered favourably by the Director Shri Kalipada Das, though he had previously assured the workmen that he would settle their grievances amicably. The signatories of the letter make a grievance of the fact that though on that assurance they had resisted the attempt of outsiders to form a Union of the workmen and persuaded the workmen not to join such a Union, Kali Babu had let them down and stated that the workmen were accusing them of having vetoed the formation of the Union and asking them either to do something or get out of their jobs. They lament that Kali Babu has changed his mind and say that on this ground and also because they failed in their duty to the workmen they had decided to offer resignation of their appointments.

The signatories finally request that the resignations may be accepted within 15 days and that certificates (of good service) and some monetary help may be given to them.

The evidence of the Company's Manager is that this letter was handed over to him by all the 9 signatories on the date mentioned in the letter and that on 14th July 1958 he wrote a letter to the 9 signatories jointly informing them under instructions of Shri Kalipada Das that there would be some delay in convening a meeting of the Board of Directors and that consequently it was not possible to have their resignation letter considered by the Board of Directors within 15 days from the date of that letter and also requesting them to consider whether they could not withdraw the resignation letter. This letter was handed over to Shri Kartik Chandra Sarkar, one of the signatories. Exhibit B(1) is a copy of this letter. Another copy of the letter was sent to the Labour Commissioner with a covering letter of which Ext. B3 is a copy. On 28th October 1958 the signatories were further informed by another letter of which Ext. B2 is a copy that the resignation letter would be put up before a meeting of the Board of Directors on 15th November 1958. This letter was also handed over to the same Kartik Chandra Sarkar on 29th October 1958 and a copy of this letter was sent to the Labour Commissioner on 30th October 1958 with a covering letter of which Ext. B4 is a copy. Exhibit K is a certified copy of the proceedings of the meeting of the Board of Directors held on 15th November 1958. It shows that the resignations of the 9 workmen were accepted with regret with effect from 30th November 1958. This was communicated individually to all the signatories except Kartik Sarkar by registered letters, dated 29th November 1958. Exhibit B5 is a copy of that letter. The original letter addressed to one of the signatories, Ganes Chandra Jana, has been produced by the Union (Ext. 1). Kartik Sarkar's letter was handed over directly to him and an acknowledgment was taken which has been produced (Ext. 11). The acknowledgment of Gopal Chandra Bag shows that he received it on the 3rd December (Ext. 1).

Only one of the signatories, viz., Gopal Chandra Bag, has deposed before me and he has admitted his signature as also the signatures of the other 8 workmen in Ext. B. But his case is that he and the other signatories had signed a blank piece of paper at the instance of Kartik Sarkar who had told them that he would write an application to the Company on that paper requesting the Company to meet their demands and that if they signed the paper they would get their demands. It is also stated by him that this Kartik Sarkar was the head mistry and also Chairman of the Works Committee to whom the workmen's original demand, dated 2nd June 1958 (Ext. A), had been submitted. The Union's case regarding this letter of resignation is that it was a fabricated letter and a device on the part of the Company to get rid of these workmen because they had promoted the formation of the Union and were among the office-bearers thereof and that the Company had purchased Kartik Sarkar and got the letter fabricated through him. It is also stated that Kartik Sarkar is continuing in the service of the Company.

The above case was not, however, specifically stated in the written statement of the Union where it was only stated that these 9 workmen had been dismissed "on the basis of fabricated plea". It does not also appear that any such case was put forward before the Conciliation Officer. The Company had on the other hand sent copies of its letters to the 9 workmen in connection with their resignations to the Labour Commissioner, as already stated and it also wrote to the Conciliation Officer on 8th January 1959 in reply to the Union's demand for their reinstatement that they had voluntarily tendered their resignations which had been accepted (Ext. 41). Only one of the nine signatories has deposed before me and advanced this case for the first time in his deposition. There is no other evidence in support of this case. It is not disputed that the Company had addressed the letter dated 29th November 1958 to each of the signatories intimating that his resignation had been accepted but it is not stated that any of them approached the Manager or any other authority of the Company expressing surprise at the letter and denying resignation. The signatory who deposed before me stated that he did not approach, or make any complaint to, any of the authorities. He of course received the letter on 3rd December 1958 but he admitted that he had been told in the factory on 29th November 1958 that he had resigned. He did not say that he then made any protest or denied the resignation. Such conduct is certainly not consistent with the case now put forward. If these persons had really signed a blank paper and had no idea of resignation, then they would certainly have been taken by surprise on being told that they had resigned and would have run to the authorities to express their surprise and protest and would also have demanded production of their resignation letter and told the authorities that they had been duped by Kartik Sarkar. They did not even want to see their resignation letter. Such conduct clearly shows that the story now put forward cannot be true.

I have carefully considered the resignation letter, Ext. B, and I am fully satisfied that it could not have been a fabricated document. It consists of 4 pages. The body of it is admittedly in the handwriting of Kartik Sarkar. The signatures including that of Kartik Sarkar appear on the 4th page below the last three lines of writing. The writings do not show any sign of squeezing. They generally follow the lines of the lined pages. The writing is in the same ink as the signatures excepting one that of Nishi Kanta Ghosh. A letter like this could not have been fabricated at the instance of the Company. The contents of the letter leave no room for doubt that it must have been composed at the instance of the signatories themselves. It is a sincere expression of their feelings and sentiments at the time. The signatories who had accepted the leadership of the general body of the workmen and had hoped to persuade Shri Kalipada Das to meet their demands of 2nd June 1958 felt aggrieved when he let them down and did not take their advice and being blamed by the workmen thought it better to cut off connection with the Company. This seems to have been the motive for the resignations, so far as can be gathered from the letter. There are such disparaging statements in the letter about the Director Shri Kalipada Das that it can never be believed that the Company had a hand in drafting it. I am satisfied from the contents of the letter and the internal evidence that it was a genuine letter jointly written by the persons who signed it.

It is also impossible to believe the allegations made against Kartik Sarkar. The allegation that Kartik Sarkar is continuing in the service of the Company is in conflict with the demand for his reinstatement. It was demanded in the cluster of demands of 1st December 1958 and is still being demanded. If Kartik Sarkar had actually perpetrated such a fraud on his eight other colleagues and been in league with the Company, his reinstatement would not have been made an issue and that issue would not have been pursued. The Manager has denied that Kartik Sarkar is in the service of the Company and the two witnesses who deposed to the contrary admitted that they did not see him actually working in the factory. All that they said was that they saw him going to the factory from their homes. No workman in the employment of the Company has come forward to prove that Kartik Sarkar is in the service of the Company. In the circumstances I cannot accept the story now put forward regarding the resignation letter and Kartik Sarkar's part in it. Nor can I believe that the Company had a hand in the matter. I find that these workmen genuinely resigned their appointments by this letter and the Company accepted the same.

It has been argued that the letter called upon the Company to accept the resignations within 15 days and that after the expiry of that period the letter lost its effect. But the Company asked the signatories to reconsider the position within the period of 15 days and also informed them that it was not possible to accept the resignations within that period. Of course, that letter was not individually sent to the signatories. But the resignations had also not been sent individually. The Company's letter was jointly addressed to the signatories and it was delivered to the first signatory Kartik Sarkar on their behalf. Since the allegations against Kartik Sarkar have not been proved and cannot be believed in the circumstances of the case, I cannot accept the suggestion that this letter had been suppressed by him from his colleagues at the instance of the Company. The fact that a copy was sent to the Labour Commissioner also shows that there was no intention to suppress it. The signatories were informed later by the Company of the date when the Board of Directors would consider their resignations. They had sufficient opportunity to withdraw the resignations, if they were so minded. The delay in accepting the resignations has thus been properly explained and the signatories not having withdrawn the resignation letter in spite of intimation by the Company, the latter was within its rights to accept the resignations at the time it did.

It may be that these nine persons had promoted the formation of the Union and were among its office-bearers, but that is not sufficient to show that this resignation letter was a later fabrication at the instance of the Company. That case having failed and the letter having been found to be genuine, no question of victimisation or unfair labour practice on the part of the Company can arise. The Union can succeed on this issue only by showing that these persons were dismissed by some unilateral act of the Company. Voluntary resignation by a workman and acceptance of it by the Company is a bilateral act and it can never be characterised as dismissal. There is also no case of forced resignation which may sometimes amount to dismissal. Besides the application for registration of the Union had been submitted on 7th August 1958 (Ext. 4). The Company had before that date requested the signatories to reconsider their decision and withdraw the resignations. Why should the Company have delayed the acceptance of the resignations even after the date of that application or even after registration of the Union on 15th October 1958 (Ext. 3). If the Union's suggestion were true, the Company would have been aware of all the moves of the workmen through Kartik Sarkar, its agent. In the circumstances I must find that it was not a case of victimisation or dismissal and that the persons concerned are not entitled to any relief. On this finding these persons cannot also be treated as workmen as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act.

Issue No. 6

The Company has produced the notice by which 33 workmen were retrenched. It is dated 29th December 1958 and has been marked as Ext. P. It stated that subsequent to the laying off of certain workers of the Tin Container Section on the 16th June 1958 the situation had deteriorated to such an extent that for want of tin plates it was no longer possible for the management to run the Tin Container Section and keep all the employees fully engaged. Accordingly, it was stated, the management had decided to close down the major portion of the section for good. These 33 workers were declared surplus and they were retrenched with effect from 29th December 1958. It was so announced that they would be paid three months' wages for one month in lieu of notice and retrenchment compensation equivalent to 15 days' average wages for each completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of 6 months as provided in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company has further stated that the retrenchment was effected on the basis of section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act and has produced a complete list of the workmen in this section on a relevant date with dates of their appointment which has been marked as Ext. H. According to that list there were then 47 workmen in this section among whom these 33 workmen (numbered 15 to 47) were the juniormost. The Company stated that 15 of these 33 workmen had been appointed on that very date but there were 14 other workmen in the same section who had also been appointed on that date and according to the list they were senior to those

3 men. One of the retrenched workmen Gobinda Das who deposed stated that while his retrenchment was effected many persons junior to the retrenched workmen continued to work in the Company. But he mentioned no names and produced no evidence in support. He also said that many of these retrenched workmen worked in other sections but here again no names were mentioned and no such suggestion was put to the Company's Manager. Obviously his evidence on these points cannot be accepted in the face of the Company's Ext. H. A copy of the notice of retrenchment was sent to the Labour Commissioner with a covering letter, bearing the same date (Ext. Pb). The retrenchment was thus effected in accordance with the provisions of section 25G and section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act.

As already stated, the Company makes tin containers from tin plates which are controlled and allotted to the Company by Government permits. Without supply of such tin plates, tin containers cannot be made. The Company has filed a statement, Ext. F, showing the quantity of tin plates allotted to it from 1955 to 1958. It appears from it that up to the second quarter of 1957 the Company was generally allotted 120 tons of tin plates per quarter. But in the 4th quarter of 1957 the allotment was reduced to 60 tons and in the first, second, third and fourth quarters of 1958 it was further reduced to 35 tons, 42 tons, 48 tons and 30 tons respectively. In consequence of this reduction in allotment the Company had fixed to lay off 15 workmen of this section on 13th June 1958. This is shown by its letter to the Labour Commissioner of which Ext. G is a copy. It is stated therein that on account of the reduction of the quota an acute shortage of tin plates had been felt and that it was no longer economical and possible to keep all the employees fully engaged. As there was no improvement in the 3rd and 4th quarters of 1958 the Company was compelled thereafter to retrench the said 33 workmen. This is the case of the Company which has been proved by the Manager and the documents filed and there is no evidence to the contrary.

The Union's case is that this retrenchment was not bona fide but a measure of victimisation because these retrenched workmen had joined the newly formed Union. Only one of the retrenched workmen was examined and he deposed to that effect but in the face of the evidence adduced by the Company which has been discussed above, I cannot accept the Union's suggestion. The actual shortage of tin plates has been fully made out and it is clear from the facts that the Company had no other alternative. Simply because the retrenchment was effected after the formation of the Union, it cannot be contended that it was directed against the Union, if it was otherwise justified. The Company had to lay off several workmen on the same ground of shortage of tin plates in June 1958 and that was before the formation of the Union. The Company should be taken to be the best judge of the number of workmen required to run this section in view of this depleted supply of raw materials and there is also nothing to show that all these men were not found surplus. Of these 33 workmen 26 have already collected their dues and the retrenchment benefits. It was suggested to the Manager of the Company that these 26 men had since been reappointed but this was denied by him and there is no evidence to that effect. Only six of them as mentioned in Ext. 1, have been temporarily engaged on a casual basis. In the circumstances I am fully satisfied that the retrenchment was bona fide and justified and that it was effected in accordance with the provisions of section 25F and 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act. In view of this finding the retrenched workmen are not entitled to any relief.

In the matter of an Industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Modern Moulders, Kamarhatty, 24-Parganas (Head Office at 14/2 Old China Bazar Street, Calcutta, Partners—Sarvasree Gopal Das Bagri and Gobardhan Das Bagri) and Messrs. Modern Moulders Ltd., 39 Kali Krishna Tagore Street, Calcutta-7 and their workmen represented by Modern Moulders Workers' Union, House of Lala, Sodepur Station Road, Sodepur, 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-252/58.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri P.K. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri M. M. Saha, Advocate.

This is an industrial dispute between Messrs. Modern Moulders, Kamarhatty, 24-Parganas and Messrs. Modern Moulders Ltd., 39 Kali Krishna Tagore Street, Calcutta-7, in one part and their workmen represented by Modern Moulders Workers' Union, House of Lala, Sodepur Station Road, Sodepur, 24-Parganas, regarding the following issues, was referred to this tribunal for adjudication, by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5365-I.R., dated 17th December 1958, and subsequent addendum No. 2651I.R., dated 20th June 1959.

Issues

- (1) Wages and dearness allowance.
- (2) Leave and holidays.
- (3) Conditions of service.
- (4) Bonus for the accounting year 1957-58.
- (5) Whether the refusal by Messrs. Modern Moulders Ltd., to employ the workmen employed by Messrs. Modern Moulders on the old terms and conditions and with continuity of service is justified? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?

AWARD

The Union, in the written statement, urged, inter alia, that the Company did not take the formation of the trade union by the workmen in 1958 in good grace and that following a demand for Puja Bonus, over which the management refused to have any negotiation and discussion, there was stoppage of work on 10th October 1958 and then the management declared a lock out on 11th October 1958. The workmen demanded increase of wage rates and dearness allowance, bonus of two months' wages and leave as stated on page 7 of the written statement and rules as a condition of service as described at page 8 of the written statement. After the order of reference was amended whereby Messrs. Modern Moulders Ltd., were added as a party and the additional issue No. 5 was added, the Union submitted an additional written statement on 21st July 1959. It is contended therein that the management refused employment to some of the employees when they restarted work in the same factory premises on 1st May 1959 and such action on their part is mala fide.

Messrs. Modern Moulders Ltd. filed the written statement on 14th August 1959. It is contended herein that this Company was formed on 6th March 1959 and started functioning from 13th May 1959 taking on rent a portion of the factory premises situated at 30 B. T. Road, Kamarhaty and that it has got nothing to do with the partnership concern. It is further alleged that the workmen now in their employment are not members of the Union and that they recruited only such persons who applied for employment. Before I proceed to consider the merits of the case, it is necessary to trace the course of development of the dispute.

The dispute was referred to the tribunal for adjudication on 17th December 1958. The Union filed written statement on 17th February 1959. The employers, that is Messrs. Modern Moulders partnership firm of which Gopal Das Bagri and Chardhan Bagri were partners as specifically named in the order of reference entered appearances on 12th January 1959. On 3rd March 1959 a partner of the firm applied for time to file written statement on the ground that arbitration proceedings were going on due to differences and difficulties and for that written statement could not be prepared. It may be added that the statement contained in the petition are absolutely vague and indefinite. Time was however allowed up to 3rd March 1959. On 30th March 1959 again a partner Gopal Das Bagri prayed for time stating therein that statements could not be prepared due to differences and dissolution of the said partnership and everything was in a fluid state. Time was allowed up to 13th April 1959. On 16th April 1959 an affidavit was sworn by Shri Gopal Das Bagri stating therein that the partnership has been dissolved and that the reference would not continue in the absence of proper parties. The Union filed a verified petition on 13th May 1959 alleging therein that the Company did not lift the lock-out in spite of Government order prohibiting the continuance of the lock-out under section 10(c) of the Industrial Disputes Act and the self same Company had started business from 1st May 1959 in the name and style of Modern Moulders Limited asking the employees to apply afresh for getting appointment. After that the appropriate Government issued an addendum to the order of reference on 20th June 1959 adding an issue and making Messrs. Modern Moulders Limited as well a party. Then the written statement is filed by the Modern Moulders Ltd. No written statement is filed by the partnership firm.

The learned lawyer for the employer raised a preliminary objection that the Union does not represent the majority of the workmen and therefore the reference is bad in law.

The order of reference clearly indicates that the dispute is between the workmen represented by Modern Moulders Workers' Union and the Company.

An industrial dispute as defined in section 2(k), means a dispute between employers and workmen. The appropriate Government has been given the sole discretion to refer the dispute of any matter appearing to be connected with or relevant with the dispute to a tribunal for adjudication and the tribunal shall hold its proceedings and submit its award to the same authority that is the appropriate Government and the said award, when enforceable shall be binding on all parties to the industrial dispute. The definition of "industrial dispute" indicates who are parties to the dispute. Obviously the employers and the workmen are the two parties in the industrial dispute. I am not concerned here about such dispute which are between employers and employers and between workmen and workmen. Here the dispute as referred to by the Government is one as between employers and the workmen. It is only when an industrial dispute exists or is apprehended that the appropriate Government take action under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act or that the conciliation officer hold conciliation proceedings under section 12 of the Industrial Dispute Act. It is apparent that there is some source of information from which the appropriate Government can know about the existence or apprehension of a dispute. That information might reach the Government from the workmen or from the Union representing the workmen or any other body or persons. The Tribunal need not enter into enquiry on the point. But at the same time, the tribunal cannot assume jurisdiction unless it finds that the dispute as referred to is an industrial dispute or a matter relating to that consistent with the special meaning given to the words industry in section 2(j), workmen in section 2(s) and industrial dispute in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Further the tribunal would refuse to adjudicate upon the dispute, when as a matter of fact no dispute existed or was apprehended. Such a situation arises when the workmen themselves come forward and state that they do not want to proceed and that there is no dispute. In order to show that the workmen have no dispute the Company filed documents, Ext. A. and Ext. A 1, which appear to be signed by 45 and 66 persons respectively addressed to the Labour Commissioner. The contents of these two letters are to the effect that they are not members of the Union and that there is no case before the tribunal. O. P. W. 2 Chandra Bhushan and O. P. W. 3 Paresh Chandra Baroi proved their own signature in Ext. A1. Chandra Bhushan did not see others sign and he cannot say on what date he signed and who wrote the body of the application. Paresh does not remember on what paper he signed and he cannot read the contents of the application. He cannot say as well, who explained the contents thereof to him. O. P. W. 1 Shri Jitendra Nath Das, a supervisor, stated that he cannot say who wrote Ext. A1 and one Sudhir Dutta, a worker, wrote Ext. A. Ext. A1 is not proved in accordance with the law. It is also unsafe to rely on the contents of the other document Ext. A. Besides Jatindra stated that there are 250 workmen and so no inference can be drawn that the workmen as a whole or that majority of them are not concerned in the dispute or that they do not want to proceed.

It is established that there exists a registered Trade Union of the workmen of the concern. I get from the records as to registration of the trade union that the Union was registered on 25th April 1958. That Union was described in the order of reference as representing the workmen. The Union can conduct a trade dispute on behalf of any member and can spend its fund for the prosecution or defence of any legal proceeding to which any member is a party. So while an award is binding on the parties to the dispute, the Union representing the workmen comes into the picture in the order of reference as well as for representing the workmen in any proceeding under the Industrial Disputes Act. If the Union has not got within its membership, the workmen of the industry, the question arises if inspite, the Union had got any right to represent the workmen, in the industry. The Union registered on 25th April 1958 is not cancelled and it still exists. Only two workmen deposed to say that they are not members of the Union. From such evidence it cannot be said that the workmen in this concern have severed connection with the Union. It is true that none of the workmen who are in employment came forward to depose. But no inference can be drawn from it that the workmen do not want to proceed with the dispute. Rather there are circumstances indicating the reason behind such unusual conduct of the workmen. Apparently a disruption amongst workmen had been sought to be created by non-employment of some workmen. The workshop remained closed since 13th October 1958 when the employer declared lock-out. During the pendency of the lock-out, the Company was formed in March 1959 and the commencement certificate was obtained on 18th March 1959. But curiously enough when they prayed for time to file written statement on 3rd March 1959 and 30th March 1959 it was not mentioned that a new Company having no connection with the partnership firm had been formed. Let me now consider the character of this Company with reference to the partnership firm. Gopal Das Bagri, Giridhari Bagri, son of Gohardhan Bagri and one Sukumar Bose are the three directors of this Company. They are carrying on business in the same factory premises. Gopal Das stated that this Company is carrying on the manufacture with the same machineries of the factory on the basis of the agreement. The agreement is not produced. The receipt, Ext. E, signed by Gopal Das in favour of Modern Moulders Limited, has no value when the written lease is not produced. It is not the case of either the Company or the partnership firm that the services of the workmen had ever been terminated. The mere fact that the employer declared a lock-out did not in any way terminate the relationship as employer and employee as between the parties. What actually happened was that Modern Moulders Limited issued a notice intimating the workers intending to join as employee to make applications for employment during the pendency of this proceeding. The place of business and the nature of manufacture remained unaltered and simply a proprietary concern was converted into a limited company concern of which virtually the two partners of the proprietary concern became the directors along with another person Shri S. K. Basu. Apparently, the Company through a separate identity in the eye of law which came into existence during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings was formed to carry and continue the same business in the same place, though under a different name. The objection of the Company regarding maintainability of the reference thus fails.

I now proceed to consider and decide the merits of the dispute.

The Company submitted in annexure I with the written statement a list showing the wages paid to different workmen divided in several categories. In considering the wage structure it is firstly to be ascertained that a workman is assured the minimum, as would enable him to have not merely the mean of bare subsistence of life but also for the preservation of his efficiency as worker. For that he must have means to provide for some measure of education, medical requirements and amenities. Taking the food intake of an adult person at 2600 calories, the composition of an earner's family having three persons and distribution of the expenses in the rates of 60 per cent. towards food and 40 per cent. for other requirements, the minimum comes to Rs. 27-8 per month on the pre-war level of prices. On the assumption that the prices would stabilise at 180 points the minimum comes to Rs. 27-8 plus Rs. 22 that is Rs. 49-8 and the same would be Rs. 27-8 plus Rs. 16-8 that is Rs. 44. The dearness allowance is to be fixed with due consideration to the paying capacity of the Company as it cannot be expected that a substantial portion of the rise of cost of living index above 160 or 180 points can be neutralised. It has got to be noted however that the minimum wages of unskilled workmen could not be fixed more than Rs. 35 as basic pay and Rs. 36 as dearness allowance by the Third Engineering Tribunal in the award given in 1958 with respect to some engineering industries employing more than 250 workmen. From the wage chart, it appears that the existing minimum is Rs. 1-12 per day or Rs. 47-8 per month. The wage structure should be fixed with due consideration to the rates prevailing in similar industries in the neighbourhood. In the award for Bharat Glass Works at Belghoria published as per order No. 3342Lab., dated 9th July 1949, appears the wages of different categories of workmen in Lakshmi Glass Works, Indian Scientific Glass Co., and Bharat Glass Works. That chart gives the wages for blowers, alpers, bubblers, machine helpers. There are many categories of workmen described as carriers, roller, catcher, graduation, packers, etc., by this concern which do not appear in the aforesaid chart showing classification of workers. There is no such material before me from which I can fix the wages of these categories of workmen who are engaged in different work of varying skill and efficiency. It would thus be unsafe to disturb the wage rates completely. But the minimum rate of the wages is raised to Rs. 2.16 nP. comprising of Rs. 1.62 in basic pay and .54 in dearness allowance or Rs. 56.16 nP. per month. Leave the wages paid to workmen already existing above this minimum undisturbed.

Issue No. 2

The Company wants to fix the same as follows:—

Casual leave—7 days.

Sick leave—7 days.

Statutory leave—15 days.

Such provision seems adequate. I decide the same accordingly.

Issue No. 3

The Company has already submitted standing orders to the certifying officer defining the conditions of service. I do not think it necessary to enter into the question in this situation. The workers have obviously got the right to challenge the reasonableness or otherwise of the provision in the draft standing orders. The Union also does not press for adjudication of this issue. Subject to the observation made herein the issue is left decided.

Issue No. 4

The Union claims bonus for the year 1957-58. The Union in the written statement alleged that the Company had been paying bonus every year. The claim is based on a customary right. There is however no evidence to show, if bonus had been paid without interruption at a fixed rate. The absence of any evidence to support the claim in the demand cannot be sustained.

Issue No. 5

Gopal Das Bagri stated that he instructed the superintendent and department-in-charge to take in employment all workmen who worked under the partnership firm. Obviously the instruction of the employer was to permit all the workers to resume work. The services of the workmen had never been terminated by the employer. So much so Gopal Das admitted that fact when he stated in own explanation that they did not retrench or dismiss any worker and that the notice was issued just to ascertain if the workmen wanted to work under them. There was in fact no reason for the workmen to refuse to resume work. Rather the evidence clearly indicates that the employer declared lock-out during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings and that the factory was re-opened in the name of Modern Moulder Limited and the same work at the same place was started when all the employees except 37 workmen were allowed to resume work. The question thus arises if Modern Moulders Limited could refuse to employ these workmen who were admittedly workmen under the partnership firm, just because of the fact that they did not choose to submit application seeking employment to this management. In the particular facts and circumstances of the case, when the services of the workmen had never been terminated and that they were unable to work on account of the lock-out, the workmen had the right to resume work when the management opened the factory though under a new style as to the ownership of the same. There could not rise any occasion for making fresh appointment, on the basis of recruitment on new conditions of service. Whatever might be the reason behind changing the partnership firm into a limited Company during the pendency of the proceeding before the tribunal and even though the limited Company is in the eye of law an entity different from the partnership firm, the employer remaining in fact the same could not ignore the relationship of master and servant and given a go-by to the same. I hold, therefore, that Modern Moulders Limited was not justified in refusing employment to some of the workmen under Messrs. Modern Moulders in the same terms and conditions and with continuity of service. It appears that there are 37 workmen who had not been taken in by the management. The Company had no justification in making such discrimination with respect to these workmen. The only reason assigned by the employer that these persons did not apply for appointment as per notice issued signifying that the terms and conditions of service of the persons taken in employment would be intimated later, rather disclosed the mala fide on the part of the employer. So even assuming that some of the workmen did not apply afresh in response to such notice, I find they had sufficient reason for that.

The Company is directed to reinstate the workmen within a month from the date this award becomes enforceable. The workmen would simply inform the management that they would join on the old terms and conditions as was applicable to them on 10th November 1958. The period of their unemployment since 11th October 1958 shall be treated as absence on leave. The workers who were refused employment shall get wages for a period of six months at the rate they were getting wages on 10th November 1958.

And whereas—

- (a) notice of the intention to apply for such confirmation of the said rules has been duly given one month before the making of the application for confirmation as required by clause (i) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act, and
- (b) for one month before the making of the application a copy of the said rules has been kept at the office of the commissioners of the said municipality and has been open during office hours thereat to the inspection of the inhabitants of the said municipality without fee, as required by clause (ii) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act;

Now, therefore, the Governor is pleased in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 75 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), to approve and in exercise of the power conferred by section 506 of the said act to confirm the following rules, namely:—

CONDUCT RULES FOR THE EMPLOYEES OF KALIMPONG MUNICIPALITY.

1. Interpretation: In these rules,—

- (a) "Employee" means an employee of the Kalimpong Municipality.
- (b) "Local authority" means the commissioners of the Kalimpong Municipality constituted under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932.

2. Gifts: (1) Same as otherwise provided in this rule, an employee shall not, except with the previous sanction of the local authority—

- (a) accept directly or indirectly on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person, or
- (b) permit any member of his family so to accept, any gift, gratuity or reward or any offer of a gift, gratuity or reward from any person.

(2) Subject to the provisions of any general or special order of the local authority, any employee may accept from any person a complimentary present of flowers or fruit or similar articles of trifling value, but all employees shall use their best endeavours to discourage the tender of such gifts.

(3) Any employee may accept or permit any member of his family to accept, from any person who is his personal friend, a wedding present of a value which is reasonable in all the circumstances of the case. All employees shall use their best endeavours to discourage the tender of such presents and such acceptances or permission shall be reported to the local authority, and, if the local authority so require, the present shall be returned to the donor.

(4) If an employee cannot, without giving undue offence, refuse a gift of substantial value from any person, he may accept the same, but shall unless the local authority by special order otherwise direct deliver the gift to the said authority.

3. Public demonstrations in honour of employees of local Authority:

(1) Save as otherwise provided in this rule, an employee shall not, except with the previous sanction of the local authority—

- (a) receive any complimentary or valedictory address, accept any testimonial or attend any public meeting or entertainment held in his honour; or

- (b) take part in the presentation of a complimentary or valedictory address or of a testimonial to any other employee or to any person who has recently quitted the service of a local authority, or attend a public meeting or entertainment held in the honour of such other employee or person.
- (2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (1)—
 - (a) an employee may at the request of any public body sit for a portrait, bust or statue not intended for presentation to him;
 - (b) an employee may take part in the raising of a fund to be expended in recognition of the services of any other employee or of a person who has recently quitted the service of a local authority, on the foundation of a scholarship or on any other public or charitable object or on the execution of any portrait, bust or statues not intended for presentation to such other employee or person: Provided that no employee shall solicit any subscription in aid of such fund;
 - (c) subject to the provisions of any general or special order of the local authority, an employee may attend a farewell entertainment of a subsequently private and informal character held as a mark of regard to himself or to some other employee, or to a person who has recently quitted the service of a local authority on the occasion of the retirement from service or departure from a district or station of himself or other person.
- 4. Presentation of trowels, etc. at ceremonial functions: An employee shall not, save with the previous sanction of the local authority, receive any trowel, key or other similar article offered to him at a ceremonial function, such as laying of a foundation stone or the opening of a public building.
- 5. Application of Rules 2 and 3 to medical officers: Subject to the provisions of any general or special order of the local authority, an employee who is a medical officer, nurse or midwife, may accept any fee, gift, gratuity or reward offered by any person or a body of persons in recognition of his/her professional services.
- 6. Subscriptions: An employee may not, without the previous sanction of the local authority, ask for or accept from any person, any subscription or other pecuniary assistance in pursuance of any object whatsoever.
- 7. Purchase of resignation: Employees may not enter into any pecuniary arrangement for the resignation by one of them of any office under the local authority for the benefit of the others. Should this rule be infringed, any nomination of appointment consequent upon such resignation will be cancelled and such parties to the arrangement as are still in the service will be suspended, pending the orders of the local authority or the State Government as the case may be.
- 8. Lending and borrowing: (1) An employee shall not lend to or borrow money from, except in the ordinary course of business with a joint stock bank or a firm of standing, or otherwise place himself under a pecuniary obligation to any person subject to his official authority.
(2) Every employee shall, after his appointment as such, submit to the local authority a declaration of the loans made or taken by him to or from any person or persons which are still to be repaid:
Provided that this rule in so far as it relates to the lending to or borrowing from co-operative societies registered under Act II of 1912, shall be subject to any general or special restrictions or relaxations made or permitted by the local authority.
- 9. Buying and selling houses and other valuable property: Save in the case of a transaction conducted in good faith with a regular dealer, an employee who intends to transact any purchase, sale or disposal by other means of movable or immovable property exceeding in value of Rs. 200, with any person residing, possessing immoveable property or carrying on business within the area under the local authority shall declare his intention to the local authority or to such officer as the said authority may appoint. Any declaration shall state fully the circumstances, the price offered or demanded and, in the case of disposal otherwise than by sale, the method of disposal. Thereafter such employee shall act in accordance with such orders as may be passed by the local authority or the officer appointed for the purpose.

10. Control over immoveable property held or acquired by employee of a local authority: Every employee or candidate for service under a local authority must make to the local authority concerned, a declaration of all immoveable property which may from time to time be held or acquired by him or by his wife or by any member of his family living with, or in any way dependent upon him.

Such declaration should state the police-station, district and the State within which the property is situated and should give such further information as the local authority may by general or special order require.

11. Investments other than those in immovable property: An employee may not make any investment, other than an investment in immoveable property which gives him such private interest in matters with which his public duties are connected as would be likely in the opinion of the local authority to embarrass or influence him in the discharge of his duties.

Subject to this condition he may hold or acquire shares in any Company, including a mining or agricultural company, which has for its object the development of the resources of the country.

Subject to the same condition he may place deposits in Provincial or Central Banks registered under Act II of 1912, and make investments in non-agricultural societies registered under that Act.

12. Speculation: An employee may not speculate in investments. In applying this general rule, the purchase of a grant of land supposed to contain minerals with the object of disposing of it to companies, and the habitual purchase and sale of securities of notoriously fluctuating value will be treated as speculation in investments.

13. Promotion and management of companies: An employee whether on leave or in active service, may not without the special sanction of the local authority, take part in the promotion, registration or management of any bank or other company.

14. Private trade or employment: An employee may not, without the previous sanction of the local authority, engage in any trade or undertake any employment, other than his public duties.

An employee may undertake occasional work of a literary or artistic character, provided that his public duties do not suffer thereby; but the local authority may, in its discretion, at any time forbid him to undertake or require him to abandon any employment which in its opinion is undesirable.

Note: The secretaryship of a club does not constitute employment in the sense of this rule, provided that it does not occupy so much of an employee's time as to interfere with his public duties and that it is an honorary office, that is to say, that it is not remunerated by any payment in cash, or any equivalent thereof other than the customary concessions of free quarters and personal exemption from messing charges only. Any employee proposing to become the honorary secretary of a club, should inform his immediate departmental superior who will decide, with reference to this rule and note, whether the matter should be reported for the orders of the local authority.

15. Insolvency and habitual indebtedness: (1) When an employee is adjudged or declared an insolvent, or when one moiety of the salary of an employee is constantly being attached, has been continuously under attachment for a period exceeding two years or is attached for a sum which, in ordinary circumstances, cannot be repaid within a period of two years, he will be considered liable to dismissal.

(2) When such employee is not liable to dismissal otherwise than by or with the sanction of the State Government, the matter must, if he is declared insolvent, and may, if a moiety of his salary is attached, be reported to the State Government, pending the receipt of whose orders he will be suspended from service.

(3) When a moiety of an employee's salary is attached, the report should show what is the proportion of the debts to the salary, how far they detract from the debtor's efficiency as an employee; whether the debtor's position is irretrievable; and whether in the circumstances of the case, it is desirable to retain him in the post occupied by him when the matter was brought to the notice of the local authority or Government.

(4) In every case under this rule, the burden of proving that the insolvency or indebtedness is the result of circumstances which, with the exercise of ordinary diligence, the debtor could not have foreseen or over which he had no control, and has not proceeded from extravagant or dissipated habits, will be upon the debtor.

16. Communication of official documents or information: An employee may not, unless generally or specially empowered by the local authority in this behalf, communicate directly or indirectly to employees belonging to other local authorities or to non-official persons, or to the Press, any document or information which has come into his possession in the course of his public duties, or has been prepared or collected by him in the course of those duties, whether from official sources, or otherwise.

17. Connection with the Press: An employee may not, without the previous sanction of the local authority, become the proprietor in whole or in part, or conduct or participate in the editing or management of any newspaper or other periodical publication.

Such sanction will be given only in the case of a newspaper or publication mainly devoted to matter not of a political character, and may at any time, in the discretion of the local authority, be withdrawn.

18. Subject to the provisions of rule 16, an employee may contribute anonymously to the Press, but must confine himself within the limits of temperate and reasonable discussion; and, if this connection with the Press is contrary to the public interest, the local authority may withdraw his liberty to contribute. When there is room for doubt whether the connection of any employee with the Press is or is not contrary to the public interests, the matter should be referred to the State Government for orders.

19. Criticism of local authority and Government and publication of information or opinion upon matters relating to foreign countries: (1) No employee shall, in any document published under his own name or in any public utterance delivered by him, make any statement of fact or opinion which is capable of embarrassing—

- (a) the relations between the local authority and the people or between Government and the people of India or any section thereof, or
- (b) the relations between Government and any foreign country.

(2) An employee who intends to publish any document under his own name or to deliver any public utterance containing statements in respect of which any doubt as to the application of the restrictions imposed by sub-rule (1) may arise, shall submit to the local authority under which he is serving a copy of draft of the document which he intends to publish or of the utterance which he intends to deliver, and shall not publish the document or deliver the utterance save with the sanction of the local authority under which he is serving and with such alterations, if any, as the said authority may direct.

20. Evidence before committees: An employee may not give evidence before a public committee—

- (1) In India, unless he has first obtained the permission of the local authority under whom he is serving;
- (2) Outside India, unless he has first obtained the permission of the State Government.

In giving such evidence he must not criticise the policy or decisions of the local authority or of Government.

This rule will not apply to evidence given before statutory committee with power to compel attendance and the giving of answers, nor to evidence given in judicial enquiries.

21. Taking part in politics and elections: (1) (i) No employee shall take part in, or subscribe in aid of, or assist in any way, any political movement in India or any political movement relating to Indian affairs.

Explanation: The expression "political movement" includes any movement or activities tending directly or indirectly to excite disaffection against, or to embarrass, the Government or the local authority as by law established, or to promote feelings of hatred or enmity between different classes of people in India or to disturb the public peace.

(ii) No employee shall permit any person dependent on him for maintenance or under his care or control to take part in, or in any way assist, any movement or activity which is, or tends directly or indirectly to be subversive of the local authority or Government as by law established.

Explanation: An employee shall be deemed to have permitted a person to take part in or assist a movement or activity within the meaning of clause (ii), if he has not taken every possible precaution and done everything in his power to prevent such person so acting or if, when he knows or has reason to suspect that such person is so acting he does not at once inform the local authority or the Government.

(2) An employee shall not canvass or otherwise interfere or use his influence in connection with, or take part in, any election to a legislative body or any local authority, whether in India or elsewhere:

Provided that an employee who is qualified to vote at such election may exercise his right to vote but if he does so, shall give no indication of the manner in which he proposes to vote or has voted.

(3) An employee who issues an address to electors or in any other manner publicly announces himself or allows himself to be publicly announced as a candidate or prospective candidate for election to a legislative body or a local authority shall be deemed, for the purposes of sub-rule (2), to take part in an election thereto.

22. Vindication of acts and character of an employee of a local authority as such: An employee may not without the previous sanction of the local authority, have recourse to any court or to the Press for the vindication of his public acts or character, from defamatory attacks. In granting sanction to the recourse to a court, the local authority will in each case decide whether it will itself bear the costs of the proceedings, or whether the employee shall institute the proceedings at his own expenses, and, if so, whether, in the event of a decision in his favour, the local authority shall reimburse him to the extent of the whole or any part of the costs.

Nothing in this rule will limit or otherwise affect the right of any employee to vindicate his private acts or character.

AWARD

By Government order No. 1261-L.R./IR/111-3358, dated the 26th March 1959, a dispute between Messrs. P. C. Roy & Co. (India) Private Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as 'the Company') and their workmen represented by the Kathkal Mazdur Union (hereinafter referred to as 'the Union'), has been referred to this tribunal for adjudication.

The issues framed by Government are:—

- (1) Increments in wages.
- (2) Bonus payable for 1957 and 1958.
- (3) Whether the discharge of Shri Serajul Haque is justified. To what relief, if any, is he entitled?
- (4) Whether the dismissal of Shri Y. Krishna and Shri Rajaia is justified. To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

Necessary facts and cases of the respective parties regarding each of the issues will be stated in the course of the decision thereof.

Issue No. 1

The Union's case on this point is that the Company introduced some grade and incremental scheme and according to that the workmen are entitled to yearly increment which has been stopped. It has not been clearly stated in the written statement from which year it has been stopped but at the time of the hearing the Union has tried to make out a case that the increment has been stopped from 1957. The Union now demands that the Company should be directed to give the arrears of the said increment as well as a flat increment of Rs. 10 per month over the existing wages which are consolidated for neutralising the rise in the cost of living index.

The Company's case regarding this issue is not very clear from its written statement. It is not specifically denied that it had introduced some grade and incremental scheme or that increment was stopped from 1957.

The Union has also not specifically stated in its written statement what was the grade and incremental scheme introduced by the Company as alleged. At the time of the hearing the President of the Union, namely, Shri Ram Sen (P.W. 1) has proved a chart of increment (Ext. 1) showing that there are five categories of workmen, namely, (1) unskilled labour, (2) Sarder, (3) Machineman, (4) Mistry and (5) Clerks (hereinafter these categories of workmen will be referred to by the aforesaid serial numbers). Exhibit 1 shows that there is no scale of increment fixed for any category of workmen except No. 5; that annual increments were provided for only categories Nos. (1) and (2) at the rate of Rs. 3 and for (3) Rs. 5 and category No. (4) was allowed ad hoc increment of Rs. 20 per month in 1956; and that no scale of increment has been fixed for category No. 4.

Now, the evidence of Shri Sen (P.W. 1) is that in 1954 there was a strike by the workmen in course of which there was a negotiation between the management and the workers' representatives as a result of which the aforesaid increments and scale were agreed upon. Shri Sen has candidly admitted that he has no personal knowledge of the said negotiations, but it has already been stated above that there has been no specific denial on behalf of the Company in its written statement regarding this particular point in issue; also, there has been no denial in the evidence adduced on its behalf and it is to be observed that Shri Anil Kanti Mitra (O.P.W. 1), who was the Company's Officer-in-Charge at the relevant time, i.e., 1954, has been examined in this case on behalf of the Company, but he also has not challenged the evidence of Shri Sen (P.W. 1) on this point.

Now, the alleged arrangements for the increment of the workmen of categories Nos. (1) and (2) and (3) above as proved by Shri Sen (P.W. 1) and (Ext. 1) cannot be recognised judicially and given effect to for all time to come as no maxima nor any scale of wages of these workmen have been fixed. However, in view of the rise in the cost of living index since 1956, and also in view of the fact that the wages of these workmen as proved by Ext. 1 as well by the chart of wages submitted by the Company (Ext. C) are not much above the minimum wage provided for similar categories of workmen of other industries in this region, i.e., cotton, textile, jute, engineering, etc., and in view of the agreement proved by P.W. 1 and not denied by the Company, the workmen of the Company of the aforesaid categories Nos. (1), (2) and (3) are awarded an ad hoc increment of Rs. 6 (six), Rs. 6 (six) and Rs. 10 (ten) per month respectively with effect from 1st January 1959. The Company is to pay them the arrears of wages on this account.

Exhibit I shows that the mistries have been granted an ad hoc increment of Rs. 20 in 1956 and their present wages now are Rs. 125; so, they are awarded an ad hoc increment of Rs. 5 (five) per month with effect from 1st January 1959. The Company is to pay them the arrears of their wages on this account.

For the aforesaid reasons, specially in view of the agreement regarding increment, the above increments are allowed, irrespective of the financial ability or stability of the Company.

For the purpose of clarification it is to be observed that for reasons given above this tribunal does not recognise the rates of increment as proved by P.W. 1 and Ext. 1, and the same shall not be binding on the Company for the future. Future increments are to be obtained either with the consent of the Company or through adjudication.

The matter is somewhat different as regards the clerks. Exhibit I shows that a scale has been provided for the clerks as follows:—

Rs. 90—10—150.

This is not denied on behalf of the Company in evidence rather, this part of the Union's case is confirmed by two office orders of the Company [Ext. 2, 2(a)] whereby two office clerks were granted increments according to the aforesaid scale. Hence, it must be awarded that the Company should grant increment to the clerks according to this scale as and when the same fell due and the clerks are to be paid their arrears of increment.

The Union's demand for an overall increase of Rs. 10 per month need not be considered as it is met to a certain extent by the decisions given above.

The Union's case in respect of this issue is that the workmen are entitled to get one month's wages as customary Puja Bonus and also profit bonus equivalent to two months' wages for the years 1957 and 1958. The Company's case in its written statement regarding this issue is not at all specific. It is only stated there that "the Company has been running at a loss so much that it is not in a position to declare any bonus irrespective of profit and/or loss of the Company". Shri Sen (P.W. 1), President of the Union, has stated in evidence that the Company had been paying customary Puja Bonus since the year 1953 irrespective of profit according to the scheme as shown in a chart (Ext. 1).

This part of the Union's case regarding bonus not been specifically denied in the Company written statement as has been already stated above. Also, Shri Mitra (O.P.W. 1) who had been officer-in-charge of the Company till May 1959, not denied the same in evidence.

Here, it is to be noted that the Union does claim this Puja bonus as an express or implied term of employment as has been explained in Mahalakshmi Cotton Mills case (1952 L.A. page 370). Shri Sen (P.W. 1) on behalf of the Union has relied on this case but it is of no use to him as the Union has not claimed this bonus as an implied term of employment. In view of the Union's specific case that they are entitled to one month's wages as customary Puja bonus, following conditions, as laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Grahams Trading Company (India) Ltd., and their workmen (31 H. L.L.J., page 393), are required to be fulfilled:

- (i) Whether the payment has been over an unbroken series of years.
- (ii) Whether it has been for a sufficiently long period, though the length of the period might depend on the circumstances of each case; even so the period may normally have to be longer to justify an inference of traditional and customary Puja bonus than may be the case with Puja bonus based on an implied term of employment.
- (iii) The circumstance that the payment depended upon the earning of profit would have to be excluded and therefore it must be shown that payment was made in years of loss. In dealing with the question of custom, the fact that the payment was called ex gratia by the employer when it was made, would, however, make no difference in this regard because the proof of custom depends upon the effect of the relevant factors enumerated by us and it would not be materially affected by unilateral declarations of one party when the said declarations are inconsistent with the course of conduct adopted by it.
- (iv) And the payment must have been at a uniform rate throughout to justify an inference that the payment at such and such rate had become customary and traditional in the particular concern."

Now, the relevant facts regarding this matter proved by Shri Sen (P.W. 1) are that from 1953 to 1956 the Company paid bonus before the Puja to its workmen according to the following scale:—

Length of Service of workmen.	Quantum of bonus
3 years	... 1 month
2 years	... 2/3 month
1 year	... 1/3 month

and that this bonus was paid even in a year of loss, i.e., in 1956.

From the balance-sheet of the Company for the year 1957 (Ext. D1) it will appear that it had suffered loss in the year 1956. Much stress has been laid by Shri Sen (P.W. 1) on this factor alone is not sufficient for finding that the workmen are entitled to get Puja bonus as a customary or traditional payment specially in view of the fact that the first two conditions, viz. (i) and (ii) have as laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, are not fulfilled in this case. The period over which the bonus had been paid being only 4 years, cannot be held to be sufficiently long period to form a customary and traditional payment. The Union appears to have complained to the Labour Department of the Government regarding non-payment by the Company of bonus for the years 1957 and 1958 shortly after the same fell due (Exts. 3, 3a), and it claimed one month's wages as a bonus. This claim also is not a proper factor in holding that the workmen are entitled to customary Puja bonus as alleged; for, the complaint to Labour Department contains nothing but lateral statements of the Union on this particular point and this cannot be regarded as sufficient evidence of its claim on this head. The Company claims to have paid bonus for 4 years as a matter of bounty and then stopped it owing to financial difficulty.

As a result, it is held that the workmen are not entitled to any bonus as customary and traditional Puja bonus.

Shri Sen (P.W. 1) on behalf of the Union has pressed the Union's claim for profit bonus for the years 1957 and 1958 in view of the apparent facts shown by the Company in its balance-sheets for those years (Exts. O, D1). Here, it is to be mentioned that Shri Sen (P.W. 1) has not admitted the correctness of the balance-sheets which have been filed by the Company at a very late stage after much higgling and which Shri Sen has not sufficient opportunity to scrutinise. However, he has been candid enough to accept them at their face value in order to avoid further delay in the hearing of the case.

The Company has not specifically denied in its written statement or evidence the claim of the Union regarding customary Puja bonus, but this itself is no ground for upholding this claim, for it involves a mixed question of fact and law and the initial onus is upon the Union to prove the relevant facts. From the facts proved on the Union's case as stated above, it cannot be inferred that they are entitled to get customary Puja bonus as claimed.

In view of the facts and circumstances discussed above, it is awarded that the workmen are not entitled to any kind of bonus for the years 1957 and 1958.

Issue No. 3

This issue has not been pressed by the Union at the time of hearing. So, it is held that the discharge of Shri Serajul Haque was justified and he is entitled to no relief.

Issue No. 4

The Company suspended two workmen, namely, Shri Y. Krishna (P.W. 2) and Rajaia (P.W. 3) with effect from 13th December 1958 on a charge of insubordination and insulting Shri A. K. Mitra (P.W. 1), Officer-in-charge of the Company. They were charge-sheeted and ultimately dismissed after some alleged enquiry.

The Union's case is that these two workmen were unjustly dismissed on a motive of victimisation.

The Company's case on this point is that these workmen were dismissed because of their misconduct towards their superior officer regarding which proper enquiries were made and on evidence it was found that they had insulted their superior officer and had threatened him with violence.

Neither party has stated in detail the facts that led up to the charge-sheet by the Company against these workmen. However, it is common ground that at or about the time of the alleged incident the Company had not paid its workmen their wages for two months and so some workmen together with P.Ws. 2 and 3 approached the Officer-in-charge, namely, Shri Mitra (O.P.W. 1) and demanded their unpaid wages.

Now, the Company's case is that the workmen became enraged and threatened O.P.W. 1 with violence on the first day of the demand, i.e., on 6th December 1958 and they repeated the same performance on three other subsequent days, viz., 8th, 9th and 10th December 1958, and the local police had to be called on each of these days for maintaining peace and thereafter P.Ws. 2 and 3 and another man were charge-sheeted and an enquiry was held as a result of which the management decided to dismiss them.

The point to be decided in connection with this matter is whether the enquiry against the workmen was held properly and in good faith or whether there was want of any good faith and there was victimisation or unfair labour practice and whether there has been a basic error or violation of the principles of natural justice on the part of the management and whether on the materials the finding of the management is completely baseless or perverse.

At the outset, it is to be observed that the workmen did nothing wrong in approaching the Officer-in-charge (O.P.W. 1) to demand their arrears of wages which had not been paid for two months. It was also not unlikely that these ill-paid people might have got exasperated on account of the non-payment of their wages by the Company and there might have been hot exchange of words between them and O.P.W. 1. In view of the background of the alleged incident, it is to be expected that the Company would have the enquiry held in the fairest manner and the enquiring officer would come to a finding against the workmen upon the most cogent and reliable evidence. But the Company did a very curious thing. It had the enquiry made by the aggrieved person himself, namely, O.P.W. 1. This was against the principles of natural justice. For under no circumstances the identical person can be the plaintiff and the judge, or the complainant and the magistrate. Further, there is no reliable evidence on the side of the Company that notices of the dates of the enquiry were given to the workmen by the enquiring officer or that the former were present at the time of enquiry and were allowed to cross-examine the witnesses. The witnesses were Shri Nalini Mohan Ghose (O.P.W. 2), an employee of the Company who is said to have been in the same room with O.P.W. 1 at the time of the incident, Shri Jagadamba Misir (O.P.W. 3), a head durwan of the Company, and Shri Surajbani (O.P.W. 4).

office durwan of the Company. That this witnesses were not properly examined by the enquiring officer, namely, O.P.W. 1, will appear from the record of the enquiry (Ext. A) wherefrom it is found that they put their signatures to typed statements. It is not in evidence as to who typed this statement. Further, the evidence of O.P.W. 3 and O.P.W. 4 before this Tribunal shows that their typed statements in the record of the proceeding are not correct; for, the typed statements show that they proved the allegations of insubordination, etc., against the workmen but in their evidence before this tribunal they have not corroborated the same. Further, it is said by O.P.Ws. 1 and 2 that the local police was called on all the four days of the incident and they came but the enquiring officer, namely, O.P.W. 1, did not examine any member of the police who are alleged to have gone to the spot at the time of incident, nor any record of the local thana has been called for to prove that such incident actually took place and the police did actually render help.

From the facts and circumstances, it will appear that O.P.W. 1 became enraged on account of the demand of the workmen for their unpaid wages and P.Ws. 2 and 3 were charge-sheeted perhaps because they took the leading part in the demand and O.P.W. 1 after getting the typed statements of O.P.Ws. 2, 3 and 4 signed by them submitted a report to the management for dismissal of P.Ws. 2 and 3 which the management appears to have accepted. Necessarily, the conclusion should be that the charge-sheet and the resultant enquiry against P.Ws. 2 and 3 are vitiated as the same were actuated by the motive of victimisation of P.Ws. 2 and 3 and that the enquiries were not properly conducted and there was a basic error in having the enquiries made by O.P.W. 1.

Hence, it is to be held that Shri Y. Krishna and Shri Rajaia, i.e., P.Ws. 2 and 3, have been dismissed without any justification and the Company should reinstate them within a month of the publication of this award and should pay them their wages from the dates of their suspension till the date of their reinstatement and the continuity of their services should be regarded as unbroken.

This is the award.

Schedule

Is the dismissal of Shri Nirmal Kumar Mitra justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

This is a dispute arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of Shri Nirmal Kumar Mitra previously in the employment of Messrs. Shyamnagar Jute Factory Co. Ltd. (North Mill), Bhadreswar, Hooghly, hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

The Union's case in its written statement in short is as follows:—The workman concerned joined the Company on 25th October 1946 as a Relieving Clerk in the Store Department and was confirmed on 25th January 1947. He was transferred to the Unit as a Weighing Clerk in March 1958 his 13 years' service as an Office Clerk where he was charge-sheeted on 29th May 1958 under rule (I) and (IX) of the standing orders for disobedience to carry out the lawful orders of the Departmental Head, in that he failed in doing the work assigned to him and in not attending the hours although specifically asked to do so. On 7th December 1955 he was charge-sheeted for absence from attendance and as a tribunal case was pending the Company sought the permission of the Appellate Tribunal to dismiss him. The Appellate Tribunal did not grant the permission, the Company asked for a letter of apology from the workman and the Appellate Tribunal advised the workman to tender apology. Since then the workman was ill-disposed towards him and was on strike out for a plea to get rid of him. The said transfer of the workman from Office to the factory is not the normal practice of the Mills. On Monday, i.e., on 26th May 1958 at 10 p.m. when he came to report for normal duty, the workman asked him to explain why the Efficiency Report was not completed on Sunday morning and as he was charge-sheeted on 29th May 1958. In the circumstances, the Union contends that the dismissal of the workman is illegal and unjustified and is against the principles of natural justice.

The Company in its written statement denies the allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends that the workman was duly charge-sheeted, and an enquiry was held wherein he was given all reasonable facilities to defend himself and as a result of the enquiry he was dismissed. In the circumstances, the Company justifies the order of dismissal of this workman, and resists the workman's prayer for any relief.

Decision

The case was fixed for hearing on 15th March 1960. On this date the Company put in a petition praying that the workman concerned tendered his resignation on 16th January 1960 which was accepted by the Company. The workman accepted his retiral dues on 19th February 1960 and also filed a petition to the Company stating that the case should be withdrawn. Along with the petition of compromise the resignation letter tendered by the workman as also a copy of the letter addressed by him to the Chief Personnel Officer of the Company stating that he is no longer interested in this case, has been filed before this Court. Furthermore, a certified copy of the receipt issued by the workman to the Company evidencing acknowledgment of a total sum of Rs. 1,515.65 from the Company and declaring that he has no claim against the Company in respect of salary and for services rendered, has been filed. General Secretary to the Union signed the petition filed by the Company on the date of hearing his case (15th March 1960). The terms of compromise appear to be fair, reasonable and lawful, and may be given effect to. The dispute is thus disposed of in terms of petition of compromise which do form a part of the Award.

AWARD

A dispute between several Companies including Messrs. Textile Machinery Corporation Ltd. hereinafter referred to as "the Company", and their workmen, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by Government order No. 5441-I.R./10L-116/56, dated the 20th December 1956.

During the pendency of that dispute the instant application has been filed by 174 workmen of the Company (described in Schedule "A" to this award). Their case is that prior to 1951, shift duty arrangement in the factory of the Company was (1) 7-30 a.m. to 4-30 p.m., and (2) 8 p.m. to 4-30 a.m., but the Company changed the said duty hours and introduced new shift duty known as "A" shift and "B" shift, the working hours of which were respectively 6 a.m. to 2-30 p.m. and 2-30 p.m. to 11 p.m. Due to this change of shift the petitioners who are train passengers were put to serious trouble. "A" shift train passenger workers found it difficult to attend at 6 a.m. and the "B" shift workers were put to trouble in catching their home-bound train according to the timings of the trains prescribed by the Railway Authorities. So, they were granted some "special privileges of grace in the matter of late attendance and benefit of early departure without any deduction from wages" (vide paragraph 11 of the application of the workmen). They continued to enjoy this privilege for many years. The "A" shift workers were allowed this privilege of grace up to half-an-hour for late attendance while those of "B" shift were allowed the benefit of early departure up to 1 hour without any deduction from wages. The Management of the Company stopped this privilege without any notice in November 1957 which is tantamount to arbitrary change in the condition of service. The appeals of the Union to the Management and to the Labour Directorate in this matter turned out to be futile. So, the workmen have filed this application praying that the Company be directed to allow them special privilege of late attendance and early departure as stated above without any deduction from wages and also the Company be directed to pay all wages deducted on this ground.

The Company has filed a written statement. Its contention is that the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable as the Company has not contravened any of the provisions of section 33 of the Act, and as the instant application has not been properly presented by the applicants concerned. As regards the merits of the case, the Company contends that it has no knowledge as to whether the workmen reside at Calcutta or other distant places as alleged save and except regarding certain workmen of whom the Company has in its possession recorded addresses. Beyond such record, the Company has no knowledge as to the place of residence or other matters incidental thereto regarding the workmen. The Company further denies the correctness of any address which are not registered in the Company's record. The Company admits that as a special case certain workers were allowed to come late and their late coming was individually condoned on special request and permission. The Company specifically denies that there was any customary concession or that there was any condition of service allowing the workmen in general or any workman to come late or to violate the rules of punctual attendance of the shift duty hours, in terms of the provisions of the Standing Orders.

The Company also denies the allegation that the workmen of the "A" shift have been enjoying the privilege of late attendance up to $\frac{1}{2}$ hour without any deduction from wages. The Company also denies the allegation that the workmen of "B" shift have been enjoying the benefit of early departure up to 1 hour without any deduction from wages.

The Company further states that after several warnings as conditions did not improve and unauthorised late coming persisted, the Company was compelled to put up a notice in November 1957 forbidding irregular attendance of the workmen and this was not tantamount to change in the condition of service of the workmen.

The points that arise for decision in this case are (1) whether the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is maintainable and (2) what reliefs the workmen are entitled on the merits of the case.

Decision

Point No. 1: The action of the Company in directing the daily passenger workers to attend and leave their shift duties punctually according to the prescribed hours was taken during the pendency of the proceeding in this Tribunal in connection with the aforesaid reference made by Government, but in order to enable the petitioners in this case to challenge this action of the Company by way of an application under section 33A of the Act, it must be established by them that the Company has taken the action in contravention of any of the provisions of the first three sub-sections of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

It is common ground that the action of the Company is not hit by sub-section (3) of section 33 of the Act. The Company contends that its action comes within the scope of sub-section (2) of section 33. It, prima facie, appears to be so; for, it has been provided in sub-section (2) that during the pendency of any adjudication proceeding in respect of an industrial dispute the employer may in accordance with the Standing Orders applicable to a workman concerned in such dispute alter in regard to any matter not connected with the dispute the conditions of service applicable to that workman immediately before the commencement of such proceeding.

There is no dispute regarding the fact that the Company is entitled according to the terms of its statutory Standing Orders to enforce punctual attendance of its workmen and to deduct their wages for irregular attendance. The industrial dispute during the pendency of which the Company took the impugned action involved the following issues:—

- (1) Wages, grades and scales of pay.
- (2) Dearness Allowance.

Apparently, the matter relating to the timely attendance of the workmen and the deduction of their wages by the Company in case of irregular attendance are not in regard to any matter connected with the said dispute and hence it is to be held as has been maintained by the Company that its impugned action comes under section 33(2)(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and so, there has been no contravention of section 33. Against this, it has been contended on behalf of the Union that as the Company has deducted wages for irregular attendance, so the impugned action of the Company in enforcing regular attendance of the workmen and in deducting their wages if they failed to do so is connected with the aforesaid dispute because wages were amongst the subject-matter of that dispute. This is a very tortuous argument and cannot be yielded to. If such an argument be accepted then any action taken by an employer against a workman during the pendency of an industrial dispute may be somehow or other connected with the subject-matter of the dispute. In the instant case, the deduction of wages of the workmen on account of their irregular attendance has no direct, nor indirect, connection with the issue regarding wages and grades and scales of pay. If one of the issues had been regarding the working hours of the workmen, it might have been contended that the impugned action of the Company in deducting the wages of the workmen for irregular attendance was connected with the dispute pending for adjudication. For, in that case, the question might have been mooted by the workmen in the form that irregular attendance of the train passengers for unavoidable reasons was a condition of their service in view of which they were entitled to work for a lesser period than the working hours prescribed for the shifts. There being no such issue in the aforesaid dispute regarding working hours, the Company, which according to its Standing Orders was entitled to enforce regular attendance of all workmen and to deduct their wages in case they failed to do so, did not contravene any provisions of section 33 as its action fell within the scope of section 33(2)(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has been candidly conceded by the learned representative of the workmen, namely, Shri Ram Sen, that the instant application under section 33A of the Act will not be maintainable if it be found that the Company's action comes under section 33(2)(a) and as this is the finding of the Tribunal, it is held that the instant application under section 33A is not maintainable.

Here it may be observed that if the Company's action could be brought under the scope of section 33(1)(a) of the Act, it would have been held to have contravened the provision of section 33(1) as the same could not have been taken save with the express permission in writing of this Tribunal.

Another point regarding non-maintainability of the instant application has been urged on behalf of the Company. It is this:

The application has not been properly filed by the petitioners concerned and they have not been properly represented at the time of the hearing. This contention cannot be upheld; for, it appears that the 174 applicants are signatories to this application and it is not proved on behalf of the Company that Shri Ram Sen who has conducted their case on their behalf at the time of hearing has none of the representative capacities as prescribed in section 36(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

However, the instant application under section 33A of the Act is held to be not maintainable, as it has been found above that the impugned action of the Company comes under section 33(2)(a) of the Act.

the Act and it has not been taken in contravention of any of the provisions of section 33 of the Act.

Point No. 2: In view of the finding made above that the instant application is not maintainable, the merits of the case regarding the reliefs claimed by the workmen are left undecided as the same are not required to be gone into. However, it seems that the workmen's case also fails on merits. From the evidence on record it cannot be held that they can claim as a matter of right the alleged concession regarding late attendance and early departure. What the Company did in the past was to allow some relaxation in the time of attendance or in the time of departure (as the case might be) of some individual workers as a matter of grace and this element of "grace" is admitted in the written statement (vide paragraph 11). It seems that taking advantage of the pendency of the aforesaid industrial dispute a large number of workmen of the Company have come before this Tribunal by way of an application under section 33A to speculate whether they can have a permanent right sanctioned judicially to attend late and depart early from the factory. It may be observed here that 41 workmen amongst the petitioners are not now in the Company's employ. Further there are other shifts besides "A" and "B" shifts as admitted by the Union's witness (P.W. 1). These workmen may be placed in the other shifts. In that case, they may not require any relaxation in the prescribed hours of attendance. Also, such a general relaxation in the hours of attendance will not be just and proper. The necessity for a grace in this matter should be proved in each individual case. However, no relief can be granted to any workman in this case, even if it be held that the aforesaid grace in the hours of attendance is a privilege and a condition of service of the workmen and has been withdrawn without notice, as urged by the workmen (though the Company maintains that proper notice was given to the workmen before entering punctual attendance). Even if the Company has contravened the provision of section 9A of the Act as contended by the workmen, they cannot get any redress in this application under section 33A of the Act, for reasons already mentioned. They may have a reference made under section 10 of the Act.

In spite of the observations and findings made above, it is suggested as a matter of recommendation that the Management may consider whether in the interest of industrial peace, the workmen who are train passengers should be placed in such shifts as would not inconvenience them regarding their time of arrival or departure or whether in suitable individual cases some concession in the time of arrival and departure may be granted without deduction of wages.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Parry and Company Limited, Mercantile Buildings, 9 Lall Bazar Street, Post Box No. 208, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Parrys (Cal.) Employees' Union, C/o Association of Employees' Unions, 23 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, under Government order No. 3677-I.R./IR/11L-543/59, dated the 3rd August 1959,

And

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between the same aforesaid Company and its workmen represented by the same aforesaid Union, under Government order No. 4439-I.R./IR/11L-543/58, dated the 12th September, 1959. (Cases Nos. VIII-216 of 1958 and VIII-88 of 1959.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterji, Deputy Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

Present for the Union: Shri Jiten Banerji, Secretary of the Union.

These two industrial disputes between the same parties were originally referred for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act to the Third Industrial Tribunal by two Government orders, dated 11th November 1958 and 25th April 1959 respectively and subsequently by two Government orders, dated 3rd August 1959 and 12th September 1959, respectively, they were withdrawn from the said tribunal and transferred to this tribunal under section 33B of the Industrial Disputes Act for the purpose of speedy disposal. As the disputes are between the same parties and the issues are interrelated in many respects the two references have been heard together in this tribunal and this same award will govern both of them.

In order to appreciate the points in dispute between the parties a short history of certain previous adjudications is necessary. The employer Messrs. Parry & Co., Ltd., which will hereafter be referred to as the Company, is one of the oldest business houses in India having been established in Madras in the year 1788. The Company's Head Office is in Madras but it has got a branch office in Calcutta with some godowns and an engineering factory. The Company does business of engineering production and also deals in chemical and pharmaceutical and other goods having agencies of various foreign firms. The present Union representing its workmen in Calcutta was formed in 1947 and in consequence of its demands the Company was made a party to the First Major Engineering Tribunal which made an award on 4th June 1948 and it was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 30th June 1948. In the meantime the Government had constituted a tribunal for the adjudication of certain disputes between the big mercantile firms of Calcutta and their office-staff which was called the Mercantile Tribunal and this Company was also made a party to that tribunal. But the Mercantile Tribunal did not adjudicate upon the disputes between this Company and its office-staff because it was already governed by the award of the Engineering Tribunal. After the expiry of the award of the Engineering Tribunal the employees of the Company demanded an increase in pay scales with certain other benefits and this dispute was adjudicated upon by a tribunal presided over by Shri G. Palit who made an award on 20th April 1950 which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of 11th May 1950. This award will hereafter be referred to as the Palit Award. The employees were not, however satisfied with this award and demanded the higher pay scales and dearness allowance awarded by the Mercantile Tribunal and in November 1952 this dispute which was described as a dispute between the Company and their Head Office employees was referred by the Government to a tribunal presided over by the late Shri S. K. Niyogi. This Tribunal made its award on 16th November 1953 which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of 10th December 1953. This award which will hereafter be referred to as the Niyogi Award improved upon the scales of pay and the dearness allowance fixed by the Palit Award for the clerical and subordinate staff of the Head Office. The employees appealed against the award to the Labour Appellate Tribunal claiming among other things that the same pay scales and dearness allowance should also be applicable to the clerical and the subordinate staff attached to the Company's godowns in Calcutta but that appeal was dismissed as it was outside the scope of the reference.

The present references have arisen out of the same dispute for the application of the pay scales and dearness allowance fixed by the Niyogi Award to the clerical and subordinate staff of the Company's godowns in Calcutta and certain other disputes touching all the employees of the Company. The first issue of the first dispute referred to the tribunal on 11th November 1958 relates to the claim for extension of the benefits of the Niyogi Award to the godown staff in respect of grades and scales of pay and dearness allowance and the second issue of the second dispute referred to the tribunal on 25th April 1959 relates to the claim for dearness allowance for the Sircars and the subordinate staff of the godowns. The Union has claimed dearness allowance for them according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales as awarded by the Mercantile Tribunal. Next there are two general issues relating to medical benefits and leave applicable to all the workmen of the Company and the Union wants an improvement of the conditions laid down by the Palit Award regarding them. There is also a claim for festival holidays for the gate durwans who do not now enjoy this benefit. Finally there are demands for grant of increments to, and upgrading of certain individual workmen. The details of the claims on these points and the Company's objections there will be referred to when I consider the special issues. The following are the issues in the two references:—

Issue No. 1 (of the first reference)

This issue is whether the benefits of the Niyogi Award should be extended to the godown staff of the Company at Lal Bazar and Kidderpore in respect of grades, scales of pay, dearness allowance and working hours. At the time of hearing, however, it was stated on behalf of the Union that the workmen had no grievance regarding working hours and that the only question to be decided is whether the grades and scales of pay and dearness allowance fixed by the Niyogi Award should be extended to the godown staff. At the time of the reference the Company had 4 godowns viz., 2 at Kidderpore and 2 at Lal Bazar, and these are the godowns mentioned in the reference. At present the Company has 5 godowns—2 at Kidderpore, 2 at Chowringhee and 1 at Lal Bazar. What has happened since the reference is that the Company's Head Office in Calcutta has been shifting from Lal Bazar to Chowringhee and this has led to the shifting of the Lal Bazar godowns also to Chowringhee—only a portion of one of the Lalbazar godowns containing pharmaceutical goods being retained there. According to the Company's statement, Ext. A, the godown staff consists of certain clerks, sircars, durwans and peons besides a carpenter and some packers and helpers. The carpenter, packers and helpers are not represented by the present Union and the Union has stated that it does not want any adjudication regarding them. They are Nos. 1 to 5 and 10 to 14 in the list of store workers under class II in the Company's statement, Ext. A. They along with the cooper S. N. Das and the sweeper Dalmira mentioned in the said statement who are not also represented by the Union should therefore be excluded from the present adjudication which will be confined only to the clerks, the sircars and the subordinate staff, viz., durwans and peons.

So far as the clerks are concerned, the Company has voluntarily extended to them the benefits of dearness allowance on the scales of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce as awarded by the Mercantile Tribunal, though it was not bound to do so under the award of the Engineering Tribunal, or under the Palit Award. Their pay scales are, however, governed by the Palit Award. The same scales of dearness allowance had also been voluntarily extended by the Company to the clerical staff of its Head Office in Calcutta before the Niyogi Award and the main ground on which the pay scales and grades of the clerical staff of the Head Office were revised by the Niyogi Award was that the Company having extended to them the benefits of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales of dearness allowance, it could not very well refuse to them the grades and pay scales awarded by the Mercantile Tribunal. The same argument has been addressed to me and it has been stated by the Union that it had at the time of that adjudication pressed the case of the clerical staff of the godowns also but that it failed to secure justice for them because the reference was confined to the Head Office staff. It has been contended that since the scales of dearness allowance are the same for the Head Office clerical staff and the godown clerical staff, there was no justifiable ground for any discrimination between them in the matter of pay scales.

Two preliminary objections to the Union's demands have been taken by the Company. The first objection is that the Labour Appellate Tribunal having rejected the Union's claim for extension of the benefits of the Niyogi Award to the godown staff and that decision being still binding on the parties, it is not open to the Union to reargue that claim. But that claim was rejected by the Labour Appellate Tribunal as being outside the scope of the reference which was confined to the Head Office staff. This is clear from its judgment. The claim was not rejected on the merits. Neither the Tribunal nor the Labour Appellate Tribunal had jurisdiction to adjudicate on that claim because it was outside the scope of the reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act and that is what the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal amounts to. No objection can therefore be taken to consideration of the claim on its merits on a fresh reference. The second objection is that the Union has not proved any material change in the circumstances since the Palit Award necessitating its revision. But the fact that the Niyogi Award has since revised the scales of pay of the Head Office staff as fixed by the Palit Award and the further fact that the Company has since extended the higher scales of dearness allowance fixed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the godown clerical staff certainly constitute material changes in the circumstances on which the Palit Award was based. Both the preliminary objections should therefore fail.

The Company has next pleaded that the existing discrimination in the matter of pay scales between the clerical staff of the Head Office and that of the godowns is justified because the nature of the work performed by the godown clerical staff is entirely different from, and inferior to, the nature of the work done by the Head Office clerical staff and the latter do more responsible and intricate work and have superior educational qualifications. It is also stated that the Company voluntarily agreed to extend the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales of dearness allowance to the godown clerical staff with a view to reach an overall settlement on all the issues and that this should not be construed as willingness on the part of the Company to treat them on the same footing as the Head Office clerical staff. It is true, as the Manager of the Company has stated in his evidence, that the Company does not require or insist on such educational qualifications in the case of godown clerical staff as it does in the case of Head Office clerical staff, but the educational standard is only the passing of the Matriculation or School Final examination. There are also matriculates among the clerks of the godowns, e.g., M. K. Dey (P.W. 5). Of course, there are some graduate clerks in the office but for them there is a different grade. It may also be conceded that on the whole the duties of the clerical staff of the Head Office are more responsible and complicated than the duties of the clerical staff of the godowns. A list of the duties of the godown clerical staff has been filed by the Union and excepting in respect of a few items it is not denied that they have to perform such duties. The godowns are stores and the godown clerks have to perform all the duties in connection with stores, viz., to maintain accounts, registers and stock cards and prepare reports. In the office also there are clerks performing routine duties and it cannot be said that all of them have the same kind of responsibilities and have to do intricate work. So far as the clerks in the lowest pay scale in the office doing routine work are concerned, I do not think that it can reasonably be said that there is any material or marked difference between them and the godown clerks. Nor do I think that any slight difference in this respect ought to materially affect the scales of pay of those who have almost similar educational qualifications. I may also mention in this connection that the Company has sometimes transferred clerks from the office to the godowns and vice versa. Some instances have been given by the Union which have not been denied, though they have been sought to be explained as temporary measures. However the fact of inter-transfer is there and cannot fairly be ignored. Above all there is the most important consideration that the clerical staff of the godowns enjoys the same scale of dearness allowance as the Head Office clerical staff.

As a matter of fact there is not very great difference between the lowest grade of clerks (grade C) fixed for the Head Office by the Niyogi Award and that fixed by the Palit Award. In the Niyogi Award the C grade is Rs. 70—4—134 while in the Palit Award it is Rs. 60—3—120. I think that in view of the considerations mentioned above and to do justice to the clerical staff of the godowns the lowest or C grade of the Niyogi Award should be extended to them in place of their existing C grade. The B grade of the Palit Award meant for the graduates which was Rs. 70—4—150 was considerably improved upon by the Niyogi Award and raised to Rs. 110—7—180. This grade cannot and should not be extended to the clerical staff of the godowns as the Company does not want such educational qualifications for them and it has not been stated that there are any graduates amongst the godown staff. The Palit Award also fixed a special grade Rs. 100—5—200 which is available to and is actually being enjoyed by some of the clerks of the godowns, as will appear from the statement, Ext. A. This grade compares favourably with the B grade of the Niyogi Award because though it has got a starting which is lower than the B grade by Rs. 10 it has got a higher maximum. I think, however, that in all fairness there should be a higher rate of increment in the later stages of this grade. This grade is accordingly recast as follows—Rs. 100—5—130—7—200. The special grade of the Niyogi Award—Rs. 160—10—260 is obviously inapplicable to the godown staff. I award accordingly that the existing C grade of the clerical staff of the godowns be substituted by the grade Rs. 70—4—134 and the existing special grade be substituted by the grade Rs. 100—5—130—7—200. The existing grade B of the Palit Award is abolished as unnecessary for the godown clerks. Promotions in future will be from the grade C to the special grade fixed above.

As regards fitting in the above grades I direct that those clerks who are in the existing grade C should be placed in the stage next higher to their present pay of the scale of revised grade C and should get two further increments in the scale. There are two clerks in the existing grade B, according to Ext. A. They should be absorbed in the revised special grade and should be placed at the next higher stage in the scale with one further increment. Those in the existing special grade should be placed in the next higher stage of the revised scale with one further increments. This should be given effect to from the date of publication of this award.

As regards dearness allowance, the clerks are already getting it according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale and so the only direction necessary is that this scale should be retained for them.

I next come to the case of the Sircars. According to the statement, Ext. A, there are 3 Sircars in the godowns. A grade had been demanded for them at the time of the Palit Award but the said award fixed no grade for them. A grade was fixed for the Sircars by the Niyogi Award which was revised by the Labour Appellate Tribunal and the grade so revised is Rs. 65—2—95—98—3—140. The Union has asked for extension of the same grade to the sircars named in Ert. A and the Union's case is that these sircars are really attached to the Head Office and not to the godown. The Manager of the Calcutta Branch of the Company has stated that there were no Sircars attached to the Head Office at the time of the Niyogi Award. If so, it does not appear why a grade should have been fixed for them by that award, or why the Labour Appellate Tribunal should have revised that grade. No such case was made by the Company at that time. The Manager had to admit that one of the Sircars G. M. Dutta was never attached to the godowns but was an outdoor Sircar. He may be an outdoor officer as all the Sircars are likely to be, but if he is not attached to any godown he must be attached to the Head Office. By now attaching the Sircars to the godowns the Company cannot avoid extending to them the grade fixed by the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The very fact that a grade was fixed for the Sircars as belonging to the Head Office staff without any objection on the part of the Company shows that they were then treated as attached to the Head Office and, in any case, there being now no other Sircars in the Head Office this grade should be deemed to have been fixed for the three existing Sircars and should be made available to them. I direct accordingly that they should be given that grade. Each of the Sircars should be fitted in this grade by being placed at the stage next higher to their present pay and will receive three further increments in the scale. This will be effective from the date of publication of this award. The dearness allowance to be paid to the Sircars is the subject-matter of a specific issue, viz., the second issue of the second reference, and will be considered in connection with that issue.

As regards the subordinate staff no change was made by the Niyogi Award in the grades fixed by the Palit Award and so no question of extension of the Niyogi Award in the matter of pay scales can arise in their case. They must continue to be governed by the Palit Award. The question of their dearness allowance will, however, have to be considered in connection with the specific issue framed on the point, viz., issue No. 2 of the second reference which I propose to take up next.

Issue No. 2 (of the second reference)

The subordinate staff and the Sircars of the godowns on whose behalf this issue has been raised are at present paid dearness allowance according to the award of the Second Engineering Tribunal. The demand of the Union is that they should be paid dearness allowance according to the scales of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce as in the Head Office. So far as the Sircars are concerned, it is claimed that they are, and should be treated on the same footing as clerks and should, therefore, get the scales of dearness allowance fixed by the Niyogi Award. But that award only directed that the clerical employees would get dearness allowance as before according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales and thereby confirmed the scales which the Company had voluntarily extended to them. The Company had not given the benefits of such scales to the Sircars and the award did not extend the said scales of them. The Sircars were not actually treated on the same footing as clerks and the very fact that a separate and lower grade was fixed for them shows that they could not have been so treated. I cannot agree therefore that the Sircars are entitled to get the same dearness allowance as the clerical staff.

As regards the subordinate staff the Union has complained that the Company has no uniform scale of dearness allowance for them. It appears from the statement, Ext. A, that while the majority of them get dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 31, according to the award of the Second Engineering Tribunal, four of them are paid at higher rates. There are two Durwans who are getting Rs. 58 per month. The Manager's evidence is that this is due to the fact that they were transferred from the Head Office where they were already getting dearness allowance on the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. Two other Durwans are getting dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 49 per month because they were getting at such scales from before. The Union has protested against this discrimination and demanded that the subordinate staff should all get dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale as in the Niyogi Award. But on the same ground as in the case of the Sircars the benefits of the Niyogi Award cannot be claimed for the subordinate staff of the godowns because that award only confirmed what the Company had voluntarily extended to the subordinate staff of the Head Office. It may be that in some concerns in Calcutta no distinction is made in the matter of dearness allowance between the subordinate staff of the Head Office and that of the godowns, as has been alleged by some witnesses for the Union, but that cannot be taken as the general practice and must be due to voluntary action on the part of the said concerns. Such distinction cannot be taken as discriminatory. The distinction is there and so far as I know it is common to the engineering industries. The Third Engineering Tribunal refused to extend the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales of dearness allowance to the subordinate staff of the engineering industries and that for very good reasons. I cannot therefore accept the Union's demand on this point.

At the same time I find that the dearness allowance fixed by the Second Engineering Tribunal is no longer suitable since it has been revised considerably by the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal. Though the Company was not a party to that award, nevertheless I think that by virtue of its position and importance it should revise its present scales in the light of that award. It is in a prosperous condition and there is no question that it cannot afford to do so. Accordingly I award that the Sircars and the subordinate staff of the godowns including the Tally-clerk and the sub-clerk mentioned in Ext. A, should get dearness allowance according to the scales fixed by the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal presided over by Shri G. Palit and published in the "Calcutta Gazette, extraordinary," of November 5, 1958.

Issue No. 2 (of the first reference)

The present position is that the Company retains a registered medical practitioner who is available for free consultation at his dispensary on all working days. The employees are given free supply of mixtures prescribed by the said medical practitioner and free injections, the injectibles being supplied by the patients, and in case of serious illness the doctor also visits the patient at his residence. The Union wants that all up-to-date medicines including injectibles should be supplied free of cost and that the doctor should visit the employees at their residence outside Calcutta. It is further demanded that the employees should get the facilities of hospital treatment and full payment of medical bills. Such claims seem to be extravagant. Medical aid was also an issue before Shri G. Palit and he considered the existing arrangement to be adequate in his award. No new circumstances have intervened since then. Medical aid is not the sole responsibility of the Company and the Company cannot be expected to supply free all kinds of costly medicines and injections to the employees. Nor can the Company be asked to arrange for free treatment of the employees living outside Calcutta. It appears from the Company's letter to the Union, dated 10th September 1956 (Ext. 5), that where an employee lives at a great distance from the doctor's dispensary the employee is given permission by the Company to call in a local doctor and when such permission is given the Company bears the cost of the local doctor's prescriptions for compounded medicines. Reference was made in this connection to the case of Karamchand Thappar & Bros., reported in 1953 L.A.C., p. 152. But the facilities awarded in that case cannot be taken as the standard and there is nothing to show that it is a comparable concern. The Mercantile Tribunal left the matter to the discretion of each Company. The existing facilities are, in my opinion, sufficient and no further direction is necessary.

Issue No. 3 (of the first reference)

The Union has made a grievance of the fact that the gate Durwans at Kidderpore godowns do not get the festival holidays which are enjoyed by the other staff. The Company's case is that it is not usual to grant festival holidays to the durwans who are in charge of gates as it is necessary that they should keep watch over the Company's properties during the holidays. It is clear therefore that by the very nature of their duties the gate durwans should not be granted such holidays. The Union recognised this but suggested that they should be compensated in some manner for the loss of holidays. The Company has mentioned in its written statement that it will have no objection to pay double the normal wages to the gate durwans who may be required to work on a National holiday like Republic Day or Independence Day. I accept this proposal not only for the National holidays but also in respect of other festival holidays on which the gate durwans may have to work. This will be sufficient compensation to them. I direct accordingly that the gate durwans should get double the normal wages for working on festival holidays.

Issue No. 4 (of the first reference)

The Union's grievance on this issue is that the Company has withheld the granting of increments to the workmen named therein in violation of the Palit Award. These workmen are operatives in the factory and some of them are semi-skilled, while others are unskilled. The Palit Award fixed a grade (C) with annual increments for three years for the unskilled workmen and another grade (B) with a higher rate of increment for six years for the semi-skilled. In giving directions for the fitting in of the existing workmen in these grade Shri Palit observed "Where a man in a certain grade has already reached the maximum provided under the above pay scale, he should either be promoted to the next higher grade or, at all events, must be given the increment available to such higher grade". It is said that these workmen have not been given further increments after reaching the maximum of the respective grades (B or C) in which they were placed. This is not, however, quite correct. The Company has filed a statement (Ext. G) showing that these workmen have received further increments exceeding the maximum of the respective grades fixed by the Palit Award. In fact Ext. H shows that the Company has revised the rate of the Palit Award for both grades B and C for the better. Each of these workmen is getting higher wages than what he would have got under that award. The above direction which was given for the purpose of fitting in the grades fixed cannot be cited as a direction for automatic promotion for one grade to another. Such promotion is a function of the management and must depend on trade tests. I am satisfied from the statement, Ext. G, that these workmen cannot have any legitimate grievance and are not entitled to any further relief.

Issue No. 3 (of the second reference)

The claim on this issue is that the employees named therein should be upgraded. So far as the first employee M. K. Dey is concerned the claim that he should be given the special grade fixed by the Palit Award has already been conceded by the Company, as would appear from Ext. A. No. 2 A. C. Bose is a Time-keeper in the C grade of the Palit Award (Ext. A). The Union wants that he should be promoted to the B grade. The B grade of the Palit Award has been abolished by this award. Besides, promotion from one grade to another is a matter for the Company to decide and it should be left to the discretion of the Company without any interference from the Tribunal. The C grade has been revised and he will get some increments by this award. No. 3 S. R. Ghosh is a sub-clerk according to the statement, Ext. A, and the Manager's evidence is that he has been promoted from the workers' grade and has been given a higher grade of Rs. 45—3—75 created by the Company for such promotees who are literate for doing some routine jobs. The Union wants that he should be designated as an outdoor clerk and put in the clerical grade. But he is not actually a clerk and he is not entrusted with the duties of a clerk. Therefore the Union's demand regarding him cannot be accepted. No. 4 S. Y. Hoque is a store worker in the semi-skilled B grade. The Union's demand is that he should be designated as a markman. But there is no such designation in existence and there is no grade for it. No case has been made out why he should be given a higher grade. Nos. 6, 7 and 8 are the three Sircars and I have already directed that they should get and be fitted in the grade for the Sircars fixed by the Labour Appellate Tribunal. I say nothing about No. 5 B. N. Nanda as the Company has agreed to reconsider his case and on the understanding the Union did not press his case before me.

Issue No. 1 (of the second reference)

The existing conditions are that the clerks get 14 days' privilege leave cumulative up to 28 days, 10 days' casual leave and 15 days' sick leave on full pay and allowances. The subordinate staff get privilege leave for 14 days non-cumulative and sick leave for 15 days on full pay. This was settled by the Palit Award. The demand of the Union on behalf of all employees is that the privilege leave should be for one month, casual leave for 14 days and sick leave for one month on full pay for each year of service subject to a maximum of 12 months in all or alternatively sick leave for one month on full pay and thereafter for two months on half pay. The leave facilities demanded are out of all proportion to what are normal in such establishments and exceed what was awarded by the Mercantile Tribunal. No reason has been shown why the Palit Award on the point should be disturbed. It appears, however, that in the Mercantile Tribunal Award privilege leave for those clerks who have put in 10 years' service or more was fixed at 28 days per year and since the pay scales of that award have been extended to the clerical staff of this Company I think that privilege leave for the clerical staff should be fixed on that basis. I direct accordingly that those clerks who have put in 10 years of service and over should be entitled to 28 days privilege leave annually on full pay and allowances cumulative up to 56 days. Subject to this the existing leave conditions will continue.

previously employed in Messrs. Calcutta Press Private Ltd., 1 Wellington Square, Calcutta-13, hereinafter referred to as the Press for the sake of brevity.

Decision

Besides the point referred to this Court for determination, the learned Advocate for the Press also raised a point that this is not an industrial dispute. So, an additional issue, namely, whether this is an industrial dispute also comes up for determination. I take up this issue first. From the very order of reference it appears that this workman, an employee of Messrs. Calcutta Press Private Ltd., is represented by the West Bengal Press Workers' and Employees' Union. This is a Union of the Press industry itself. So, following the principles laid down in the case of Express Newspapers Ltd. reported in 1951 L.L.J., Vol. I, pages 600-604 quoted hereunder, I hold that this is an industrial dispute:—

"Where the Union is of the workmen employed in that particular industry, it may be presumed that when a Union takes up the cause of an individual workman it signifies a concerted action on the part of the workmen who are members of that Union."

The learned Advocate for the Press argued that since there was no meeting of the Union, nor was there any resolution made by the employees of the Press over the dismissal of the workman concerned, it cannot be said that the Union collectively took up his cause. I do not think, this contention of the Press is sound as the Union being verbally approached by the majority of workmen of the Press took up his cause and obtained this order of reference from Government. That the members of the Union did not hold any meeting or make any written resolution as contended for the Press does not affect the industrial character of the dispute. Furthermore, it appears from Ext. 1 that 48 employees of the instant Press approached the Managing Director for withdrawal of the order of suspension passed on the workman concerned. That goes to signify that the majority of employees of this Press collectively espoused his cause. The Press has adduced no evidence to rebut the presumption that the Union stands at the back of the workman and supports his cause. I, therefore, hold that this is an industrial dispute, and the reference is competent and the Court is entitled to adjudicate upon it.

Next, I take up the point as to the justifiability or otherwise of the dismissal of the workman concerned. The Press justifies the dismissal of the workman on the basis of the charge-sheet, dated 11th November 1958 (Ext. A), drawn up against him. The gist of the charge is the workman's refusal to obey the orders of the Supervisor Shri Sachindra Sen Gupta who asked him to correct the defects and complete a half-finished task which was very urgent, and secondly, the impertinent, indisciplined and insulting behaviour of the workman towards the Managing Director Shri Santi Kumar Ghosh on 8th November 1958. The workman admittedly accepted one charge-sheet, and in his explanation (Ext. B) denied the charges levelled against him. So far as the first charge is concerned, the implication of his explanation is that he could not do the task imposed upon him as he apprehended that it would not be taken into consideration in assessing his output of work. To this the evidence of the Press is that whatever work is put in by an employee, is taken into consideration. There is no dispute that the task which he was asked to carry out was not his normal duty, and so as a Compositor-employee of the Press he was bound to carry out that task. So far as the second charge is concerned the workman has also denied it. At this stage, I would observe that this workman was placed under suspension for 12 days from 11th November 1958, but this suspension order was withdrawn at the intervention of his colleagues and he was permitted to rejoin on 24th November 1958. The Press undisputedly held an enquiry into the charges. The proceedings of the enquiry are marked Ext. J. The enquiry was first fixed for 20th November 1958, but at the intervention of Biraj Babu and Basir Ahmed who suggested that the workman would offer an apology, and so awaiting that apology the enquiry stood adjourned to 22nd November 1958 and a draft apology was in course of preparation and so it was again adjourned. The workman did not offer any apology but ultimately took a stand that the charge-sheet should be first withdrawn and apology would follow. For the Press, it is said that the draft apology was made over to the workman which he did not ultimately give, and so the enquiry was to be held on 26th November 1958, but the enquiry could not be held on that date even, and ultimately it was adjourned to 28th November 1958 (vide Ext. D series). The enquiry commenced admittedly, and within a few minutes of its commencement the workman left the venue of enquiry. For the Press, it is said that the workman was asked to sign in token of his presence at the enquiry which he refused to do, and thus within 10 minutes of the commencement of the enquiry he left the place without participating in the enquiry at all. For the Union, it is contended that the result of the enquiry should be discarded as principles of natural justice were violated, and the workman was victimised. Principle of natural justice means that no one should be condemned unheard (audi alteram partem). In this case, it is common ground that the workman left the place of enquiry within 10 minutes of its commencement. His plea is that Shri Saroj Bose (C.W. 1) asked him to leave the place of enquiry. Shri Saroj Bose has denied this. It is difficult for me to believe that the workman left the place of enquiry at the mere asking of Saroj Bose. Neither Shri Saroj Bose was competent to so order, nor was the workman bound to listen to this unjustified and unwarranted order of Shri Saroj Bose. After the workman left the place of enquiry, the enquiry proceeded in due course, of course, behind the back of the workman. The Press examined three witnesses, viz., Saroj Bose, Paritosh Roy and Sachindra Sen Gupta, and Shri Santi Kumar Ghosh, Managing Director, put in a written statement (Ext. N) at the enquiry, and the Enquiring Officer Shri H. Das found him guilty and submitted his findings (Ext. K), and the Managing Director passed orders (Ext. O), dated 26th December 1958, dismissing him from service. I have gone through the evidence recorded at the enquiry which leads me to the same conclusion as reached by the Press. The learned representative for the Union argued that the decision reached at the domestic enquiry should be discarded as vitiated by violation of principles of natural justice and victimisation. I do not think, principles of natural justice were violated as the workman was given opportunity to put in his defence and examined his own witnesses and cross-examine witnesses for the Press, but he denied himself the opportunity afforded to him by leaving the venue of enquiry. In such circumstances, it cannot be held that the Press is guilty of violation of principles of natural justice. If the Press had held the enquiry sub rosa and clandestinely behind the back of the workman, it might be observed that the principles of natural justice were violated. In the instant circumstances, it would be dangerous to hold that principles of natural justice were violated, and in that case it would be putting premium upon such non-co-operative conduct of the workman and placing employers in an embarrassing position so as to nullify all such domestic enquiries. As regards the allegation of victimisation, there is nothing cogent to establish this plea. Thus having due regard to all circumstances, I am unable to reject the result of the enquiry.

Apart from the domestic enquiry, both parties adduced evidence in this Court. The Press examined C.W. 1, Shri Saroj Bose, Legal Adviser of the Association of Master Printers of West Bengal Ltd., Shri Nirmal Das Gupta, the Administrative Officer of the Press (C.W. 2), Shri Santi Kumar Ghosh, Managing Director (C.W. 4), Shri Sachindra Mohan Sen Gupta Supervisor (C.W. 5) and Shri Paritosh Roy (C.W. 6), Office Assistant-in-charge of the Association of Master Printers, before this Court. From perusal of the evidence as a whole, I conclude that both the charges formulated in the charge sheet are proved. I have no cogent reasons to disbelieve the evidence adduced in this Court for the Company, unless the contention of the Union that the Company simply victimised the workman for his active trade unionism is accepted as Gospel truth. In fact, no malice or ill will can be attributed to the Press which withdrew the suspension order and gave him wages for the suspension period. If the workman would have tendered an apology there would have been an end of the dispute, but it appears he was ill-advised and refrained from tendering an apology. As regards the plea of victimisation, it may be pointed out that the evidence on the side of the Union is that this workman was the Vice-President of the Union since June 1958, but there is no evidence to show that any letter was addressed to the Press intimating his Vice-Presidency. Besides, the conduct of the Press shows that it bore no grudge or ill will against the workman since the order of suspension was withdrawn and he was allowed full wages for the period of suspension. The Press intended giving him a full hearing, but he by his own conduct, i.e., by being absent from the enquiry, denied himself the opportunity of being heard at the enquiry. However, the evidence adduced for the Company in Court barring minor discrepancies here and there which are quite natural after a lapse of 2 years.

is deemed quite adequate for making out the charges. I find none of the vitiating elements present in this case as laid down in the case of G. C. McKenzie and others reported in 1959 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 285, which lays down as follows:—

“Undoubtedly, the management of a concern has power to direct its own internal administration and discipline; but the power is not unlimited and when a dispute arises, industrial tribunals have been given the power to see whether the termination of service of a workman is justified and to give appropriate relief. In case of dismissal on misconduct, the tribunal does not, however, act as a Court of Appeal and substitute its own judgment for that of the management. It will interfere—

- (i) when there is want of good faith,
- (ii) when there is victimisation or unfair labour practice,
- (iii) when the management has been guilty of a basic error or violation of a principle of natural justice, and
- (iv) when on the materials the finding is completely baseless or perverse.

It is for the management to determine what constitutes major misconduct within its standing orders sufficient to merit dismissal of a workman, but in determining such misconduct it must have facts upon which to base its conclusions and it must act in good faith without caprice or discrimination and without motives of vindictiveness, intimidation or resorting to unfair labour practice, and there must be no infraction of the accepted rules of natural justice. When the management does have facts from which it can conclude misconduct, its judgment cannot be questioned provided the abovementioned principles are not violated. But in the absence of these facts or in case of violation of the principles set out above, its position is untenable.

In the absence of any of the vitiating circumstances mentioned above, it would not be open to the industrial tribunal (in the instant case by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in appeal) to disbelieve the evidence of a witness examined at the domestic enquiry and come to a different conclusion on merits.”

The same principles have since been very vividly reiterated in the case of National Tobacco Co. of India Ltd. by the Calcutta High Court reported in Vol. 64, Calcutta Weekly Notes, pages 304-324. Thus I find that the decision of guilty” as reached by the Press at the domestic enquiry cannot be interfered with and it stands. Thus as the result of independent enquiry as well held by the Court where both parties adduced their evidence, I hold that the charges of disobedience to carry out lawful orders of the supervisor and his impertinent and insulting behaviour towards Shri Santi Kumar Ghosh, Managing Director, on 8th November 1958 are proved.

Next, I come to the question of punishment. The Press refers to the award passed by Shri A. Das Gupta in 1948, and justifies the dismissal of the workman concerned under paragraph 13(b)(i) and (viii) for wilful insubordination or disobedience, etc. This workman has put in about 10/11 years' service in the Press, and I think, having regard to his past record of service which is not wholly clean and in the interests of justice, the order of dismissal may fitly be converted into one of discharge, and thus the order of dismissal is converted into one of discharge, and he may be given 3 months' wages as compensation for loss of service.

To sum up, the dispute is held to be an industrial dispute, and the order of dismissal is converted into one of discharge. The Press is directed to pay the workman his 3 months' wages at the rate of Rs. 116 per month (i.e., Rs. 348) within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

This is a case arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of Mahato Prosad and nine others previously employed in Messrs. Dass Steel Industries of India, 188 Manicktolla Main Road, Calcutta (Head Office—19 Maharshi Debendra Road, Calcutta-7), hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity.

Decision.

Both the parties put in their respective written statements and the case was ready for hearing. 27th April 1960 was the date fixed for hearing. In the mean time on 25th March 1960 the parties put in a joint petition of compromise stating that the workmen concerned withdrew all their claims against the Company including the claim of reinstatement and the Company on the other hand agreed to make some ex-gratia payments to the workmen concerned within a month of the publication of this award. The terms of compromise appear to be fair, reasonable and lawful and may be given effect to. The dispute is thus disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which do form a part of the award.

AWARD

Government order No. 3933-I.R./IR/10L-58, dated the 14th August 1959, a dispute between Messrs. Sen Raleigh Industries of India Limited (hereinafter referred to as the Company), their workmen represented by the Sen Raleigh Cycle Factory Mazdoor Congress, c/o Asansol Iron and Steel Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), has been referred for adjudication to this Tribunal.

The issues framed by Government are—

- 1) Whether the dismissal of Shri Jataram Goala is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?
- 2) Whether the closure of the Receiving Section is justified?

Issue No. 1: The Union's case is that Shri Jataram Goala was working as a helper in Department No. 48 (which comprises, according to the Foreman [O.P.W. 1] Press, Auto Turnery, Handling and Forging Sections). On 7th May 1959 he was served with a charge-sheet alleging that he had refused to work as a handling man in another section and he had been idling away his time. On 9th May 1959 he submitted a reply to the charge-sheet denying the allegations made in the charge. The Company fixed 21st May 1959 as the date for hearing of the matter. Shri Goala requested the Company to allow Shri C. M. Ojha, a co-worker, to represent him in the enquiry, but the latter was not allowed leave on the date of the enquiry and on 22nd May 1959 the Company issued a letter of dismissal dispensing his service with effect from 23rd May 1959.

The Company's case on this point is that Shri Goala was employed as a Shop Labourer or handling man in the Auto and Turnery Section and he was working as a handling man in the Turnery Section. Due to his unsatisfactory feeding of the operatives in that section the work there suffered and the Foreman of the department transferred him from that section to the Auto Section to work as a handling man, but he refused to work in the Auto Section and continued to stay in the Turnery Section without doing any work. As he deliberately refused to carry out the reasonable and lawful orders of his superior, a charge-sheet was issued to him to which he replied and a departmental enquiry was held by an officer of the Company. It is not a fact that the Company did not allow leave to Shri C. M. Ojha to attend the enquiry. In fact, arrangements were made to get release of Shri Ojha for attending the enquiry, but at the time when it was held, Shri Goala though requested, refused to bring Shri Ojha to attend the enquiry. A proper enquiry was held and the finding of the Enquiring Officer was that Shri Goala was guilty of the charge and so, he was dismissed by the Company according to its Standing Orders and he is entitled to no relief whatsoever.

At the time of hearing, Shri Goala has not been examined as a witness to deny the charge that he had refused to carry out the order of transfer and had wasted and idled away his time without doing any work, or that at the time of enquiry he was asked to bring his observer Shri Ojha and had failed to do so. So, there is no reason to disbelieve the evidence of Shri Kamal Bose (O.P.W. 1) foreman of Department No. 48 and that of the Enquiring Officer Shri B. N. Bagchi (O.P.W. 2), the Labour Officer of the Company. It has been proved by them as well as the relevant documents (Exts. A to K) that Shri Goala was transferred by O.P.W. 1 from the Turnery Department to the Auto Shop with effect from 7th May 1959 but he did not comply with that order and persisted in staying in the Turnery Department and idled away his time.

That he did so is apparent from his reply (Ext. E) to the charge, dated 9th May 1959; for he maintained in it that he worked as a helper in the Turnery Department and he was working as usual and did his usual duties and there had been no programme of his transfer to any other department. Apparently, the man did not obey the order of his superior, namely, O.P.W. 1. Perhaps he thought, and it has been also argued on his behalf at the time of hearing, that O.P.W. 1 was not the proper person to transfer him from one section to another and so, he disobeyed the latter's order; but O.P.W. 1 says that he is authorised by the Company to pass such orders of transfer and there is no reason to disbelieve him. Even if he was not authorised to pass such orders of transfer, the workman, namely, Shri Goala should not have taken the law into his own hands and decided whether the order was justified or not and flouted the same. If really he thought that O.P.W. 1 had no authority to pass such an order, he should have complied therewith and then appealed to the management against that order. If workmen be given the jurisdiction to judge the merits and demerits, the propriety or impropriety of the orders of their superiors and to act according to their judgment there will be no limit to indiscipline and insubordination; in a word, it can be said that chaos would prevail. So, it is held that Shri Goala was guilty of insubordination and idling away his time and he was rightly charged for his misdemeanour.

The enquiry against him was also properly held by Shri Bagchi, O.P.W. 2. From the records proved in this case of the Company, it appears that Shri Ojha, the observer selected by Shri Goala was to be released from his duties for the purpose of attending the enquiry but Shri Goala did not care to call him at that time. He seems to have adapted an attitude of non-co-operation then. Be that as it may, the enquiry is held to have been properly made and there has been no violation of the principles of natural justice. Also, no motive of victimisation has been established. There was absolutely no mala fide on the part of the Management in dismissing Shri Goala. It is therefore to be held that the Company's action against Shri Goala is quite justified and he is entitled to no relief whatsoever.

It has been contended on behalf of Shri Goala that he could not be transferred from one section to another as there was no such provision in the Standing Orders of the Company. This argument is misconceived; for, there is such a provision in the Standing Orders (Ext. 1) (vide section g of paragraph 2).

Issue No. 2: The emphatic statement of the Company regarding this issue is that there has been no closure of the Receiving Section as such (vide paragraph 4 of the written statement of the Company). The Union has not also proved that this section has been closed. So, the question does not arise as to whether closure of the Receiving Section is justified or not. For, one cannot have a headache without a head.

It has been contended on behalf of the Union that some workmen of the Receiving Section have been transferred to some other sections to the detriment of their existing conditions of service. It is neither here, nor there so far as the issue framed is concerned. If that be the grievance of the Union, it may agitate the matter properly and get a proper reference made by Government. So far as this issue in the present case is concerned it is to be left unanswered in view of the facts and circumstances discussed above.

This is the award of the Tribunal.

By Government Order No. 1604-I.R./IR/10L-62/59, dated the 22nd April 1959, a dispute between Messrs. Associated Electrical Industries (India) Private Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Associated Electrical Industries India Ltd. Welfare Association (hereinafter referred to as the Union) has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The only issue framed by Government is:

1. Whether the workmen are entitled to any additional bonus for the year ended on 31st October 1957. If so, what should be the quantum of such bonus?

AWARD

It is common ground that the Company has paid one month's basic pay to some of the workmen and at a higher rate to the rest at the time of the Puja of 1958 on account of bonus for 1956-57. Also, the Company granted a loan to all workmen (applying for the same) which was equivalent to half month's basic salary repayable monthly by deduction from salary in six equal instalments. As the amount of bonus payable under the available surplus formula could not be amicably settled, the matter was referred for adjudication and it was agreed that if the Tribunal awarded a profit sharing bonus in excess of what was given by the Company, the aforesaid loan would be repaid from the excess awarded; otherwise, it would have to be repaid according to the direction of the Tribunal.

In its written statement, the Union has given a past history of the battles for bonus with the Company and the Company has also given reply thereto in its written statement. This part of the Union's case and the rejoinder of the Company regarding the historical aspect of the question of bonus have very little relevancy in the instant case. Probably the Union has delved into the past history of the battles with the hope of proving that the workmen are entitled to get one month's basic pay as Puja bonus every year and, over and above, they are entitled to get profit bonus on the basis of the available surplus formula. But this hope of the Union seems to be nothing but building castles in the air. For, it is an admitted fact that the Company first paid bonus to the workmen equivalent to one month's pay as bonus only in the year 1949 and that payment was not made voluntarily, but as a result of adjudication. Also, in subsequent years bonus of varying quanta was given by the Company but in some years on compulsion by virtue of awards of Tribunals. Hence, the Union's contention that they are entitled to one month's basic pay as Puja bonus and also a profit bonus is nothing but a frivolous claim which, it may be mentioned here, has been made in course of some previous adjudications, but rejected. Further, the issue as framed by Government does not cover this question of Puja bonus either directly or incidentally.

As a result, the only point to be decided in this case is whether there is available surplus justifying award of bonus to the workmen and if so, whether a bonus amounting to more than what has been voluntarily given by the Company can be awarded to the workmen. The Union claims in all three months' and four months' basic pay as bonus for the clerical and subordinate staff respectively. The Company allege that it has no available surplus for being distributed as bonus.

Both parties have filed statements of available surplus. The Union has filed two statements, one on 1st March 1960 and the latest, on 2nd March 1960 and these will be taken into consideration for the purpose of this case.

According to the Union the gross profit of the Company is Rs. 14.15 lakh (the figure in lakh is and will be hereinafter given to the nearest approximation as far as practicable). According to the Company, the figure of gross profit is Rs. 14.73 lakh including bonus charged in the accounts for previous year. The Company's figure is to be taken into account for the purpose of calculating the available surplus.

From this gross profit prior charges are to be deducted according to the Full Bench Formula; also, some other deductions claimed by the Company are to be made if the Company be held to be legally entitled to the same.

Before entering into the question of "deductions" one point is required to be made clear. The Company's contention is that the onus is upon the Union to prove that there is available surplus justifying its claim for bonus and some case laws on the point have been cited by the Company. No authority is necessary for upholding this particular contention of the Company. For, it is a universal principle of law that a claimant is to prove his claim; but the point is whether he is to go to the whole hog with the burden of proof for the purpose of establishing his claim. That depends on the particular nature and facts and circumstances of the case. In the instant case, the Union is at first to prove the amount of gross profit which it has more than done as found above. This gross profit will show that, prima facie, the Union's claim for bonus is tenable. Now, the onus will shift upon the Company to prove that this amount of gross profit is something illusory and tantalising, because some prior charges and other amounts are to be deducted from the gross profit which will eat up the same entirely or to such an extent that there will be no scope for awarding any bonus to the workmen.

Now, the items of deductions claimed by the Company on account of prior charges and other heads are being taken up seriatim.

(1) The Company has claimed deduction of normal depreciation at Rs. 1.02 lakh. The Union contends that this figure is excessive; for, in answer to the interrogatories delivered by the Union to the Company, the latter has shown normal depreciation for the year in question as Rs. 65,345. The Company claims that the notional normal depreciation will be Rs. 1.02 lakh. The contention of the Company is to be upheld.

The Company has filed a chart how the notional normal depreciation has been worked out. On the objection of the Union, the chart has not been marked exhibit, but there seems to be no reasonable doubt that the notional normal depreciation will come up to Rs. 1.02 lakh as claimed by the Company; for, "notional normal depreciation" means, the normal depreciation that would have been allowed to the Company for the particular year in question if in the previous years it had not been allowed any other type of statutory depreciation except normal depreciation (vide Surat Electricity case, 1957 II, L.L.J., page 648). In view of this connotation of notional normal depreciation, it is held that the Company's claim on this head at Rs. 1.02 lakh is not improper or incorrect.

(2) The Company has claimed deduction of Rs. .24 lakh on account of wealth-tax paid. The Union is unwilling to allow any deduction on this head. But wealth-tax being a statutory charge, there is no reason why the Company should not be given deduction therefor from the gross profit as a prior charge. It may be contended that this item has not been included in the Full Bench Formula; but it is to be remembered that when that formula was propounded there was no statutory provision for levying wealth-tax. So, it is held that the Company will get a deduction of Rs. .24 lakh on account of wealth-tax.

(3) The paid-up capital of the Company is Rs. 30 lakh. The Company has claimed six per cent. dividend thereon. The Union is willing to allow six per cent. dividend but not on the whole amount, as the paid-up capital consists of Rs. 8,08,000 paid in cash and the remainder as bonus shares. The Union contends that six per cent. dividend should be granted on the cash paid shares and five per cent. dividend on the bonus shares. There seems to be no reason why this distinction should be made in allowing dividend between these two types of shares. The Bonus shares have been ploughed back as capital and has been employed for the purpose of the business of Company and this must have helped in earning profit out of which bonus is being now claimed the workmen. So, there seems to be no equity in the contention that the dividend on bonus shares should be paid at a lesser rate than that of cash shares. If this contention be accepted shareholders may be deterred from ploughing back bonus shares as capital of the concern.

As a result, it is held that six per cent. dividend to be allowed for the entire paid-up capital of 30 lakh and thus a sum of Rs. 1.80 lakh is to be deducted from the gross profit on this account.

(f) It is a fact that the Company has been borrowing for its business a sum of Rs. 84 lakh which it has obtained as loan without interest from the subsidiary Companies in England. The Company claims a return of 4 per cent. on this amount, but the Union is unwilling to allow any return on this head on the ground that the Company has not to pay any interest for this amount. The contention of the Union is not reasonable. Similarly as the bonus shares, this particular loan has been employed for earning the profit out of which the workmen are claiming bonus. The Management is certainly entitled to get some return on any amount that is employed for earning profits whether it has procured the same by begging, borrowing or stealing. But the Company's claim of 4 per cent. return seems to be somewhat excessive. It will be just and fair if a 2 per cent. return is allowed therefor.

As a result, it is held that 2 per cent. return is to be given for this amount, and so, a sum of Rs. 1.68 lakh is to be deducted from the gross profit.

According to the Management, the working capital employed during the year in question amounts to Rs. 44.45 lakh and a 4 per cent. return has been claimed on this amount. The Union opposes any deduction on account of the working capital on the ground that the Company has not been able to prove if at all any amount was used as working capital and if so, what was the extent of it.

In order to prove that a sum of Rs. 44.45 lakh was employed as working capital, the Company has submitted a statement of its Auditors showing that general reserves as shown in the balance-sheet amount to Rs. 22 lakh; this and certain amounts added for income tax, sales tax, bad and doubtful debts, contingency, special contingency, provision for dividend and the unallocated balance on profit and loss account of the preceding year, were used as working capital. Now, the auditors' report or the statement of the Company made in their written statement on this head is not sufficient evidence for holding that the amount advanced by the Company was used as working capital. Shri Satya Ranjan Dutta (O.P.W.1) who was accountant in the employ of the Company has submitted that the amount of Rs. 44.45 lakh as well as the aforesaid interest-free loan of Rs. 84 lakh was used as working capital. This statement of Shri Dutta is not a very convincing proof that any amount besides the said loan of Rs. 84 lakh was used as working capital. It is to be noted that the witness (P.W.1.) has denied this claim of the Company regarding working capital.

A broad test to find out whether any amount has been employed as working capital in a particular year is to add up the fixed assets and current assets and to subtract therefrom the paid-up capital and current liabilities. Now, on working out this formula according to the figures given in the balance-sheet for the year in question and including in "current assets" the amount on account of stock in trade, work in progress, and sundry debtors unsecured, it appears that the resultant figure becomes negative (the corresponding figures are Rs. 8.57 lakh + Rs. 32.72 lakh + Rs. 123.50 lakh + Rs. 94.47 lakh - Rs. 30 lakhs - Rs. 237.18 lakh). Hence, it is to be held that no amount was used by the Company as working capital except the aforesaid loan of Rs. 80 lakh, and so, the Company is not entitled to any deduction on account of working capital except of the said loan.

(g) The Company has claimed a deduction of a sum of Rs. 4.71 lakh as amount credited to the account not related to the bonus year in question or to the Company's trading profit of that year. In this sum are included several items which are taken up serially:-

(a) A sum of Rs. 3.25 lakh has been claimed by the Company to be deducted on account of provision for loss of subsidiary company written back and provision for sales tax written back. It is very difficult to understand why these amounts shall be deducted from the gross profit of the bonus year. The balance-sheet of the Company for the year 1956 shows that Rs. 2.05 lakh and Rs. 2 lakh were respectively shown in "current liabilities" as provision for loss incurred by subsidiary and provision for sales tax respectively. There seems to be no manner of justification in deducting this amount from the gross profit of the year in question for the purpose of calculating bonus. As regards the provision for loss incurred by subsidiary no deduction should be made from the profit of the Company for the purpose of calculation of available surplus as it is not proved that the profit of the said subsidiary had ever been taken into account as profit of the Company for the calculation of bonus in any previous year. So, it is held that the Company is not entitled to any deduction on these two heads as claimed.

(b) The Company has claimed deduction of a total sum of Rs. 1.11 lakh on account of sale of assets, balance brought forward from previous year, interest on tax prepayments and interest on investments. This sum is to be deducted from the gross profit, as apparently, the workmen made no contribution for the earning of this amount.

(c) The Company has claimed deduction of a sum of Rs. .35 lakh as share of profit less losses as partners of registered firms. From the evidence of O.P.W.1, it has been transferred that out of the paid-up capital of the Company, some amount has been invested in two other registered firms and the said sum of Rs. .35 lakh represents the net profit of the Company out of that investment. The Company's claim for deducting this amount from the gross profit for the purpose of calculation of bonus does not stand to reason. It has claimed deduction of this dividend for the entire paid-up capital. For this reason alone the profit of Rs. .35 lakh which has resulted by investing a part of the paid-up capital must form an integral part of the gross profit of the Company and on no account this can be deducted in calculating available surplus. It has been contended by the Company that the workmen's contribution for earning this profit is nil. This contention of the Company cannot be accepted for, it is to be presumed that the workmen had to do at least some clerical work in respect of this income. More-over, contribution or no contribution, the workmen are entitled to have this amount included in the available surplus for the purpose of calculation of bonus for the simple reason that it has been earned by investing a portion of the paid-up capital of the Company for which deduction of return at the rate of 6 per cent. has been claimed by the Company. The Company cannot have it both ways.

(7) The Company has claimed a deduction of Rs. 2.77 lakh as extraneous income on account of commission on direct sales made to India by the U.K. Associated Companies. In the Profit and Loss Account this amount has not been mentioned specifically and separately, but a sum of Rs. 3.44 lakh has been shown under the heading "Commission". If really a sum of Rs. 2.77 lakh had been earned as commission on direct sales made to India by the U.K. Associated Companies, as is now being claimed, there was no reason why this amount has not been so specified in the Profit and Loss Account. In proof of this claim, the Company has produced its auditor's certificate and its witness (O.P.W.I.) has corroborated the same; but the evidence of O.P.W.I. as well as the auditor's certificate has no value in support of this claim of the Company. It should have been proved by documentary evidence that by virtue of some agreement with the U.K. Associated Companies, the Company is entitled to commission on direct sales made to India and also the Company should have proved by documentary evidence the actual amount earned by it on account of such commission. As that has not been done, it is held that the Company's claim of deduction of Rs. 2.77 lakh as extraneous income has not been proved and that the entire earning on account of commission as shown in the balance-sheet is trading profit for that year in question earned by the joint contribution of the Company and the workmen.

(8) Now remains only the deduction to be made on account of income tax and this point is taken up last of all because the amount to be deducted on this head cannot be worked out without determining the actual amount of gross profit to be taken into account for the purpose of calculation of bonus, which is to be done after deduction of the different items claimed by the Company as not related to the bonus year or to the Company's trading profit of that year or is extraneous income or earned without any contribution of the workmen.

The Company has claimed deduction of income-tax and super tax at the rate of 51.5 per cent. This rate is not challenged by the Union. However, there is a difference between the parties regarding the amount to be deducted on account of income-tax. The Company has deducted Rs. 3.25 lakh on this head, while the Union has allowed deduction of Rs. 7.06 lakh. Both are magnanimous, no doubt; but there is a fly in the ointment of each. The Company has tried to carve out big chunk from the gross profit by way of profit alleged to be not related to the bonus year in question or as extraneous income, while the Union is not willing even to give the Company a deduction on account of some recognised prior charge. However, for the purpose of deduction of income tax, the gross profit should be taken as Rs. 11.11 lakh, i.e., the amount shown in the Company statement of available surplus as the total of gross profit. From this, a sum of Rs. 1.11 lakh (see item 6b above) is to be deducted as balance brought forward from previous year, etc., and also deduction is to be made of a sum of Rs. 1.10 lakh on account of the total depreciation allowance stated in the Company's affidavit in answer to interrogatories served by the Union. Thus, the amount of profit assessable to income-tax is found to be Rs. 12.63 lakh. Hence, a notional amount of Rs. 6.50 lakh is to be deducted on account of income-tax and super tax.

Here, it is to be noted that much reliance has been placed on behalf of the Company on a letter (Ext. F) written by the Secretary of the Union to the Company on 23rd June 1958 wherein he for the year in question was claimed and a calculation of available surplus was also given by the Secretary. In that letter, the Secretary allowed deduction on account of provisions of sales tax written back, provisions for loss of subsidiary written back and 4 per cent. return on Company reserves of Rs. 36.50 lakh, but this is practically no evidence at all on these points. It is at best an admission on certain points by the Secretary to the Union but admission is not a conclusive proposition in matters like these. A party's admission regarding a particular fact is of no avail if it is not corroborated by other evidence on record. Further, it is to be noted that the Secretary stated in this letter as follows:—

"As we want to make an amicable settlement we do not at the present moment want to raise any objections to the deduction made by you, nor want to raise a dispute as to whether the prior charge should be diminished to allow the workmen share a profit as fair bonus".

If the Company wants to place reliance on the statement regarding the deductions as made in this letter (Ext. F), the Company should have accepted it in toto and should have agreed to the available surplus of Rs. 2.03 lakh as shown therein. However, the statements regarding the deductions made in this letter are of little probative value and should be left out of consideration.

Here, it is to be observed that the Company has claimed no deduction on account of rehabilitation charge.

Now has come the stage when the findings made above for the purpose of calculation of available surplus for bonus are to be summarised in a chart like this:—

	Rs. (in lakh)
Gross Profit	14.73
Deduct
As per item (6b) above	1.11
	13.62
Deduct

It is common ground that the wages now received by the workmen are much below living wages. There is no dispute that they are entitled to bonus if there be sufficient available surplus. The monthly wage-bill of the Company is about Rs. 58 lakh. The available surplus found above is Rs. 2.38 lakh. In view of the amount of the paid-up capital of the Company, as well as the volume of business done by it, the available surplus is to be so distributed between it and its workmen as to enable it to allocate an appropriate amount to the reserve fund and also to leave some residue for the shareholders. It seems that if bonus equivalent to two months' basic wages be allowed to the workmen, that would be fair to them as well as to the Company; for, thereby, the workmen will get Rs. 1.16 lakh and the Company will get about Rs. 1.82 lakh including the refund of income-tax on the amount of bonus paid.

As a result, it is awarded that the Company is to pay to all workmen bonus equivalent to two months' basic wage.

Now from a document of the Company (Ext. C), it appears that the bonus that has been amicably paid is not exactly equivalent to one month's basic salary in respect of all workmen; so, the resultant award in this case is that the Company is to pay each workman a bonus equivalent to two months' basic wage; thus, the additional amount to be paid on this head will be two months' basic wage minus the amount paid already amicably as bonus and the loan granted provisionally against bonus to be awarded by the Tribunal.

This is the award of the Tribunal.

AWARD

By Government order No. 1364-L.R. IR/101-59, dated the 3rd April 1959, the Government West Bengal, in the Labour Department, ordered under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Dhar & Mondal Brothers, 77 Dharmatala Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by National Union of Engineering Workers, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification 808-L.R. IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1959, for adjudication.

Issue

Bonus for 1958.—The reference was received by this tribunal on 25th April 1959. Notices were duly served upon the parties. The union, namely, National Union of Engineering Workers representing the workmen of Messrs. Dhar & Mondal Brothers filed its written statement on 4th May 1959. The company Messrs. Dhar & Mondal Brothers filed its written statement on 19th June 1959. The date of hearing was fixed on 21st December 1959. On that date on prayer of the company the date of hearing was adjourned to 6th May 1960. Before that on 14th December 1959, the union filed a petition supported by an affidavit praying for a direction upon the company to produce certain documents for inspection by the tribunal. Company took several adjournments for its objection to this petition by the union for production of documents, but ultimately no steps were taken by the company and the date of hearing fixed on 14th March 1960. On that date Shri C. Mukherji, Advocate, representing the union was specifically directed by the tribunal to produce cash books, general ledger, journal, book and balance sheets for the year 1957-58 respectively by 13th March 1960 and the date of hearing of the case was peremptorily fixed on 24th March 1960. But on 24th March 1960 the company did not turn up and its learned Advocate sent intimation that he has no instruction from the company. The case was, therefore, heard ex parte at the instance of the union in compliance with Rule 21 of West Bengal Industrial Dispute Rules, 1958, inasmuch as the company failed to attend or to be represented during the hearing without sufficient cause being shown.

The evidence on behalf of the union, both oral and documentary, was taken on 24th March 1960, and arguments were heard on behalf of the union and the award was reserved.

Decision

Issue No. 1.—The only issue under the reference is "Bonus for 1958". The case of the union as stated in its written statement is that the company was annually paying bonus to its workers at first at the rate of one month and then at the rate of half month's basic salary as bonus which was stopped by the company for last 5 years in spite of the fact that the company's trading results had improved. In 1958 the union demanded both orally and in writing two months' basic wages as Puja Bonus for the financial year 1957-58 but the company did not agree to the demands. The union's grievance is that the company has been earning huge profit year after year out of which bonus equivalent to two months' basic wages is payable and that another reason for claiming this bonus by the workmen is that the wages paid to them are inadequate and far below the living wages. The claim of the union, therefore, under this reference is for a puja bonus equivalent to two months' basic wages for the year 1958.

The company in its written statement denied its liability to pay any bonus for the year 1958 to its workmen on the plea of its financial incapacity. The company admits in paragraph 2 of its written statement that it paid bonus at the rate of half month's basic wages to its workmen but on account of heavy losses it could not pay any bonus to its workmen for the last 6 or 7 years. Its contention is that for last 6 or 7 years the employer has been incurring losses from year to year and there being no available surplus the workmen are not entitled to any bonus for the year 1958 as claimed.

It will appear from the records that the company did not file any documents called for by the union for its inspection in support of its defence to show that it was running at a loss since 1953 and that the trading results of the company during the financial year 1957-58 do not show any available surplus for distribution as bonus to the workmen equivalent to two months' basic salary as claimed by the union in this case.

It is now well-established principle of law that unless the bonus is found to be a customary or a condition of service it must depend upon the profits of the company for the year for which the bonus is claimed and that in calculating profit bonus, the available surplus must be determined according to the Full Bench Formula of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay vs. Rashtriya Mill Mazdoor Sangh (1950 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 1247) as explained and clarified by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in its several decisions including the decision in Associated Cement Company and another vs. their workmen (1959 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 644).

It is also well-settled that unless there is available surplus the workman's right to claim profit bonus does arise at all. The principle of granting bonus based upon two considerations is that "As both labour and capital contribute to the industrial concern, it is fair that labour should derive some profit if there is a surplus after meeting prior or necessary charges, and secondly that the labour is entitled to claim that the gap between its actual wage in the living wage should be within reasonable limits filled up".

The present company is an engineering concern and the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Krishna Kumar Nath, one of the employees of the company is to the effect that the business of the company is mainly repairing work. The evidence of this witness as well as the chart (Ext. 1) would further show that the lowest paid employee of this company earns Rs. 41 per month, i.e., at the daily rate of Re. 1 as basic wage plus Rs. 15 per month as D.A. According to the decision of the Second Major Engineering Tribunal the minimum wage including D.A. was fixed at Rs. 61 per month and according to the Third Engineering Tribunal it was Rs. 71 per month. So, so far as the workmen of the present industry is concerned, their minimum wage is far below what has been granted by the 2nd and 3rd Engineering Tribunal, and it is certainly far below the living wage. Therefore, the workmen of this company are entitled to claim bonus to fill up the gap as far as practicable between their actual wages and the living wage. So, this is a consideration which is in favour of the workmen for granting bonus to them as claimed.

As I have already stated the claim for profit bonus must depend upon available surplus to be determined after working out the Full Bench Formula referred to and the maxim is "no available surplus, no bonus". So far as the present case is concerned, the matter has been heard ex parte. The union has not been able to give any definite figure of gross profits of the company for the bonus year namely, the financial year 1957-58. The reason is obvious. The company is a limited concern and it has no published balance sheets. All the documents are with the company. The union called for several documents namely, balance sheets, pay book, cash book, general ledger, etc., for the relevant year for the purpose of adjudication of this case but the company has deliberately withheld production of these documents without showing any reasonable cause whatsoever. Although the company's defence is that the company has been running at a loss and that the trading results of the company for the year 1958 cannot show any available surplus upon working out the Full Bench Formula—the company being in possession of all the relevant documents, it was its duty to support its written statement by necessary and relevant documents which the company has failed to do without showing any sufficient cause thereof. The trend of recent decisions of the Supreme Court is that the onus lies upon the company to prove deductions of prior charges and as the company has failed to do so, in this particular case, adverse legal presumption must be made against the company namely, that if the company had produced the documents called for by the union the would have shown an amount of available surplus which would have been sufficient for giving two months' salary as bonus to the workmen as claimed by the union in this case.

In favour of the union it must be said that the union has been fair enough not to have given a figure about gross profits of the company by guess. The evidence of P.W. 1 is that the business of the company is flourishing and that it earns a profit every year and that it is financially content and has enough available surplus to pay to workmen bonus equivalent to two months' basic salary during the year 1958.

As there is no other data for calculating available surplus, I must take the evidence of P.W. 1 at its face value and come to the finding that the claim of the union for bonus equivalent to two months' basic salary for the year 1958 may be given effect to in view of the deliberate withholding of documents necessary for such calculation of available surplus by the company and company's intentional failure to contest the claim of the union.

As the matter is being heard ex parte, I think that strict compliance with the working out of the Full Bench Formula is not necessary in this case in view of the evidence on behalf of the union which is unchallenged that the company has got enough available surplus out of its trading results for the year 1958 for meeting the demands of the union for bonus equivalent to two months' basic salary for the year 1958 and in view of the intentional withholding of relevant documents by the company for calculation of available surplus according to the Full Bench Formula out of the trading results for the year 1958.

I accordingly allow the workmen represented by the union a bonus equivalent to two months' basic wages for the year 1958 as claimed by them. The company is directed to pay this amount of bonus within one month from the date of publication of this award.

This is my award.

order, being matters specified in the third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (of 1947), was referred to the First Labour Court for adjudication;

and whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Labour Court, Shri Kshirod Chandra Barman, a workman of the said company, filed a complaint in writing to the said Labour Court against the said company alleging that the company had dismissed the said workman wrongfully in such dispute; and whereas, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to make the said award as shown in the annexure to this order.

ANNEXURE

The matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Kshirod Chandra Barman, an employee of Messrs. Tarun Niketan, 88/1B Rash Behari Avenue, Calcutta, against the said Company (Case No. 5/59, under section 33A).

AWARD

On an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 by Shri Kshirod Chandra Barman previously an employee of Messrs. Tarun Niketan, 88/1-B Rash Behari Avenue, Calcutta, in connection with G.O. No. 3820-I.R./1R/11L-107/58, dated 11th September 1958, the applicant states that during the pendency of proceedings in reference No. 3820-I.R./1R/11L-107/58, dated 11th September 1958, in this matter Messrs. Tarun Niketan, the Opposite Party, wrongfully dismissed the applicant without his permission or approval of the Court. The applicant further states that he wanted leave from the proprietor of Messrs. Tarun Niketan on 27th September 1958 together with arrears of his due wages amounting to Rs. 107-2 as claimed by the proprietor of Messrs. Tarun Niketan, however, the proprietor granted him leave, nor paid him his dues. The application for his reinstatement and reliefs, Messrs. Tarun Niketan deny the allegation made in the written statement of the applicant and the prayer of the applicant.

Decision

After several adjournments the case came up for hearing on 8th March 1960 on which date the parties settled the disputes amicably and put in a petition of compromise wherein the proprietor of Messrs. Tarun Niketan agreed to pay the applicant Rs. 195 by way of compensation exclusive of his due wages, if any, and a further sum of Rs. 107-2 as claimed by the applicant. The applicant, however, gives up his claim of reinstatement. The terms of the compromise appear to be fair, reasonable and lawful and may be given effect to. The dispute is, therefore, settled in terms of the petition of compromise which do form a part of the award.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 4721-I.R./IR/13L-10/59, dated 25th September 1959, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), an industrial dispute between Messrs. Associated Press of America, 19 Narendra Place, Parliament Street, New Delhi, and their stringer for Calcutta named, Mr. Don Elloy represented by the Indian Journalists' Association, 249-B Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, regarding matter specified in the second schedule of the Act, to Court for adjudication:

Schedule

Whether the termination of service of Mr. Elloy was justified? To what relief, if he is entitled?

AWARD

This is a dispute arising out of alleged ill and unjustified termination of service of Mr. Elloy, previously in the employment of Mr. Associated Press of America (A.P.A.), 19 Narendra Place, Parliament Street, New Delhi, herein referred to as the 'Press' for the sake of brevity.

In the Order of Reference, Mr. Don Elloy represented by the Indian Journalists' Association of 249-B Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. The Association's case in brief is as follows:— Mr. Don Elloy entered the employment of the Associated Press of America as a part-time Correspondent in September 1947. His duty was to regularly by mail or cable to London important items of news emanating from such other parts of India might be directed by the New York, London and New Delhi Offices of the A.P.A. His remuneration was Rs. 40 per month as retainer fee in addition to that he was paid at the rate of Rs. 10 per message cabled by him to London irrespective of whether such cables were used or not. In about 1950 there was an agreement between Elloy and the A.P.A. that in addition to the remuneration mentioned above, a further sum of Rs. 10 per month would be paid to Mr. Elloy as incidental expenses without any liability to account for the same. Mr. Watson S. Sims, the Chief of New Delhi Bureau of the Associated Press, informed Mr. Don Elloy by a letter, dated 6th May 1958, that for his insubordination his employment had been decided to be terminated, and that such termination would be effective from the date of receipt of the said letter. Mr. Elloy received the letter on 9th May 1958. The Association, therefore, contends that the dismissal of Mr. Don Elloy was unjustified as it was in violation of principles of natural justice and actuated by an unfair labour practice. Hence, the Association seeks his reinstatement together with other reliefs.

The A.P.A. put in a written statement denying the material allegations in the written statement of the Association and contends preliminarily inter alia, that this is an individual dispute and as such the Court has no jurisdiction to entertain this reference. A.P.A.'s further contention is in gist that Mr. Elloy was not a workman within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act as he was only a part-time Correspondent of the A.P.A. which had no control over his time or work; that the Head Office of the A.P.A. is situated in New Delhi and it has no establishment in Calcutta, and so also the Court has no territorial jurisdiction to entertain this case.

At the commencement of the hearing, the learned representative for the A.P.A. prayed for a decision on the preliminary point as to jurisdiction as raised by him. So, the preliminary point, viz., whether this is an industrial dispute and if the Court has got jurisdiction to entertain this case, is taken up first for determination.

Decision

The learned Counsel for Mr. Don Elloy contends that by virtue of section 3 of the Working Journalists Act of 1955 read with section 2(f) giving the definition of the term "working journalist", the part-time Correspondent Mr. Don Elloy must be deemed a 'workman', and the Industrial Disputes Act is applicable, and this Court is entitled to try it. Section 2(f) of the Working Journalists Act runs as follows:—

"Working journalist" means a person whose principal avocation is that of a journalist and who is employed as such in, or in relation to any newspaper establishment and includes an editor, a leader writer, news editor, sub-editor, feature writer, copy tester, reporter, correspondent, cartoonist, news photographer and proof reader, but does not include any such person who—

- (i) is employed mainly in a managerial or administrative capacity, or
- (ii) being employed in a supervisory capacity, performs, either by the nature of the duties attached to his office or by reason of the powers vested in him, the functions mainly of a managerial nature."

The provisions of section 3 of the Working Journalists (Conditions of Service and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1955, clearly say that the Industrial Disputes Act shall apply to working journalists as to workmen under that Act which means that it would apply to them "as to persons to whom the definition of 'workman' under the Industrial Disputes Act applies. Then again, it is contended for the Association that since the Indian Journalists' Association represents Mr. Don Elloy in this case, the dispute has developed into an industrial dispute, and Court's jurisdiction cannot be questioned. On the other hand, the learned representative for the Press contends that Mr. Don Elloy is its single part-time Correspondent in Calcutta, and there is no concerted demand on behalf of a considerable number of employees of the Press over the cause of Mr. Elloy, nor is there any resolution adopted by the Indian Journalists' Association to espouse the cause of Mr. Elloy, and so this is to be regarded as an individual dispute. In support of his contention, reference has been made to some of the ruling discussed below:—

In the case of Newspapers Ltd. it is laid down as follows:—

"Notwithstanding that the language of section 2(k) is wide enough to cover a dispute between an employer and a single employee, the scheme of the Industrial Disputes Act does appear to contemplate that the machinery provided therein should be set in motion to settle only disputes which involve the rights of workmen as a class and that a dispute touching the individual rights of a workman was not intended to be the subject of an adjudication under the Act, when the same had been taken up by the Union or a number of workmen."

In the case of the Central Provinces Transport Service vs. Raghunath Gopal Patwardhan (1957 L.L.J., Vol. 1, page 27), the Hon'ble Supreme Court laid down:

- (i) a dispute between an employer and a single workman cannot be an 'industrial dispute';
- (ii) it can be an industrial dispute; and
- (iii) it cannot per se be an industrial dispute but may become one if taken up by a trade union or a number of workman.

In the case of D. N. Banerjee vs. P. R. Mukherjee (1953 L.L.J., Vol. 1, page 195), the Hon'ble Supreme Court laid down that an industrial dispute conveys the meaning to the ordinary mind that the dispute must be such as would affect large groups of workmen and employers ranged on opposite groups..... But at the same time, having regard to the modern conditions of society where capital and labour have organised themselves into groups for the purpose of fighting their disputes and settling them on the basis of the theory that if union is strength and collective bargaining has come to stay, a single employee's case might develop into an industrial dispute, when, as often happens, it is taken up by the trade union of which he is a member and there is a concerted demand by the employees for redress.

In Australian cases, also, Courts have held that individual disputes stand outside the scope of industrial disputes. In Jumbunna Coal Mine vs. Victorian Coal Miners' Association (1908 C.L.R., pages 309, 332) Suffithy, C.J. held:

"An industrial dispute exists where a considerable number of employees engaged in some branch of industry make common cause in demanding from or refusing to their employees (whether one or more) some change in the conditions of employment which is denied to them."

In the case of workmen of Dimakuchi Tea Estate vs. Dimakuchi Tea Estate (1958 L.L.J., Vol. 1, page 500) the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed that the term 'any person' in the third part of the definition clause in section 2(k) cannot be interpreted as meaning anybody or everybody in this wide world, but person in respect of whom employer-employee relation exists, which limits the scope of application of this definition not only to the dispute between more than one worker and the employer or between a set of workers and their employers, but in case of dispute between an employer and employee between him and his own workers only.

The Kerala High Court in a recent case Chittadi Estate vs. Industrial Tribunal and others, reported in 1959 L.L.J., Vol. II, pages 184-86, held that as the dispute relating to the cause of a single workman was not espoused by the fellow workmen in the same establishment, the same was not an industrial dispute. It is settled law that though an order of reference is essentially administrative in character, that fact does not preclude a party from showing that what was referred was not an industrial dispute, and consequently the tribunal had no jurisdiction to deal with the reference.

I would also very briefly refer to the case of Express Newspapers (Private) Ltd. reported in 1959 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 600, decided by our Calcutta High Court which laid down that the real test appears to be as to whether the majority or a large portion of the workmen employed in the particular industry are concerned in the dispute or not. In this case, though the Indian Journalists' Association represents Mr. Don Elloy, there is nothing to show that there is a concerted action on the part of workmen of the Press who are members of that Association. Mr. Don Elloy stands single, and no concerted action on the part of the employees of the Press is in evidence. Thus the real test is not fulfilled in this case, and on consideration of the rulings referred to above, I find that there is no force in the contention of the Association that it is an industrial dispute. I, therefore, hold that this is an individual dispute, and the reference is incompetent, and the Court is not entitled to adjudicate upon it. In view of my finding, other points are left undecided.

This is my award on the preliminary point.

Schedule

Whether the dismissal of Shri Chandrika Singh is justified? To what relief is he entitled?

AWARD

This dispute arising out of alleged illegal and unjustified dismissal of Shri Chandrika Singh previously in the employment of Messrs. Salkia Transport Agency (P) Ltd., 67 Haragunj Road, Salkia, Howrah (hereinafter referred to as 'Agency' for the sake of brevity).

Messrs. Salkia Transport Agency (P) Ltd. is a big concern owning a good number of public buses in the Howrah town (Route Nos. 51, 54, 56, Bally Khal-Howrah). The Agency had a small beginning, but gradually developed and prospered and now there are about 300 employees in the Agency. The Agency victimised the workman stated above without any charge-sheet, enquiry, reason whatsoever.

The Agency in its written statement denies the allegation of the Union and seeks to justify the order of dismissal on the ground of indisciplined conduct and also for misappropriation of money from passengers. The case came up for trial on 16th February 1960 and evidence was partly recorded and then on the prayer of the Company it stood adjourned to 1st March 1960 for compromise at the desire of both the parties. No compromise was, however, effected on that date and the case was again adjourned to 21st March 1960.

The parties in the meantime settled the dispute amicably and put in a petition of compromise. The terms of compromise seem to be fair, reasonable and lawful and may be given effect to. The dispute is thus disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which do form a part of the award.
